THE PAUL D. BOWLEN MEMORIAL BRONCOS CENTRE

On March 5, 1990 the Denver Broncos moved into the Paul D. Bowlen Memorial Broncos Centre, the new, state-of-the-art headquarters for the National Football League team. The complex is named for the Bronco owner's late father and is the culmination of Pat Bowlen's desire to maximize a positive working environment for his team, which was the only American Football Conference club to appear in the three Super Bowls during the 1980's.

The training facility is situated on 13.5 acres in the rapidly expanding Dove Valley Business Park in south Arapahoe County, and it includes an administrative building, two full-size practice fields, and a smaller workout field.

The Bowlen Broncos Centre is a two-story building totaling 59,000 square feet, well over twice the size of the team's previous facility. The ground floor houses the main entry, visitors area and trophy display area, and media room, in addition to the play related facilities, which encompass the locker room, meeting rooms, training area, weight room, equipment room, and video department.

It is on the second level, which is accessible through two stairways adjacent to the lobby area, that most of the administrative offices are located. These include the offices for Pat Bowlen, Dan Reeves, and John Beake, as well as those of all assistant coaches and football operations personnel. The second floor is divided into one wing for administrative offices and another for coaches and meeting rooms. The Broncos' extensive computer operation also is located on the second floor.

There is ample practice space now available for use by the defending AFC Western Division champions, as both practice fields are 100 yards and one of them has a unique design system which includes underground wiring that prevents the turf from freezing and thus allows the Broncos to practice year round on unfrozen natural grass. The complex also includes a smaller, 50-yard workout field and the Broncos' indoor "bubble," which houses a 70-yard artificial turf field.

The expansive weight room and training room are among the largest in the entire league, and the Bowlen Centre also includes a separate building which houses two racquetball courts for training and leisure use by players and staff members.

PRESIDENT AND CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER

PAT BOWLEN President and Chief Executive Officer

Pat Bowlen is entering his eighth season as the President and Chief Executive Officer of the Denver Broncos, and by any standard his regime has been one of the National Football League's most successful in this time frame. He has watched his Broncos play 10 post-season games in just seven years of ownership, with all regular and post-season contests sold out at Mile High Stadium.

His immediate goal heading into the 1991 campaign is to put the Broncos back on the track that saw them win American Football Conference championships in 1986, 1987, and 1989, making Denver the only AFC franchise to make three Super Bowl appearances in the 1980's. Without any question, he provides the organizational thrust that has served as the catalyst to Denver's record in that period.

Bowlen's Broncos represented the AFC in Super Bowls XXI (Pasadena), XXII (San Diego), and XXIV (New Orleans). In addition, Denver has had just one losing campaign during the past seven years, that being the very disappointing 5-11 season one year ago.

No one sets higher standards for the Broncos than Pat Bowlen himself, whose unchanging goal is to have his franchise annually regarded among the finest in pro football, with victory being the measuring stick for that success. Thus, the goal of Denver's dynamic and energetic chief executive remains firmly set on capturing the world championship that thus far has eluded the Mile High City.

The Broncos once again will pursue that objective from their new headquarters, the Paul D. Bowlen Memorial Broncos Centre, a 59,000-square foot state-of-the-art office and training complex in Arapahoe County's Dove Valley location. The move into this new facility, which came on March 5, 1990, accomplished one of Bowlen's significant goals, that being to upgrade the Broncos' working facility and in so doing solidify the foundation for continued success.

Bowlen's seven years of ownership have resulted in the best home record (43-13) in the AFC. Bowlen's club is the only AFC franchise to have won 10 or more games five times in the last seven years, and he finished second in The Sporting News 1987 Executive of the Year balloting.

A member of the National Football League owners' Finance, Broadcasting, and Management Council Executive Committees, he presides over a franchise that has won four division crowns and, has had regular season win totals of 13, 11, 11, 10, and 11. In fact, five of the six finest campaigns in team history have come during the Bowlen regime.

Pat Bowlen was introduced as the majority owner of the Denver Broncos on March 23, 1984, and that announcement triggered a new era in franchise history, one which has coupled success on the playing field with enthusiasm for an even brighter future.

He immediately put his own mark on the Broncos, establishing a solid administration and creating a positive atmosphere that was a major factor in the team's success both on and off the field.

The team responded with a 13-3 record and the American Football Conference Western Division championship in 1984, following that up with an 11-5 record that just barely kept the Broncos out of the playoffs in 1985.

Meanwhile, Bowlen has seen the Broncos' consecutive home game sellout streak stretch to 163 straight regular and post-season non-strike games through the end of the 1990 campaign, as Denver led the entire National Football League in actual in-stadium attendance over that six-year period. The Broncos have drawn over four million fans to Mile High Stadium from 1984-90, tops in the NFL.

Having established a solid foundation, Bowlen took a dramatic step toward the future during 1986 with the construction of 60 luxury Penthouse Suites atop the west side of Mile High Stadium.

Bowlen, 47, and the Bowlen family acquired 100% ownership of the Broncos in July of 1985. He is active in day to day operations of the football club.

Born in Prairie du Chien, Wis. (2/18/44), he attended high school there and went on to the University of Oklahoma, where he earned degrees in both business (1965) and law (1968).

Bowlen has served as the Honorary Chairman of the Colorado Relay Classic to benefit St. Joseph's Hospital (1985-91), the Colorado Special Olympics (1986-91), and the 1989 Centennial Scholarship rally at the University of Northern Colorado in Greeley. He was Co-Chairman of the Rose Medical Center Critical Care Campaign from 1986-89.

In addition, Bowlen was elected to the university of Denver Board of Trustees in 1987, and is active on several committees including Trustee Affairs and Buildings and Grounds, and has served on the Institutional Advancement Committee and Institutional Advancement/University Relations subcommittee. He was also named to the Colorado Academy Board of Trustees in 1991.

He also serves on the Board of Trustees of the Hawaii Maritime Center. Bowlen was the 1992 honoree at the American Ireland Fund dinner.

Bowlen has real estate and natural resource holdings in Alberta, as well as real estate holdings in Colorado, Arizona, and California.

Bowlen also is Chairman of the Board and Director of Hambledon Estates Limited, and Northern Development Company Limited of Edmonton.

An outstanding athlete in his own right, he has competed in the Ironman Triathlon – an event in which one must swim 2.4 miles, ride 112 miles on a bicycle, and run 26.2 miles, all consecutively – as well as in other triathlon races and several marathons.

Bowlen is a member of several clubs and societies, including the Young President's Organization, the Canadian and Edmonton Bar Associations, and the Law Society of Alberta.

VICE PRESIDENT / HEAD COACH

DAN REEVES

Vice President / Head Coach

Now into his second decade at the helm of the Denver Broncos, Vice President/Head Coach Dan Reeves has produced a record that includes five first place finishes and three second place finishes in the tough American Football Conference Western Division, along with three Super Bowl and four AFC Championship Game appearances.

Reeves was named AFC Coach of the Year (Kansas City 101 Club, Football News) for a 1991 campaign in which he led the Broncos to a 12-4 record, the AFC West title, and a berth in the AFC Championship Game. He is the only coach to have won three Coach of the Year honors from the Kansas City 101 Club as mentor of one franchise.

Whether judged by single season records or by his overall impact on the franchise since coming to Denver in 1981, Reeves stands in very exclusive company as one of the premier coaches in the National Football League.

He has a 102-65-1 (.610) regular season record, and including play-off competition has won 109 games in his 11 campaigns, 109-71-1 (.605). Only two active coaches have won more games than Reeves, Don Shula of Miami (306) and Washington's Joe Gibbs (129). Reeves has moved into 17th place in the all-time pro coaching victory list with his 109.

Only nine coaches in NFL history have led the same club for longer periods than Reeves' 11 years, and currently, only three professional sports coaches/managers (Shula, Tom LaSorda-Los Angeles Dodgers, and Sparky Anderson-Detroit Tigers) have longer tenures with their teams than Reeves and Gibbs, each of whom will enter his 12th season in 1992.

His 65-20 regular season home record from 1981-91 is the best in the NFL in that time. Reeves was the only AFC coach in the decade of the 1980s to lead his team to consecutive Super Bowl appearances and has led Denver to seven 10-win seasons.

Reeves' teams have been in post-season play in six of the last nine years, and two of his teams have missed the playoffs despite records of 10-6-0 in 1981 and 11-5-0 in 1985.

In the last eight years Reeves has led the Broncos to six of the seven best records in franchise history. Under Reeves, Denver has had winning streaks of 10 games once, eight once, and four nine times.

Reeves has played or coached in a record eight Super Bowls, including Super Bowls XXI in Pasadena (1986), XXII in San Diego (1987), and XXIV in New Orleans (1989) as the Broncos' head coach.

Reeves in 1989 was named the AFC Coach of the Year (UPI, Kansas City 101 Club, Football News) for a campaign in which he led Denver to the Super Bowl for the third time in four years. Reeves was the first AFC coach to accomplish that feat since Shula led the Dolphins to consecutive Super Bowls in 1971-72-73.

Reeves is an intense competitor who has infused the Broncos with his own strength of character, an overwhelming factor on the 1986, 1987, and 1989 championship teams.

In 1987 Reeves led an injury-ridden team to a 10-4-1 record, best in the AFC, and its second straight AFC Western Division title. The Broncos then posted playoff wins over Houston and Cleveland before meeting Washington in Super Bowl XXII.

Despite playing a shortened 15-game schedule in 1987, the Broncos set numerous single season team records, including most touchdowns scored (45, tying the 1985 and 1986 marks), and most yards of total offense (5,624). In addition, the Super Bowl-bound Broncos set new marks for most games scoring 20 or more points (12) and most consecutive games scoring 20 or more (seven, tied with three other years), as well as most games scoring 30 or more (six, tied with 1985 and 1986).

His 1986 Super Bowl team had the unique distinction of possessing a high-powered passing game while setting a new franchise record for lowest interception avoidance percentage (.029).

His 13-3 mark in 1984 gave Denver its highest victory total ever and garnered numerous Coach of the Year honors for the club's highly respected coach (Kansas City 101 Club, Pro Football Weekly, Sports Illustrated, Football News, College and Pro Football Newsweekly).

He also finished second in the UPI AFC Coach of the Year ballot in 1983, a season in which he paced the Broncos to a 9-7 mark and a wild card playoff berth.

Reeves was the youngest coach in the NFL when he assumed command of the club in 1981, guiding Denver to a 10-6 record and barely missing a playoff berth in that inaugural campaign.

Reeves had been a member of the Dallas coaching staff since 1970, when he undertook the difficult dual role of player-coach for two seasons. He was a full-time offensive backfield coach in 1972, but spent 1973 in private business before rejoining the staff again as backfield coach in 1974.

In 1977, he took on the job of offensive coordinator, in which his duties included coaching the quarterbacks and wide receivers.

A native of Americus, Ga. (1/19/44), Reeves began his pro career as a free agent running back for the Cowboys in 1965. He had been a quarterback as a college player at South Carolina and has been inducted into South Carolina's Hall of Fame.

An all-purpose offensive back during his eight seasons (1965-72) on the Dallas roster, Reeves finished his career as the Cowboy's fifth all-time leading rusher, despite a series of injuries that slowed him in the later stages of his career.

He rushed for 1,990 yards and 25 touchdowns, and caught 129 passes for 1,693 yards and 17 TDs.

Because of his collegiate quarterback background, Reeves was also a respected halfback option passer, completing 30 such attempts for a pair of TDs during his career. In addition, he returned some kickoffs and punts along the way, and played in the NFL championship games of 1966, 1967, and 1970.

Reeves and his wife Pam are the parents of three children, daughters Dana (9/21/65) and Laura (9/19/70), and son Lee (11/4/67), and they have two granddaughters, Caitlin (2/24/88), and Ashley (8/15/90).

GENERAL MANAGER

JOHN BEAKE General Manager

A primary factor in the long-standing success pattern of the Denver Broncos has been front office stability, and John Beake plays a key role in developing and maintaining that as one of the team's strengths.

Well into his third decade in pro football, John Beake enters the 1992 campaign in his 14th year with the Denver Broncos and his eighth season as the National Football League club's General Manager. Overall, this marks John's 24th season in professional football as either coach or administrator, as the Broncos couple success on the playing field with their 23rd consecutive sell-out campaign at Mile High Stadium.

Beake has perhaps the broadest range of experience of any NFL general manager, the only one in the NFL who has coached championship teams on the pro, college, and high school levels, as well as having served in a wide range of administrative roles.

As General Manager, he is responsible for all day-to-day operations of club administration, with special concentration in the area of player contract negotiations, an area in which he has considerable experience. He also personally directs the Broncos' contractual relationships with the City of Denver, local radio, and television entities.

John Beake's prominence in the Broncos' hierarchy is paralleled by continuing respect within the National Football League. Active in the NFL's international development, his involvement is one of the keys to the Broncos being among just four teams (along with Miami, San Francisco, and the Los Angeles Rams) to have been selected for American Bowl games in London, Tokyo, and Berlin, not to mention the integral role he played in Denver being the only American Football Conference club to win three conference crowns and thus make three Super Bowl appearances (XXI, XXII, and XXIV) in the 1980's.

In 1991 John was named to the Board of Directors of the World League of American Football. As a key member of the Board of Directors for the World League, he spent a considerable portion of his offseason lending administrative guidance to the WL offices in New York and Dallas. John was instrumental in determining the methodology by which 101 NFL players were provided to the WL for its 1992 campaign. Along with his commitment to the World League, John serves as chairman of the NFL International Working Group, which is primarily comprised of other NFL general managers and player personnel directors. He is also a member of the NFL College and Pro Relations Committee.

His most recent Bronco accomplishments have been to provide a key leadership role in the construction of and move into the team's new training facility, the Paul D. Bowlen Memorial Broncos Centre, a 59,000-square foot state-of-the-art complex in Arapahoe County. This project, several years in the planning stages, is the fulfillment of one of John's key goals as the Broncos general manager.

John continuously works with the City of Denver on issues concerning the lease, capital improvements, and fan comfort. Some of the completed improvements at Mile High Stadium include the renovation of the Stadium's press box and the new theatre-styled seats throughout the Stadium. These projects represent the general manager's desire to continually improve the game-day experience at Mile High Stadium.

In addition to contract involvement, one of John's prime areas of interest is working closely with city and state representatives on a variety of community concerns. For the past four years, John has served as the chairman of the Red Ribbon Campaign, a strong educational anti-drug, chemical and substance abuse association that works in conjunction with the Colorado Federation of Parents. He is also a member of the Presbyterian/St. Luke's Healthcare Systems Board of Directors.

An avid skier, he is very active with the National Sports Center for the Disabled, which is funded by the Winter Park Ski Resort and the Broncos Challenge. John is an annual participant in the Winter Park Pro-Am race to benefit the handicapped skiers program in Colorado.

As part of the continuing plan to broaden the team's community role and strengthen a family spirit within the club, he annually schedules events which include the involvement of the Performing Arts Center, the Colorado Ballet, and Opera Colorado.

John was Assistant General Manager in 1984 and was the Broncos' Director of Football operations the previous year, so his position at the helm of the club's administration is the culmination of a steady rise within the organization.

He joined the Broncos in 1979 as the Director of Pro Personnel and became Director of Player Personnel in 1981, having concentrated on the coaching aspects of the game prior to coming to Denver.

As assistant coach for the Kansas City Chiefs from 1968 through 1974, John was the offensive backfield coach for the Chiefs when they defeated the Minnesota Vikings to win Super Bowl IV in New Orleans. He also coached the running backs at New Orleans in 1976. On the college level, he coached at Penn State in 1961-62 and was the offensive coordinator at Colorado State University in 1975.

Upon receiving his master's degree from Penn State in 1962, John coached for six years at the high school level, where his teams lost just four games. He has a bachelor's degree from Trenton State College in New Jersey, in addition to his graduate degree from Penn State.

John and his wife, Marcia, have three children, Jerilyn, Chip, and Chris.

ASSISTANT COACHES

MARVIN BASS Special Assistant

With over 40 years experience as a coach and administrator in college and pro football, Marvin Bass this year is in his 10th campaign in the position of special assistant. He served the Broncos in that capacity in 1982-83, and was the head offensive line coach in 1984.

Bass, 72, came to Denver from the Canadian Football League, where he had been defensive coordinator of the Calgary Stampeders from 1978-1981.

A native of Norfolk, Virginia (8/28/19) who was an All-American at William and Mary in 1942, he elected to go into college coaching after graduation and joined the staff at his alma mater in 1944.

In addition to William and Mary, Bass coached on the college level at North Carolina, Georgia Tech, South Carolina, and the University of Richmond. While head coach at South Carolina Bass coached Dan Reeves, who was the starting quarterback for the Gamecocks.

On the pro level, he was on the Buffalo Bills staff from 1969-71 and spent two years with the Birmingham franchise in the World Football League, including one season as head coach (1975). After the WFL ceased operations Bass rejoined the Buffalo Bills, this time as Director of Pro Scouting from 1975-77, prior to moving to Calgary in 1978.

Marvin and his wife, Audrey, have one son, Randy, and two grandsons, Lee and Rhett.

RAYMOND BERRY Quarterbacks

Pro Football Hall of Fame member Raymond Berry is in his first season as the Denver Broncos' quarterbacks coach in 1992.

Berry, 59, has forged a reputation as one of the most respected men in football during his 35 years as a coach and player.

This will be the 19th National Football League coaching campaign for Berry, who comes to the Broncos from the Detroit Lions, where he was the quarterbacks coach for them in their 1991 NFC Central Division championship season. That was his second stint in Detroit, having previously coached the Lions' receivers for three seasons in 1973-75.

Previously he had been the head coach of the New England Patriots from 1984-89, where he compiled a 48-39 record. During his tenure the Patriots made back-to-back playoff appearances in 1985 and 1986, highlighted by the 1985 AFC Championship and a trip to Super Bowl XX.

He began his coaching career in 1968 with the Dallas Cowboys, where he also coached in 1969. In addition to his six years as an NFL head coach, Berry has spent 12 seasons as an NFL assistant coach and three in the college ranks (1970-72) at the University of Arkansas. After his first stint in Detroit Berry worked in Cleveland (1976-77) and New England (1978-81). He was out of football in 1982 and 1983 before returning to the Patriots as their head coach on October 28, 1984.

When Berry retired as a player in 1967 he was the NFL's all-time leading receiver with 631 receptions. He currently ranks eighth on the all-time list. During his 13 years with the Baltimore Colts he teamed with fellow Hall of Famer Johnny Unitas to form one of the NFL's most prolific passing combinations. Berry was inducted into the Hall of Fame in 1973, his first year of eligibility.

A native of Paris, Texas (2/27/33), He attended Southern Methodist University prior to his sterling professional career. Raymond and his wife Sally have three children, Mark, Suzanne, and Ashley.

BARNEY CHAVOUS Defensive Assistant

Barney Chavous is in his fourth season with Denver, assisting Ernie Stautner with the defensive line and Al Miller with the strength and conditioning program. He was a coaching intern in 1988, working in the same areas.

Chavous, 39, was a defensive end with Denver from 1973-85 and is second in team history with 72 quarterback sacks.

He was the Broncos' second-round draft choice in 1973 and is one of only four people to play in 13 or more seasons with Denver.

Chavous was all-conference and defensive most valuable player at South Carolina State, where he was a three-year starter.

A native of Aiken, S.C. (3/22/51), Barney and his wife Odessa have four children, sons Shedric and Barney Amon, and daughters Jasmine and Nikeya Monique.

JOE DeCAMILIS Defensive Quality Control

Joe DeCamillis is in his fourth season with the Broncos and his first in charge of defensive quality control, which involves self-monitoring of Denver's defensive play via statistical analysis and video study.

This procedure helps a team to determine its relative effectiveness so that weekly adjustments can be made during the season. He also assists Harold Richardson in coaching the Broncos' special teams.

DeCamillis, 27, was an All-American wrestler as a senior at the University of Wyoming, graduating in 1987 with a degree in secondary education. He wrestled for the Cowboys from 1983-87, and he twice earned all-WAC honors in that sport.

A native of Arvada, Colorado (6/29/65), DeCamillis was an all-state quarterback and wrestler at Arvada High School.

Joe and his wife Dana have two daughters, Caitlin and Ashley.

MAURICE (MO) FORTE Running Backs

Mo Forte is in his fifth season as the Broncos' running backs coach, having come to Denver from North Carolina A & T State University, where he was head coach from 1982-87. Forte led the Aggies to a 9-3 record and the Mid-Eastern Athletic Conference championship in the 1986 campaign.

Forte, 45, had been an assistant coach for 12 years at major college programs prior to going to North Carolina A & T. His previous coaching career included stints at Arizona State (1980-81), Michigan State (1978-79), Duke (1976-77), and Minnesota (1970-75).

With Forte coaching the Broncos' running backs, Denver has become one of just 12 teams ever to have three straight 1,000 yard seasons produced by two different backs (Bobby Humphrey and Gaston Green).

The 1978 Michigan State team won the Big 10 title and the 1981 Arizona State club established a number of Pac-10 records.

While at Michigan State he coached two-sport star Kirk Gibson (1978) and in 1980 three of his Sun Devil players (John Mistler, Melvin Hoover, and Ron Washington) were drafted by NFL teams.

A native of Hannibal, Missouri (3/1/47), Forte was a starting running back at the University of Minnesota, from which he graduated with a bachelor's degree in education in 1971.

Mo has a daughter, Dawn.

GEORGE HENSHAW Offensive Coordinator/ Wide Receivers

George Henshaw is in his fifth season with the Broncos and the first in his new role as the team's offensive coordinator. Henshaw also will be in his second campaign coaching the Broncos' wide receivers, having been Denver's offensive line coach from 1988-90. He brought 18 years of collegiate coaching experience to his post with the Broncos, including eight as an offensive coordinator and one as head coach.

Henshaw, 44, came to the Mile High City from the University of Tulsa, where he was the Golden Hurricane's head coach in 1987.

He was on the Alabama staff from 1983-86 as offensive coordinator and offensive line coach. Alabama led the Southeastern Conference in a number of offensive categories during Henshaw's four years there, including scoring offense (30.7 points per game) and total offense (424.1 yards per game) in 1983.

Prior to joining the Alabama staff Henshaw was at Florida State from 1976-82, serving as offensive coordinator and offensive line coach from 1979-82. In 1982 the Seminoles ranked second nationally in scoring offense (35.3 points per game) and third in total offense (465.7 yards per game). In his first three seasons at Florida State Henshaw coached the defensive line.

A native of Richmond, Va. (1/22/48) and a 1970 graduate of West Virginia University, Henshaw began his coaching career at his alma mater in 1970 and remained there until 1976.

PETE MANGURIAN Offensive Line

Pete Mangurian, 37, is in his fifth year on Denver's coaching staff and his second in charge of the offensive line, having been the Broncos' tight ends and assistant offensive line coach from 1988-90.

Mangurian came to the Broncos from Louisiana State University, where he was the offensive line coach from 1984-87. During those four years the Tigers appeared in four straight bowl games and set a school record for total offense three times.

Before going to Louisiana State Mangurian had been a coach at Stanford (1982-83), New Mexico State (1981), and Southern Methodist (1979-80).

Born in Los Angeles (6/17/55) and raised in Sherman Oaks, Calif., Mangurian earned a bachelor's degree in political science at Louisiana State in 1976, after having played defensive tackle for the Tigers for four years.

Pete and his wife Amy have a daughter, Lauren.

AL MILLER Strength/Conditioning

Al Miller will be in his eighth season as the Broncos' strength and conditioning coach in 1992. He came to Denver from the University of Alabama, where he was the strength coach from 1982-84.

Prior to moving to Alabama Miller, 44, was the strength and conditioning coach at Northeast Louisiana in 1981 and Mississippi State in 1980. He spent 1979 in private business, after working as line-backer and strength coach at Northwestern Louisiana in 1974-78. Miller coached on the high school and junior high school levels in 1970-73.

Miller, a native of El Dorado, Ark. (8/29/47), received his bachelor's degree from Northeast Louisiana, graduating from the school in 1970. He earned a master's degree from Louisiana Tech in 1974.

Al and his wife Janis have a son, Carey Brian, and a daughter, Lisa.

MIKE NOLAN

Linebackers

Mike Nolan is in his sixth season on the Denver Broncos' coaching staff, having come to the Mile High City from Louisiana State, where he coached the Bengal Tiger linebackers in 1986.

Nolan, 33, is in his fourth year as coach of the Bronco linebackers, having coached Denver's special teams in 1987-88, while also assisting the defense in 1988.

Nolan went to LSU from Rice, where he coached the secondary for the 1984-85 seasons. Prior to that, he spent two years at Stanford, coaching the Cardinal secondary in 1982 and the linebackers in 1983.

A four-year letterman at free safety at the University of Oregon, Nolan graduated in 1981 and was a free agent defensive back in the Bronco training camp that year. He then spent a year as a graduate assistant at his alma mater.

A native of Baltimore, Md. (3/7/59), he is the son of NFL coach Dick Nolan. Mike and his wife Kathy have four children, Michael 7, Laura 5, Jennifer 3, and Christopher (1/15/92).

WADE PHILLIPS

Defensive Coordinator

Wade Phillips is in his fourth season as defensive coordinator for the Denver Broncos.

Under Phillips' leadership the defense has led the AFC in fewest points allowed in two of the last three seasons (1989 and 1991), and last year's 12-4 Broncos were paced by a defensive unit that led the AFC in 12 different categories. Among the categories in which Denver led the AFC were fewest points (235), fewest TDs (20), fewest rushing TDs (eight), fewest passing TDs (12), most sacks (52), most interceptions (23), fewest passing yards (2,755), and lowest third down conversion percentage (31.1%).

In 1989 he was the mastermind of a defense that led the NFL in fewest points allowed (226) and allowed the fewest rushing yards in the AFC (1,580). The new-look defense ranked second in the conference in both quarterback sacks (47) and takeaways (43), and allowed the second fewest total yards in the AFC and third fewest in the NFL (4,407).

In addition to his role as defensive coordinator, Phillips, in 1990, assumed the capacity of interim head coach during the preseason period during which Head Coach Dan Reeves was ill, posting a win over Indianapolis while in that position.

Phillips, 44, was the defensive coordinator and linebackers coach for the Philadelphia Eagles from 1986-88. Under Phillips in 1988 the Eagles were second in the NFL in turnovers (44) and second in interceptions (32) as they won their first division title since 1980.

He served as defensive coordinator at New Orleans from 1981-85 and was the interim head coach for the final four games of the 1985 season (1-3 record). During his tenure at New Orleans the Saints led the NFC in defense in 1983 and led the NFL in pass defense in 1983 and 1984. Overall, the Saints finished among the top five in the NFL defensively in three of his five seasons.

Prior to joining the Saints, Phillips spent five seasons at Houston, coaching the linebackers (1976) and defensive line (1977-80). The Oilers made three playoff appearances during that period.

Phillips began his coaching career at his alma mater, the University of Houston, in 1969 and then coached at Orange (Texas) High School for three years before moving to Oklahoma State (1973-74) and Kansas (1975).

The son of former NFL coach Bum Phillips, Wade was born in Orange, Texas (6/21/47) and attended Portes Neches-Groves high School. He went on to be a th three-year starter at linebacker at Houston under head coach Bill Yeoman.

He is in his third year as Honorary Chairman of the For Mercy's Sake, Sack 'Em program, a charity fundraiser for Denver's Mercy Hospital.

Wade and his wife Laurie have two children, Tracey, 18 and Wesley, 13.

HAROLD RICHARDSON

Tight Ends/Special Teams

Harold Richardson is in his fourth year on the Broncos staff and 1992 marks the second campaign in which he is coaching the tight ends as well the special teams. He joined the Broncos as special teams coach in 1989 and has continued to guide that unit.

Richardson, 47, came to the Broncos from Colorado State University, where he was defensive coordinator in 1987 and 1988. Prior to that he served as receivers and special teams coach with the NFL New Orleans Saints (1981-85).

Working on the collegiate level (1972-80), Richardson coached at North Texas State, Texas Christian, Oklahoma State, and Southern Methodist, where he began his coaching career as a graduate assistant in 1971.

A native of Houston, Tex. (9/27/44), Richardson earned a bachelor's degree in finance from Southern Methodist in 1968.

Harold and his wife Ramona have a son, Blake Lee.

ERNIE STAUTNER

Defensive Line

Pro Football Hall of Famer Ernie Stautner is in his second year as the Broncos' defensive line coach in 1992.

Stautner, 67, served as the Dallas Cowboys' defensive line coach from 1966-88, and he was that club's defensive coordinator from his third season on (1968-88).

Under the direction of Stautner, the Cowboys consistently fielded excellent defenses and produced a number of Pro Bowl stars in the defensive line. The Cowboys' famed "Doomsday Defense" began to emerge shortly after Stautner's arrival as defensive line coach in 1966.

Most recently, he was the head coach of the Dallas Texans in the Arena Football League in 1990, being named Coach of the Year in leading his club to the Arena Bowl championship game.

He began his coaching career as a player-coach for the Steelers in 1963, became a full-time coach there in 1964, and was on the Washington Redskins' staff in 1965.

Stautner was an All-NFL defensive end and tackle with the Pittsburgh Steelers, where he played for 15 years (1950-64). A veteran of nine Pro Bowls, he was elected to the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 1969, his first year of eligibility. In 1982 he was voted to the Steelers' 50th anniversary team.

Born in Cham, Bavaria (4/20/25), Stautner grew up in Albany, N.Y. Following the World War II Marine Corps hitch (1943-46), he enrolled at Boston College and developed into a two-way star lineman.

Ernie has three children, Joe, Terri, and Carol.

CHARLIE WATERS

Defensive Backs

Charlie Waters has 18 years of NFL experience, joining the Broncos staff in 1988. After one year of coaching the Denver special teams, he took over as the defensive backfield coach in 1989.

Waters played for the Dallas Cowboys from 1970-1982 and was a three time Pro Bowl choice in 1976, 1977, 1978, in addition to being voted All-NFL the same years. A versatile athlete, he was a quarterback-turned wide receiver in college, and spent the first five years in the pros at corner and free safety, before anchoring the Cowboys secondary at strong safety.

An inductee into both the Clemson and South Carolina Athletic Hall of Fames, Waters was superb in the playoffs for the Cowboys. He holds the existing NFL career record for most interceptions in the playoffs (nine) and most in a single game NFC (three). He is third in Dallas history in career regular season pass thefts with 41.

"I knew Charlie would experience success as a coach," says Hall of Famer Tom Landry, "because as a player he was always prepared. He left nothing to chance. Charlie's last seven years at strong safety were like having a coach on the field. He coordinated our defense... this coach-like preparation enabled him to reach his fullest potential and thus provided great satisfaction as a coach."

A native of Miami, Florida (9/10/48) and raised in North Augusta, South Carolina, Charlie graduated from Clemson University in 1970. He and his wife, Rosie, have three sons, Cody, Ben, and Cliff.

KENNY WALKER HAD AN OUTSTANDING ROOKIE SEASON AT DEFENSIVE END AFTER BEING DRAFTED IN THE EIGHTH ROUND IN 1991. WALKER, THE ONLY DEAF PLAYER IN THE NATIONAL FOOTBALL LEAGUE, WAS NAMED BY HIS TEAMMATES AS DENVER'S MOST INSPIRATIONAL PLAYER LAST YEAR.

SCOUTING STAFF

LIDE HUGGINS

Director of Football Operations

Lide Huggins is in his fourth season as Denver's Director of Football Operations, moving into his current position after two years as the Director of Pro Personnel for the Broncos.

Huggins is in his 12th overall season with Denver and previously scouted the Southeast and Southwest as a regional scout from 1981-86.

In his role as the chief of football operations, Huggins works closely with Head Coach Dan Reeves, and his duties include evaluation of the top college players on a national level, gathering information regarding professional talent, and player acquisition by both trade and free agent signings. He also works with Broncos General Manager John Beake in the areas of personnel budget and player contracts.

A defensive back and college teammate of Reeves at the University of South Carolina, Huggins graduated with a marketing degree in 1964, then did graduate study in business at Texas A & M in 1965.

Huggins coached at Texas A & M from 1965-69, at West Virginia from 1970-71, and at Tennessee from 1972-75.

Prior to joining the Broncos he scouted full-time for the Dallas Cowboys, Seattle Seahawks, and the National Scouting Combine.

Lide and his wife Sandra Lee have three daughters, Kathy, Karen, and Sabrina.

REED JOHNSON

Director of Player Personnel

Reed Johnson, who enters his 12th season with the Denver Broncos in 1992, is the Director of Player Personnel for the NFL club.

He came to Denver as special teams coach in 1981 and served as Coordinator of Pro Scouting in 1982 before taking over as the Broncos' Coordinator of College Scouting from 1983-85.

Johnson has been in the NFL for 19 seasons, eight with the Dallas Cowboys as a personnel scout and the last 11 seasons with the Denver Broncos. During those years the two teams have combined for 13 playoff seasons and six Super Bowls.

Prior to his stint with Dallas, he was an assistant coach on the college level at New Mexico, Oklahoma State, and Tulsa.

A graduate of the University of Colorado, Johnson played in the Buffaloes' defensive backfield for four years and was a member of the school's Big Eight championship team in 1961.

He coached high school football in Texas for five seasons, including four at Highland Park High School in Dallas, where Johnson himself had played on a state championship team in 1957.

Reed has two daughters, Jill, 29, and Holly, 27. He and his wife Peggy reside in Denver with their two sons, Blair, age five, and Woody, age three.

Jeff Alexander signed a free agent contract with Denver in June. He played with the Broncos in 1989 and was most recently a member of the World League London Monarchs. Alexander ranked fifth in the WL in rushing this past season, gaining 501 yards on 125 carries, scoring once. A year earlier he led the team in rushing, with 87 attempts for 391 yards and nine touchdowns, and helped the Monarchs capture the first World Bowl crown. Alexander originally joined the Broncos as a rookie free agent in 1988, but after injuring a wrist during the preseason, he spent the entire regular season on injured reserve. In 1989 he started six of 14 games played and rushed for 146 yards on 45 carries, with two TDs. Alexander was waived by the Broncos prior to the opening of the 1990 season. After his first World League season in London he attended Phoenix's training camp, but did not make the final roster.

COLLEGE: Alexander was a running back at Southern University from 1984-87, transferring there from Tulane in 1983. He rushed for 640 yards and three TDs as a senior with the Black Knights.

PERSONAL: Jeff and his wife Brooke make their home in Denver. A native of Baton Rouge, La., he attended Baker (La.) HSS and lettered three times in football, twice in track, and once in baseball. A marketing major at Southern, Jeff enjoys running and going to the movies.

No. 27 STEPHEN DENNIS (Steve)ATWATER*Safety

Birthdate – October 28, 1966
Birthplace – Chicago, Ill.
Residence – Denver, Colo.
How Acquired – Draft #1, 1989
College – Arkansas
High School – Lutheran North HS,
 St Louis, Mo.
Height – 6-3
Weight – 217
Pro Year – 4th
Year With Broncos – 4th

Steve Atwater earned his second straight Pro Bowl berth after a season in which he tied for the team lead with a career-high five interceptions and finished second on Denver's AFC-leading defense in total tackles with 150. Atwater was also named All-NFL (AP, Pro Football Weekly, College and Pro Football Newsweekly second-team) and All-AFC (Football News, Pro Football Weekly). For the season he registered 83 tackles, 67 assists, 11 passes defended, a sack, a forced fumble, and a fumble recovery. Atwater was named the AFC Defensive Player of the Week for his performance against the Seahawks (9/15) in which he had 10 total tackles, picked off a pass, and recovered a fumble. He was in double figures in total tackles nine times last year, with a high of 14 vs. Phoenix (12/15). In post-season play Atwater had 17 total tackles and three passes defended, and he intercepted a pass vs. Houston (1/4). He made his first appearance in the Pro Bowl after a tremendous 1990 campaign in which he finished second on the Broncos' defense with 173 total tackles, including a team-high 112 solo tackles, despite missing one game due to injury. For his efforts he was also named All-NFL (College and Pro Football Newsweekly 2nd team, Newspaper Editors Association – 2nd team) and All-AFC (UPI, Football News), and was voted by his teammates as Denver's most valuable defensive player. In addition, Atwater also posted two interceptions, four passes defended, two forced fumbles, and a quarterback sack, while also registering 10 total tackles on special teams. From his strong safety position Atwater posted five of Denver's top 10 single game tackle totals, including a personal high of 18 vs. Pittsburgh (10/14), and had 12 or more total tackles in nine games. He cemented his reputation as a hard hitter after a thunderous collision with Kansas City's Christian Okoye in a nationally televised Monday night game (9/17). Atwater sat out the game vs. Seattle (9/23) with a rib strain and saw limited action against the Chargers (12/16) after suffering torn rib cartilage early in the first half. Atwater was named NFL All-Rookie (Pro Football Weekly, College and Pro Football Newsweekly) for a fine campaign in 1989. He made an immediate impact as the Broncos' first-round pick, taking the place of former defensive captain Mike Harden at free safety and combining with strong safety Dennis Smith to form one of the NFL's most physical safety tandems. Atwater started every regular season game and led the Bronco defense with 86 first hits. He was second on the squad with 129 total tackles and also claimed three interceptions, 10 passes defended, and a fumble recovery. Atwater had two interceptions in the week three contest against the Raiders (9/24), the second setting up the game-clinching field goal. He had six games with 10 or more total tackles, including a high of 12 vs. San Diego (10/8).

COLLEGE: Atwater was a three-time All-Southwest Conference selection and two-time All-American at the University of Arkansas. He became the Razorbacks' all-time interception leader with 14 over his four active campaigns. He went to the school as a wishbone quarterback but was moved to the secondary as a redshirt freshman.

Atwater closed out his college career with an appearance in the Senior Bowl, a game in which he had two interceptions.

PERSONAL: Steve and his wife Letha reside in the Denver suburb of Aurora. A native of Chicago, Ill., he was all-conference and league MVP as a wishbone quarterback at Lutheran North HS in St. Louis Mo., where he was named the school's top scholar-athlete. Steve lettered three times in football, once each in baseball and track, and four times in basketball, garnering all-league, all-district, and All-America honors in that sport. He was selected to play in the McDonald's All-Star Classic, but missed the contest due to the chicken pox. He enjoys playing and training with his dog, as well as playing pool, fishing, basketball, and bowling. Steve is involved with the Shiloh House and had several speaking engagements across the country during the off-season. Steve's cousin Mark Ingram is a wide receiver for the New York Giants.

No. 87 ROBERT MITCHELL (Rob) AWALT Tight End

Birthdate - April 9, 1964
Birthplace - Landsithul, West Germany
Residence - Coppell, Tex.
How Acquired - Plan B, 1992
College - San Diego State
High School - Valley HS, Sacramento, Calif.
Height - 6-5
Weight - 238
Pro Year - 6th
Year with Broncos - 1st

Rob Awalt signed with Denver as a Plan B free agent in March. Through five seasons in the NFL, he has caught 132 passes for 1,530 yards, an average per catch of 11.6 yards, and has scored 10 touchdowns. Awalt was a consensus all-rookie selection and was named Rookie of the Year (The Sporting News) in 1987. As a third round draft choice of St. Louis he started nine games that season and caught 42 passes for 526 yards and six TDs. In his first start he had nine receptions for 97 yards against Philadelphia and the following week had nine catches for 124 yards vs. Tampa Bay. In three seasons with the Cardinals only three NFL tight ends caught more passes than his 114. Awalt was traded to Dallas in 1990, where he was used primarily as the second tight end. He was hampered by a back injury in his first campaign with the Cowboys and missed the last three games of the season. He missed the first four games last year because of a broken thumb. Upon his return he played in every game, starting twice, and caught five passes for 57 yards.

COLLEGE: Awalt earned All-Western Athletic Conference honors as a senior and led all San Diego State receivers with 45 catches for 541 yards. He was also named second-team All-America and played in the East-West Shrine and Senior Bowl games. Awalt originally went to Nevada-Reno as a redshirt quarterback, and spent a year there before transferring to Sacramento (Calif.) City College. He transferred to San Diego State following his sophomore year.

PERSONAL: Rob and his wife Sari make their home in Coppell, Tex. The son of an Army officer, he was born in Landsithul, West Germany, and went on to star at quarterback at Valley HS in Sacramento. As a junior at San Diego State, Rob was stricken with Thoracic Outlet Obstruction Syndrome, the same neurovascular problem that Houston Astros pitcher J.R. Richard experienced. The disorder was corrected by removing a rib and rerouting an artery and nerve.

Tyrone Braxton made a successful comeback in 1991 from a knee injury that caused him to miss most of the previous campaign. He once again served as Denver's starting left cornerback and marked his return by intercepting a pass for a touchdown in the season opener vs. Cincinnati (9/1). In regular season play Braxton had 57 tackles, 35 assists, 12 passes defended, four interceptions, a sack, a forced fumble, and a fumble recovery. He had a big game against New England (12/1), posting six tackles, three passes defended, and a sack. In post-season play Braxton had seven tackles and seven assists, and intercepted a pass in the AFC Championship Game at Buffalo (1/12). He tore the medial collateral ligament in his right knee in the third game of the 1990 season, and underwent surgery to repair the injury. Braxton registered 17 total tackles, an interception, and two passes defended before being hurt. Braxton had a tremendous season in 1989, playing cornerback for the first time in his career. He started every game for the Broncos and ranked sixth in the AFC with a team-leading six interceptions, while also pacing Denver's defense with 14 passes defended. In regular season play Braxton posted 77 first hits, 34 assists, two forced fumbles, and two fumble recoveries. He helped set the tone for the Broncos' defensive resurgence that season when on opening day vs. Kansas City (9/10) he intercepted a pass on the Chiefs' first play from scrimmage and returned it for 34 and a touchdown. Braxton set up a Denver touchdown with a 35-year fumble return against Washington (11/20), and racked up 12 tackles and an interception at Seattle (10/22). He had a good season in 1988 as one of the leaders on Denver's special teams and as a reserve defensive back. Braxton closed out that campaign with 39 total tackles, five passes defended, two interceptions, a fumble recovery, and a quarterback sack. In 1987 he played in the final two regular season games and all three postseason contests, spending the first 13 weeks of the season on injured reserve with a shoulder injury suffered in the preseason. Primarily a special teams player in the regular season, he posted three first hits and two assists in the postseason, and was named Denver's special teams most valuable player for his performance in the divisional playoff game vs. Houston (1/10). He was Denver's 12th-round draft pick in 1987, the second to last player taken.

COLLEGE: Braxton was a defensive back and punt return specialist at North Dakota State, earning all-conference honors as a senior after posting 128 tackles, an interception, and two fumble recoveries. As a junior he led the conference with five interceptions and a punt return average of 15.0, earning him second-team all-conference honors. Braxton was a member of the North Central Conference champion outdoor 400-meter relay squad that competed in the national championship.

PERSONAL: Tyrone and his wife Elizabeth reside in the Denver suburb of Englewood. A native of Madison, Wis., he attended James Madison Memorial HS there, and was named all-conference in football as a senior. He lettered twice each in football and basketball and once in track. Tyrone majored in physical education and enjoys fishing in his spare time. In the past he has had a job as a gravedigger. Tyrone is a relative of the late Jim Braxton, who was an offensive lineman for the Buffalo Bills.

No. 56 MICHAEL BROOKS

Linebacker

Birthdate - March 2, 1964

Birthplace - Ruston, La.

Residence - Ruston, La.

How Acquired - Draft #3, 1987

College - Louisiana State

High School - Ruston HS, Ruston, La.

Height -6-1

Weight - 235

Pro Year - 6th

Year with Broncos - 6th

Michael Brooks led Denver for the second straight season with 153 tackles, despite missing two games with a sprained foot. He had 10 or more total tackles in 10 games, including a high of 18 vs. Kansas City (10/20). For the season Brooks had a team-high 96 tackles, 57 assists, and six passes defended. In the Broncos' victory at Kansas City (11/17) Brooks registered his first pro interception, and duplicated the feat the following week at Seattle (11/24). He led the Broncos in 1990 with 175 total tackles, including 102 tackles and 73 assists. He had four of Denver's top 10 single game tackle totals, with a high of 20 vs. Seattle (9/23) that was the Broncos' top mark that year, and 18 at Minnesota (11/4). Brooks also posted two sacks, two passes defended, and two forced fumbles. Brooks started every game for Denver in 1989, his first campaign as a full-time starter. In regular season play he had 66 first hits, 57 assists, two passes defended, two fumble recoveries, a forced fumble, and a quarterback sack. Brooks had a big game vs. Philadelphia (10/29) with nine first hits and seven assists, a total of 16 tackles that was the high for Bronco defenders in 1989. At Buffalo (9/18), he tackled Jamie Muller in the end zone for a safety. He entered Denver's starting lineup late in the 1988 campaign, starting the final four games at the right outside linebacker spot. At linebacker he had 39 first hits, 10 assists, a pass defended, and a fumble recovery that year, and on special teams he tied for the team lead with 10 knockdown blocks. In 1987 Brooks played primarily on special teams but saw increased action at linebacker in the latter part of the season. Brooks had a 16-yard sack in his only play from scrimmage in the season opener vs. Seattle (9/13) and finished the regular season with five first hits, three assists, and a fumble recovery. He recorded five first hits in the post-season. Brooks came to Denver as the team's third-round draft choice and successfully rehabilitated a knee injury suffered in his senior season at college.

COLLEGE: Brooks was regarded by many as one of the premier linebackers in the country while at Louisiana State, earning numerous honors. A Playboy and Sporting News preseason All-America selection in 1986, he suffered a season-ending knee injury in the third game of the campaign, and after surgery he sat out the rest of the season. As a junior he earned numerous first team All-American honors and finished third in the voting for the Butkus Award, given annually to the nation's top linebacker. Brooks moved into the Tigers' starting lineup in the fourth game of his freshman season.

PERSONAL: Michael is single and resides in his hometown of Ruston, La., where he played only two years of football at Ruston HS, but was selected each season as Quad-A all-state and All-South by the Orlando (Fla.) Sentinel. He is the youngest of 13 children.

Birthplace – Chicago, Ill.
Residence – Little Rock, Ark.
How Acquired – Plan B, 1992
College – Arkansas
High School – Hall HS, Little Rock, Ark.
Height – 6-3
Weight – 280
Pro Year – 3rd
Year with Broncos – 1st

Elbert Crawford signed with the Broncos as a Plan B free agent on March 20. Last year he played at left guard for New England and was one of only six Patriots to start in every game. Originally the Los Angeles Rams eighth round pick in 1990, he was waived by them prior to the opening of the regular season. Crawford subsequently signed with New England and played in 14 games, primarily on special teams.

COLLEGE: Crawford was a second team and honorable mention All-American as a senior at the University of Arkansas. A senior All-Southwest Conference selection, he played every position on the Razorbacks' offensive line before settling in at center in his final campaign. Crawford was a reserve defensive tackle as a freshman and a reserve tight end the following year.

PERSONAL: Elbert and his wife Andrea reside in Little Rock, Ark., where he earned All-America honors as a senior at Hall HS. A native of Chicago, Ill., Elbert majored in communications at Arkansas.

No. 51 MIKE CROEL

Linebacker

Birthdate – June 6, 1969
Birthplace – Detroit, Mich.
Residence – Aurora, Colo.
How Acquired – Draft #1, 1991
College – Nebraska
High School – Lincoln-Sudbury, Sudbury, Mass.
Height – 6-3
Weight – 231
Pro Year – 2nd
Year with Broncos – 2nd

Mike Croel had a tremendous season in 1991 and for his efforts was named the NFL Rookie of the Year (Bert Bell Award-World Almanac, Washington Touchdown Club, Pro Football Weekly, Pro-Set). The fourth player taken in last year's draft, Croel was also named AFC Defensive Rookie of the Year (AP, College and Pro Football Newsweekly) and NFL All-Rookie (Football News, Pro Football Weekly, Football Digest, College and Pro Football Newsweekly). He began the regular season backing up Tim Lucas at outside linebacker, but became a starter after Lucas was injured early in the third game of the year. Croel started the next nine games until a sprained ankle, and then chicken pox, sidelined him for three contests. He returned to start the regular season finale and both post-season games. Croel last year finished second on the team with 10 sacks, and was on pace to break Leslie O'Neal's NFL rookie sack record of 12.5 before his injury. Midway through the season he had a stretch of six games in which he posted at least one sack, including two vs. Kansas City (11/17). He forced a team-leading four fumbles, one of which was returned for a TD at Seattle (11/24) by Warren Powers. In regular season play, Croel also netted 55 tackles, 29 assists, and two passes defended, and had five tackles and an assist on special teams. In the Broncos two postseason games he had eight total tackles and broke up one pass.

COLLEGE: Croel was a consensus All-Big Eight selection in his senior season at Nebraska, and also earned several All-American honors. Regarded as the fastest linebacker in the country, as well as one of the fastest defensive players, he closed out his college play with 142 tackles, 12 sacks, and 13 passes broken up, while also blocking four kicks on the Huskers' special teams unit. He was a semifinalist for the Butkus Award as a senior. As a junior Croel was named an honorable mention All-American and made the All-Big Eight second team.

PERSONAL: Mike is single and resides in the Denver suburb of Aurora. A native of Detroit, Mich., he was an all-state and all-league selection as a tight end at Lincoln-Sudbury (Mass.) HS, leading his team to a string of 25 consecutive victories during his three year career. As a senior Croel average 29.0 yards on 19 receptions, scored touchdowns on a kickoff return, punt return and on a free kick, blocked three punts, and led the team in tackles. He was also a standout in track, winning the New England prep 100-meter title as a sophomore with a 10.7 second time. Mike was an art major at Nebraska, and his special area is design graphics, although he also likes to paint abstracts.

No. 62 JEFFREY JOHN (Jeff) DAVIDSONTackle/Guard

Birthdate – October 3, 1967
Birthplace – Akron, Ohio
Residence – Denver, Colo.
How Acquired – Draft #5a, 1990
College – Ohio State
High School – Westerville North HS,
 Westerville, Ohio
Height – 6-5
Weight – 309
Pro Year – 3rd
Year with Broncos – 3rd

Jeff Davidson started 14 regular season games and both post-season contests at left tackle for Denver. He alternated playing time during the last half of the season with newly acquired Harvey Salem, who took over in passing situations. Davidson moved from guard to left tackle during last year's preseason, and Bronco coaches feel that he will benefit from a full training camp at the new position. He came to Denver as the team's fifth round draft choice in 1990 and played in 12 games as a reserve lineman. Bronco coaches are impressed with Davidson's grasp of Denver's offensive system and his ability to make on-field adjustments.

COLLEGE: Davidson overcame a rash of injuries early in his college career to establish himself as one of the leading linemen in the Midwest. He earned All-Big Ten and honorable mention All-America honors as a senior at Ohio State. A four-time letter winner, Davidson was a team captain, and closed out his Buckeye career with an appearance in the East-West Shrine Game. He majored in mechanical engineering at Ohio State, where he earned several academic honors.

PERSONAL: Jeff and his wife Judy reside in Denver. A native of Akron, Ohio, he was a two-time All-Ohio offensive tackle at Westerville (Ohio) North HS, earning Parade Magazine All-American honors. He lettered three times in football, four times in track and once in baseball. Jeff's father, Jim, was an Ohio State All-American in 1964 and a first round draft choice of the Buffalo Bills in 1965. While his brother, Jim Jr., also played football at Ohio State in 1985. Jeff's hobbies include skiing, weightlifting, and photography.

No. 29 CHARLES LOUIS DIMRYCornerback

Birthdate – January 31, 1966
Birthplace – San Diego, Calif.
Residence – Oceanside, Calif.
How Acquired – Plan B, 1991
College – Nevada-Las Vegas
High School – Oceanside HS,
 Oceanside, Calif.
Height – 6-0
Weight – 175
Pro Year – 5th
Year with Broncos – 2nd

Charles Dimry proved to be a valuable addition to Denver's secondary in 1991. He joined the team as a Plan B free agent from Atlanta, and played last year as Wymon Henderson's back-up at right cornerback as well as in the Broncos' nickel package. In regular season play he led the team with 17 passes defended, while also posting 21 tackles, 17 assists, three interceptions, and a fumble recovery. Dimry turned in one of the key plays of the year when he intercepted a Steve DeBerg pass at Kansas City (11/17) and returned it 26 yards for his first pro touchdown. In the season finale at San Diego (12/22) he had five passes defended and an interception to earn game MVP honors. Dimry started against Houston in the Divisional Playoff Game (1/4) and his post-season stats show eight tackles, four assists, and a pass defended. He played three seasons with Atlanta after joining the team as a fifth-round draft choice in 1988. In 1990 he started 12 of 16 games played and recorded career highs in interceptions (five) and tackles (55), with 12 passes defended.

COLLEGE: Dimry earned a spot in the starting lineup as a sophomore at the University of Nevada-Las Vegas, although injuries as a junior and senior slowed his final two seasons. In 31 games he intercepted three passes, one for a touchdown, made 101 tackles, deflected 19 passes, and had a pair of sacks.

PERSONAL: Charles and his wife Francine have a daughter, Erin (7/18/91), and the family makes its home in Oceanside, Calif. A native of San Diego, Calif., he graduated from Oceanside (Calif.) HS, and was chosen 10 play in the California Bowl, an all-star game with the state's top prep football players. Charles traveled to Europe as a sixth-grade soccer player to compete internationally. His father was a member of a 440-relay team that set a San Diego city record.

Elway needs 2,026 yards passing to reach the 30,000-yard plateau, and has career figures of 27,974 yards passing and 2,188 yards rushing for a combined total of 30,162 yards. He holds or is tied for 19 regular season team records, including most touchdown passes (148), highest average gain per rush (4.75), and lowest career interception percentage (.036). Elway's rushing total ranks sixth in team history and is 11th among all-time NFL quarterbacks, just 12 yards shy of 10th-ranked Archie Manning.

Elway now has an 88-53-1 (.623) overall record as a starting quarterback, but can claim an 84-47-1 (.640) record, including playoffs since becoming the Broncos' permanent starter in the first game of 1984. He has an 81-48-1 career regular season record as a starter, including a home record of 50-15 (.769). Elway leads all current NFL quarterbacks in regular season victories (77).

He has thrown 40 passes of 50 or more yards as a Bronco and has 16 regular season games (18 overall) 300-yard passing games. Elway has had 28 overall games with 300 yards of total offense, and Denver is 18-9-1 in those contests.

Elway has rushed for 40 or more yards 14 times as a pro and has had 26 runs of 17 yards or more, 21 in regular season play.

In postseason play Elway has started 12 of 13 games and has completed 200 of 384 passes for 3,019 yards, with 16 touchdowns and 17 interceptions. He has gained 349 yards on 66 rushing attempts and has scored four times.

1991: Elway completed 242 of 351 passes for 3,253 yards, a total ranked sixth in the AFC and ninth in the NFL. He threw 12 touchdown passes and tied a career low with just 12 interceptions. He had 36 pass completions of 20+ yards, nine of 40+, five of 50+, and four of 60+. Elway was third on the team with 258 yards rushing, and his six TDs led the team and set a new career single season high. He was bothered throughout the second half of the season by a shoulder problem that was corrected by arthroscopic surgery in February.

Against Cincinnati in the season opener (9/1), Elway threw for 262 yards and two touchdowns, scored two rushing TDs, and caught a 24-yard pass from Steve Sewell. Against Kansas City (10/20) he combined with Mark Jackson for a 71-yard gain on a fourth-and-13 play to set up the winning field goal. Elway had his only 300-yard passing performance of the year in Denver's loss at Houston (10/6), with 301 yards. His heroics were never more evident than in the Broncos' 26-24 Divisional Playoff Game victory over Houston (1/4). He rallied Denver from a 21-6 deficit, and on a drive in which he completed a fourth-down pass to Michael Young for a first down, he drove his team to a touchdown to cut the Oilers' lead to one point at 24-23. Houston's next drive stalled but a punt gave the Broncos the ball on the two. Twice Elway converted fourth down plays, first on a seven-yard run and later with a 44-yard pass to Vance Johnson, to set up Denver's winning field goal. For the game Elway completed 19 of 33 passes for 257 yards, with one TD and one interception, and rushed six times for 39 yards. In the AFC Championship Game loss at Buffalo (1/12) he completed 11 of 21 passes for 121 yards and an interception before having to leave the game in the fourth quarter with a thigh injury.

1990: Elway completed 294 of 502 passes in 1990, a .586 completion percentage that stands as the highest of his career, for 3,526 yards, 15 touchdowns, and 14 interceptions. He gained 258 yards on 50 rushing attempts and scored three touchdowns on the ground. Elway turned in several gutsy performances last season, and played some of his best games in the midst of Denver's six game losing streak, including a 328-yard, two-TD performance at Kansas City (12/9). That performance was his 17th career 300-yard game and the 27th time in which he totaled over 300 yards of total offense. Denver is 18-8-1 in those games. Elway had three of his top six career completion percentages in 1990, with a high of .800 at Minnesota (11/4), and also tied his personal single game completion mark with 30 vs. Seattle (9/23). Elway and wide receiver Vance Johnson combined on Denver's most memorable play of the season when on fourth and 10 against Kansas City (9/17) they connected on a 49-yard pass that set up a last second game-winning field goal attempt. He also set a new regular season rushing high with a mark of 52 yards against the Raiders (12/2).

1989: Elway in 1989 led Denver to its third AFC Championship in four years. He completed 223 of 416 passes for 3,051 yards, with 18 touchdowns and 18 interceptions, and he rushed for 244 yards on 48 carries, scoring three times. Elway had one 300-yard passing game in the regular season, passing for 344 yards and two TDs in the Broncos' overtime win at Seattle (10/22). He led Denver to a 38-0 halftime lead against the Seahawks (11/26) after passing for 217 yards and four TDs. In the divisional playoff game vs. Pittsburgh (1/7/90) Elway completed 12 of 20 passes for 239 yards, including completions of 51 and 37 yards, and rushed for 44 yards, with one run of 32 yards. He had one of the best performances of his career in the AFC Championship Game against Cleveland (1/14), totaling over 300 yards total offense for the third time in a conference title game. He completed 20 of 36 passes for 385 yards and three TDs. Elway combined with Michael Young on a 70-yard scoring play, completed a 43-yard pass to Steve Sewell, threw a 39-yard TD pass to Sammy Winder, and gained 25 of his 39 rushing yards on one play. In Super Bowl XXIV (1/28) he completed 10 of 26 passes for 108 yards and scored Denver's only TD of the game on a three yard run.

1988: In 1988 Elway threw for 3,309 yards and rushed for 234 yards despite being bothered for most of the season by several nagging injuries. He was voted by teammates as Denver's most valuable offensive player for the fourth straight year, sharing the award with running back Sammy Winder, following a campaign in which he completed 274 of 496 passes, with 17 touchdowns and 19 interceptions. He had his only 300-yard passing game of the season against the Raiders (12/4) with 324 yards and two touchdowns.

1987: Elway was named the NFL's Most Valuable Player (AP) and the AFC's starting quarterback in the Pro Bowl after turning in a tremendous season in 1987, a year in which he became the first AFC signal caller since Terry Bradshaw (1978-79) to lead his team to consecutive conference crowns. Elway was named All-NFL (The Sporting News, NEA, AP-second team) and All-AFC (UPI, Pro Football Weekly, The Football News), in addition to being tabbed as the AFC MVP (NFLPA), AFC Player of the Year (The Football News), AFC Offensive Player of the Year (UPI, Kansas City 101 Club), and Colorado Pro Athlete of the Year (Colorado Sports Hall of Fame). He was dynamic in the AFC Championship Game against the Browns, completing 14 of the 26 passes for 281 yards and three TDs, while also rushing 11 times for 36 yards. In Super Bowl XXII he completed 14 of 38 passes for 257 yards, ran for 32 yards on three carries, and became the first quarterback in Super Bowl history to catch a pass, a 23-yarder from Steve Sewell. Elway's 56-yard scoring strike to Ricky Nattiel on Denver's first play from scrimmage provided the earliest TD in Super Bowl history (elapsed time of 1:57). He was voted the Broncos' offensive MVP for a regular season performance in which he completed 224 of 410 passes for 3,198 yards, an average of 267 yards per game, with 19 TD passes. Elway had four 300 yard passing games that year, a team record. He led all AFC quarterbacks in rushing for the fourth straight season was second on the team with a career-high 304 yards, scoring four times.

1986: Elway led the Broncos to their first AFC Championship in nine seasons in 1986, while earning his first Pro Bowl berth. He was honored with the Seattle Gold Helmet Award (Professional Football Player of the Year) and received the King of the Hill award from the Colorado Sports Hall of Fame, in addition to being named honorable mention All-NFL (AP) and All-AFC (UPI-second team). Along with his 18 TD passes that year, Elway also scored on an 11 -yard run and a 23-yard pass reception from Steve Sewell that is the longest TD catch by a full-time starting QB in NFL history. His best statistical game of the season came against the Giants (11/23) when he passed for 336 yards and led the team with 51 yards rushing. Elway directed one of the greatest drives in NFL postseason history in pacing Denver to a 23-20 overtime win over Cleveland for the AFC title. He completed 22 of 38 passes for 244 yards and a TD, that coming on a five-yard strike to Mark Jackson that capped a 15-play, 98-yard drive that tied the game at the end of regulation. In overtime Elway drove the team 60 yards in nine plays to the winning field goal. In Super Bowl XXI Elway completed 22 of 37 passes for 304 yards and one TD, also scoring on a four-yard run.

1985: Elway took some spectacular steps forward in 1985, as the Stanford graduate rewrote the Denver record book Elway set Bronco single season records for attempts (605, which led the NFL and fell just four passes short of the NFL record of 609 held by Dan Fouts), completions (327, second in the NFL), passing yards (3,891, second in the NFL), total rushing and passing plays (656, first in the NFL), and total offense (4,414, also first in the league).

1984: Elway led the Broncos to a 12-2 record in his 14 regular season starts in 1984. He completed 214 of 380 passes for 2,598 yards, with 18 TDs and 15 interceptions. Not only was his passing a factor in his leadership of the offense, but he finished third on the team in rushing with 237 yards.

1983: Elway started 10 games in 1983, including the first five before being replaced by Steve DeBerg and five more after DeBerg was injured. While Elway did not have impressive stats as a rookie, finishing 17th among AFC passers, he carried a tremendous emotional burden, having come to the NFL as the most publicized college prospect since Joe Namath in 1965. Elway was the first player chosen in the 1983 draft and joined the Broncos by trade with Baltimore on May 2.

COLLEGE: John concluded his college career with five major NCAA Division 1-A records and nine major Pac-10 marks. Elway completed 62.1 percent of his career passes (774 of 1,243, both NCAA highs) for 9,349 yards and 77 touchdowns, while setting an NCAA record for the lowest percentage of passes intercepted in a career (3.13 percent). As a senior, John was a consensus All American and finished second in Heisman Trophy balloting while setting virtually every Pac-10 and Stanford career record for total offense and passing. A two-sport star, John played baseball for the New York Yankees' Oneonta (N.Y.) single-A farm club in 1982, hitting for a .318 average and knocking in a team-high 24 runs batted in. He was the Yankees' first selection in the 1981 summer draft. He hit .349 with nine homers and 50 RBI in 49 games in his final college baseball season as a sophomore. Elway has a degree in economics from Stanford.

PERSONAL: John and his wife Janet have three daughters, Jessica Gwen (10/17/85), Jordan Marie (6/1/87), Juliana (3/7/91), and a son, Jack (8/11/89). The family makes its home in Englewood, Colo. In 1988 John started The Elway Foundation, a non-profit foundation designed to help Colorado residents, with special emphasis given to individuals and groups whose needs are not met by traditional agencies, including those supporting the youth of Colorado. He is a member of the Mayors Council on Physical Fitness and is Chairman of the National Kidney Foundation for the Rocky Mountain Region. A native of Port Angeles, Wash., Elway was the most highly recruited prep athlete in the nation in 1979 and was listed on Parade, Scholastic Coach, Football News, and National Coaches Association All-America teams. He had an unparalleled football-baseball career at Granada Hills HS. John was 129 of 200 for 1,837 yards and 19 TDs as a senior, while leading the baseball team to the Los Angeles City championship with a .491 batting average and a 4-2 pitching record. He completed 60 percent of his high school passes for 5,711 yards and 49 TDs. The Kansas City Royals selected him in the 1979 summer draft, although he already had signed a national letter of intent with Stanford. John's father, Jack, coached his son in the East-West Shrine contest in which John earned Offensive MVP laurels, and is the current head coach of the World League Frankfurt Galaxy.

No. 63 SEAN WARD FARRELLGuard

Birthdate – May 25, 1960
Birthplace – Southampton, N.Y.
Residence – Tampa, Fla.
How Acquired – Waivers, 1990
College – Penn State
High School – West Hampton Beach HS,
 West Hampton Beach, N.Y.
Height – 6-3
Weight – 260
Pro Year – 11th
Year with Broncos – 3rd

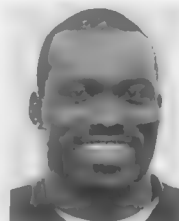

Sean Farrell played in just five regular season games with the Broncos last season, starting four, due to surgery on his right shoulder. He did not play in the season opener because of shoulder problems, but started in weeks two through four at left guard. He was inactive at Minnesota (9/29), but returned to the lineup the following week at Houston (10/6). Farrell's surgery the next week was expected to sideline him for the remainder of the season, but he rebounded well enough to play in the regular season finale and start in both of Denver's postseason games. He was claimed off of waivers by Denver in Nov. 1990 and played in each of the final five games of the season, primarily on special teams. He began the 1990 season on New England's injured reserve with shoulder injuries. (Those injuries were surgically repaired in the 1991 offseason). The Patriots attempted to move him to their active roster, and the Broncos claimed him. Farrell came to the NFL as Tampa Bay's first round draft choice in 1982. He became a full-time starter almost immediately, starting 16 of 19 games played in his first two seasons. In 1984 Farrell was named first-team All-NFL (The Sporting News) and was an alternate to the Pro Bowl. He was traded to New England in Feb. 1987 and went on to start all 43 games in which he played for the Patriots. In 1988 he was a co-winner of the team's Jim Lee Hunt Award, given annually to the Patriot's top interior lineman, and in 1989 was named first-team All-AFC (The Football news).

COLLEGE: Farrell was the most decorated senior lineman in the country in 1981, as he was a consensus All-American, finished second in the Outland Trophy voting to junior Dave Remington, and was the only offensive line finalist for the Lombardi Trophy. He was an anchor on a Nittany Lions' offensive line that helped produce a 28-8 record in his three years as a starter and produced victories in the Liberty and Fiesta (twice) Bowls. Farrell graduated with a degree in general arts and sciences.

PERSONAL: Sean and his wife Rene have a daughter, Ashley Jordan (1/25/90), and the family makes its off-season home in Tampa, Fla. A native of Southampton, N.Y., Sean was an outstanding prep athlete at West Hampton Beach (N.Y.) HS, where he was team captain as a linebacker and fullback Sean was named MVP on his prep basketball team as a junior, and as a discus thrower he placed second in a national meet and represented the United States in junior international competition with a best of 195'5". His father, Donald, is a general surgeon who played football at Columbia, and his brother, Lee, played football at Syracuse.

Simon Fletcher led the Broncos in sacks in 1991 for the fourth straight season, the first player in team history to accomplish that feat. His 13.5 sacks tied the club record set by Rulon Jones in 1986 and ranked second in the AFC. Fletcher's sack total over the past four seasons stands at 45.5, and he is now fifth in team history with 56 career sacks. Fletcher, who has never missed a game as a Bronco, is second among active Broncos in consecutive games started (79) and third in consecutive games played (108). Last season Fletcher had at least a half sack in the final 10 regular season games and had two-sack performances vs. Pittsburgh (11/3) and at San Diego (12/22). In addition to the sacks, he also posted 46 tackles, 43 assists, three passes defended, two forced fumbles, and a fumble recovery. Fletcher was named AFC Defensive Player of the Month for December. In postseason play he registered 14 total tackles and Denver's only sack. In 1990 Fletcher led Denver with 11 sacks, and had 55 tackles, 42 assists, a team-high four forced fumbles, a fumble recovery, and a pass defended. At Minnesota (11/4) he tied a team record with four sacks and he had two games in which he forced two fumbles. Fletcher set a new career high and ranked fourth in the AFC with 12 sacks in 1989. He had two or more sacks in three games, including a two and one-half sack performance at Cleveland (10/1). In addition, that year he had 61 first hits, 44 assists, three forced fumbles, two passes defended, and a fumble recovery. He had 13 total tackles at Seattle (10/22) and 12 at Kansas City (11/12). Fletcher had a tremendous season in 1988 and was voted Denver's Most Valuable Defensive Player by his teammates. He led the team with a career high nine quarterback sacks, a figure tied for sixth in the AFC. Three times in 1988 Fletcher was named the Broncos' overall player of the game and was honored as the defensive player of the game twice. Against Cleveland (11/13) Fletcher posted 11 total tackles, including two sacks, and he forced and recovered a fumble. In addition to the nine sacks, Fletcher's season totals show 115 total tackles, his first interception as a professional, and six passes defended. He had a fine season in 1987 as Denver's starting strong outside linebacker, his first campaign ever as a linebacker. Bronco coaches moved him from defensive end after the 1986 season to take advantage of his size and ability to drop off into pass coverage. Fletcher's top performances in the 1987 regular season included an 11-tackle, one-sack game against Green Bay (9/20), a 12-tackle game against the Raiders (11/22), and a strong performance vs. Kansas City (12/19) in which he netted two quarterback sacks fumble recovery. He closed out regular season play with 49 first hits, 21 assists, and four sacks. Fletcher was impressive in post-season play, registering 10 first hits in Super Bowl XXII (1/31) and five first hits and a sack in the AFC Championship Game vs. Cleveland (1/17), while posting six quarterback harassments in the three games. He played in every game in 1986, starting twice (at Philadelphia on 9/21 and as an outside linebacker vs. Washington on 12/13) and finishing the campaign with 43 tackles, two passes defended, and two fumble recoveries. Fletcher blocked a key field goal attempt in a Bronco win over the Raiders (11/2) and deflected an extra point in Denver's one-point win over the Redskins (12/13). He saw action in both AFC playoff games and in Super Bowl XXI, contributing seven tackles and two assists during post-season play. Fletcher played in all 16 games in 1985 and increased his playing time as the season went on, making his first pro start at Pittsburgh (12/1). Denver's second pick in the second round, Fletcher finished the season with 17 total tackles and one quarterback sack, that coming in the season finale at Seattle (12/20).

COLLEGE: Simon was a three-year starter at the University of Houston, where he posted 209 total tackles, including 30 tackles for losses and 14 quarterback sacks. Fletcher also defended 10 passes during a career in which he started 33 of the 37 games in which he played for the Cougars. As a senior he had 11 tackles for losses and eight sacks despite playing the last six games with a pinched nerve in his shoulder. He started at both right tackle (1982 and 1984) and right end (1983) during his college career, which he closed out with a Cotton Bowl appearance against Boston College.

PERSONAL: Simon is married (Pinkie) and has two daughters, Ashley Nicole (1/12/84) and Neomi Patrice (1/25/88), and the family makes its home in Aurora, Colo. He earned letters in both football and track at Bay City HS, and has an older brother who played football at Texas A&I.

Gaston Green earned his first career Pro Bowl berth after leading the Broncos with 1,037 rushing yards, a figure that ranked second in the AFC and sixth in the NFL, and was by far the best performance of his career. In regular season play Green average 4.0 yards on 261 carries and scored four TDs, while also setting new career highs with 13 receptions for 78 yards. He had five 100-yard games and had six runs of 20+ yards and three of 40+, including touchdown runs of 60 and 63 yards. In the season opener against Cincinnati (9/1), Green rushed for 116 yards on 24 carries, with a long gain of 43 yards. In week four vs. San Diego (9/22) he gained 127 yards and scored on runs of five, 20, and 63 yards. The following week at Minnesota (9/29) Green established career highs of 26 attempts and 158 yards, which stands as the fourth highest single game rushing total in Bronco history, and earned him AFC Offensive Player of the Week honors. A thigh strain forced him to sit out weeks seven through nine but he returned to post his fourth 100-yard effort with 103 yards against the Raiders (11/10). The following week Green played a key role in Denver's victory at Kansas City, rushing for 133 yards on 24 carries and scoring on a 60-yard run. Green gained 112 yards on 36 carries in post-season play. He rushed 17 times for 59 yards against Houston (1/4), and in the AFC Championship Game at Buffalo (1/12), Green gained 53 yards on 19 carries. Green and a fourth-round pick (WR Derek Russell) were acquired last year by the Broncos in a draft day trade that sent tackle Gerald Perry to the Los Angeles Rams. His career totals show 390 attempts for 1,488 yards and four touchdowns and 22 receptions for 153 yards and a score. In 1990 Green was the Rams' second-leading ball carrier with 261 yards on 68 carries, while catching two passes for 23 yards and one TD. He led the team and finished fourth in the NFC and sixth in the 22.4 average, including a 99-yard return for a TD. Green played in just six games in 1989 because of nagging rib and hamstring injuries. As the Rams' first-round draft choice in 1988, Green played in 10 games and rushed for 117 yards on 35 carries.

COLLEGE: Green is UCLA's all-time rushing leader with 3,731 yards. An All-American and All-Pac 10 selection as a senior, he gained 1,098 yards on 206 carries, a 5.3 average, with 11 TDs, and had a string of eight 100-yard games. Green led the conference as a junior with 1,139 rushing yards, an average of 113 per game, including 224 yards and four TDs against Southern Cal. He racked up 266 yards and three TDs on the ground and threw a 13-yard TD pass in that years Freedom Bowl. Green named second-team All-Pac 10 as a sophomore despite missing four games. As a freshman he was named the outstanding offensive player in the Fiesta Bowl.

PERSONAL: Gaston is single and makes his home in Tustin, Calif. At Gardena (Calif.) HS he was named first-team prep All-America by Adidas, Parade, and Blue Chip magazines, and was honored as All-South Bay Back of the Year and League Player of the Year. Gaston lettered three times in track running in the 100-meters (10.58), 200-meters (21.47), and 400-meters (49.2).

Year with Broncos - 3rd

Ronnie Haliburton played in eight games last season before injuring a knee at New England (10/27), having surgery, and spending the remainder of the year on injured reserve. He was in on two tackles as a reserve linebacker, and on special teams had four tackles, three assists, and three knockdown blocks. Haliburton played in the final nine games with Denver in 1990, primarily on special teams, although he did see action at linebacker in the latter stages of the campaign. He originally came to the Broncos as a tight end, but was moved to outside linebacker during the 1990 training camp. Haliburton tore a medial collateral ligament in the preseason and spent the first seven weeks of the regular season on injured reserve. He posted 11 total tackles and three knockdown blocks on the special teams unit and had four tackles and three assists in play at linebacker.

COLLEGE: Haliburton was a two-year starter at tight end for Louisiana State and closed out his career with 39 receptions for 444 yards, including 20 for 291 yards and three TDs as a senior. He played in the Senior Bowl and was a member of the Fighting Tigers' teams that played in the Sugar, Gator, and Hall of Fame Bowls.

PERSONAL: Ronnie is single and makes his home in Port Arthur, Tex., where he was an all-state tight end and outside linebacker at Lincoln HS. In his senior year, the New Orleans, La., native caught 16 passes for 331 yards and five touchdowns and accounted for 193 tackles and three interceptions. In addition to three prep letters in football, he also lettered three times in basketball. Ronnie's hobbies include fishing and collecting bottles.

Year with Broncos - 4th

Wymon Henderson started all 16 regular season games and the AFC Championship Game at Buffalo (1/12) in 1991. He sat out of the Divisional Playoff Game vs. Houston because of a knee injury suffered in the season finale at San Diego (12/22). In regular season play Henderson posted 53 tackles, 29 assists, two interceptions, and eight passes defended. He had 10 tackles vs. Pittsburgh (11/3) and returned an interception 53 yards at Kansas City (11/17), setting up a Denver field goal. Seven of his 12 career interceptions have been with the Broncos and he has started 46 of 47 games played with Denver. Henderson started 15 games for Denver in 1990 at right cornerback sitting out the game at Indianapolis (10/1) with torn rib cartilage. He was one of three Bronco defenders with two interceptions, including one at Detroit (11/22) that was returned 49 yards for his first touchdown as a pro. In addition, he was in on a career-high 88 tackles, and had five passes defended and a fumble recovery. His best games of the campaign came against the Raiders, as he was named the Broncos' defensive MVP in the season opener in Los Angeles (9/9) and had 12 total tackles and blocked an extra point attempt in the rematch in Denver (12/2). Henderson in 1989 started every game except the season finale at San Diego (12/24), although he came in on the second play from scrimmage. He had 13 passes defended and also posted 47 first hits, 29 assists, and three interceptions. Henderson picked off two passes in the Broncos victory at Buffalo (9/18) and he had 11 total tackles and two passes defended at Kansas City (11/12). He signed with Denver as a Plan B free agent in March 1989 after two seasons with Minnesota. In 1988 Henderson had 25 total tackles and an interception and was one of the leaders on the Vikings' special teams unit. In 1987 Henderson started eight of 12 games played and finished second on the team with four interceptions. Henderson was with Los Angeles of the USFL in 1983 - 85 and had seven interceptions in 53 games played. He attended the San Francisco Forty Niners' training camp in 1985 but did not make the final roster. He returned to that team the following year and spent the entire 1986 campaign on injured reserve.

COLLEGE Henderson was a two-year starter at Nevada-Las Vegas and was an All-PCAA in his junior season. He began his college career at Allan Hancock JC in Santa Maria, Calif. He has a degree in social work.

PERSONAL: Wymon and his wife Felicia make their off-season home in Eden Prairie, Minn. He is a native of North Miami Beach, Fla., where he was an all-city running back and defensive back.

Ron Holmes had another solid year as Denver's starting right defensive end in 1991. He started 14 of 15 games played, sitting out the contest at New England (10/27) because of a sprained knee. In regular season play he registered 21 tackles, 23 assists, five sacks, and four passes defended, and had five total tackles in the post-season. Holmes had five tackles and two sacks in the week two loss to the Raiders (9/8). In three seasons as a Bronco he has posted 17 sacks. Holmes started at right defensive end in 10 of 14 games played in 1990 and closed out the year with 27 tackles, 13 assists, three sacks, a forced fumble, and six passes defended. He did not sign with the Broncos until two days prior to the season opener against the Raiders (9/9), but played in the game and had a sack. Holmes had a tremendous season with Denver in 1989, leading the Bronco defensive line corps with a career-high nine quarterback sacks. He started eight regular season games and all three post-season contests, becoming the regular starting right defensive end in week 12. In addition to the sacks Holmes posted 32 first hits, 16 assists, four passes defended, and two forced fumbles. Holmes was traded by Tampa Bay to Denver on Sept. 5 and he joined the active roster prior to the week two game at Buffalo. He was the Buccaneer's first round draft choice in 1985, and was the eighth player taken overall. Holmes started in 14 games as a rookie and netted four and-a-half sacks and 77 tackles, and started in 13 games the following year. He played in 10 games, starting eight, in 1987 and led Tampa Bay's defense with eight sacks. Holmes led the team again in sacks with four in 1988, despite missing six games. He was on injured reserve for the final five weeks of the season with a knee injury.

COLLEGE: Holmes was a consensus All-American as a senior at the University of Washington. He was named All-Pac 10 in each of his final two seasons there, and was selected the Husky Player of the Year as a senior. Holmes closed out his college career with 279 tackles, six fumbles caused, five fumble recoveries, 48 tackles for losses, and 27 sacks. He majored in psychology.

PERSONAL: Ron and his wife Michelle have a son, Jeffrey (9/17/90), and the family makes its home in Denver. A native of Seattle, Wash., he attended Timberline HS in Lacey, Wash., and was an outstanding student-athlete. He lettered three times each in football and basketball and was offered major college scholarships in both sports. He was all-league in football as a junior and honorable mention as a senior despite playing in only three games. Holmes was named to the all-state basketball team as a senior.

Mike Horan punted 72 times last year for a 41.8 average, which ranked eighth in the AFC, with 24 punts inside the 20 and just eight touchbacks. His net average of 36.7 was fourth best in the conference and sixth in the NFL. He had one punt blocked at Houston (10/6), and ran nine yards for a first down in the season finale at San Diego (12/22). Horan has a career average of 42.1 on 520 punts. An extremely accurate punter, he has placed 142 kicks inside of the 20, a percentage of 273 and has a +98 career inside the 20/touchbacks differential. Horan, who holds the first and third best single game averages in team history, punted five times for a 55.0 average at New England (10/27), the fourth best effort. He had a punt of 71 yards in that game, his longest regular season punt as a Bronco. In post-season play punted eight times for a 40.4 average, with four punts inside of the 20. At Buffalo in the AFC Championship Game (1/12) tied an NFL post-season record, and set the AFC title game mark, with a 76-yard punt. Horan led the NFL in 1991 with a career-high punting average of 44.4 yards and a net average of 38.9 yards. He earned All-NFL (College and Pro Football Newsweekly) and All-AFC (Football News, UP1 - 2nd team) honors for his efforts. Horan punted 58 times and displayed his accuracy with 14 punts inside of the 20 and only six touchbacks. He had a gross average of 45 yards or better in seven games, with a high of 55.8 on five punts vs. San Diego (12/16) and had a net average of 40 yards or better in eight games. His average against the Chargers stands as the third best mark in team history, and he also holds the top single game average of 57.2 against the Raiders (9/26/88). Horan was named second-team All-NFL (College and Pro Football Newsweekly) following the 1989 season. He punted 77 times for a 40.4 average, a figure ranked sixth in the AFC, and had a net average of 34.3, 24 punts inside of the 20, five touchbacks, and a long kick of 63 yards. Horan had the lowest percentage of punts returned (.364) in the NFL, and demonstrated his punting accuracy over the final 11 weeks of the regular season when he placed 18 punts inside of the 20 and had just two touchbacks. He averaged 47.0 yards on five punts vs. Philadelphia (10/29), 46.7 yards on six punts against the Raiders (9/24), and in the AFC Championship Game vs. Cleveland (1/14) he punted five times for an average of 46.4 yards, with a long punt of 61 yards. He earned his first NFL Pro Bowl berth in 1988 after leading the league with a net punting average of 37.8. He was also honored as All-NFL (AP, PFWA, The Sporting News, College and Pro Football Newsweekly, Sports Illustrated, World Almanac second team) and All AFC (UPI, Football News). Horan's overall punting average of 44.0 ranked third in the NFL, and he placed 19 kicks inside the opponents 20-yard line, with only two touchbacks in 1988 set a team record with a 57.2- yard average vs. the Raiders (9/26), a game in which he had punts of 70, 67, and 56 yards. Also, Horan had six of his 11 highest single game averages as a Bronco that season. In 1987 Horan was fourth in the AFC and eighth in the NFL with a 41.1 average on 44 punts. One fourth of his punts that season landed inside of the 20 (11/44), while posting just five touchbacks. Horan had his best regular season game vs. Kansas City (12/19), averaging 51.5 yards on four punts, with a long of 61 yards. He joined the club as a free agent in the 13th week of the 1986 campaign and average 41.1 yards over the final four games of the season. Horan had an excellent 1986 post-season, punting 13 times for a 43.9 average, with four punts inside the 20 and just one touchback in three post-season contests. Against New England in the divisional playoff game (1/4/87), Horan punted five times for a 49.0 average, including three kicks inside of the 20. He punted for the Philadelphia Eagles in 1984-85, showing two-year totals of 183 punts for a 41.8-yard average, with 42 punts inside the 20. He was named first-team All-NFC and first team All-Rookie (Pro Football Weekly) in 1984. Originally a ninth round draft choice of the Atlanta Falcons in 1982, Horan had tryouts with Green Bay and Buffalo in 1983 before joining the Eagles. He was on the Minnesota Vikings roster for one game in the 1986 season but did not play.

COLLEGE: Horan was a two-year letterman at Long Beach State after transferring from Fullerton College. He was named first-team All-Pacific Coast Athletic Conference and honorable mention All-America as a senior. Horan was ranked sixth in the nation in punting that season with a school record 44.7 average.

PERSONAL: Mike and his wife Kim have two daughters, Meghan (9/8/85) and Shawna (3/24/89), and a son, Michael William II (12/4/90).

Mike and Kim, both native Southern Californians, now make their home year-round in Littleton, Colo. In 1988, Mike and Kim began a fundraising effort called "Punts With A Purpose," designed to raise money for the Volunteers of America Emergency Shelter in Denver. Pledges were solicited for every punt that Mike placed inside the opponent's 20 yard line. With the close of the VOA shelter, "Punts With A Purpose" will now raise money to support Project Home Again, which seeks to reach out to homeless families and help them become self-sufficient. Mike has a degree in mechanical engineering and has worked in the off-season for Hughes Aircraft Company helping design manned and unmanned radar and sonar equipment. Born in Orange, Calif., he attended Sunny Hills HS in Fullerton, Calif., lettering in both football and baseball. Mike's hobbies include carpentry, fishing, hunting, golfing, and skiing.

No. 80 MARK ANTHONY JACKSON

Wide Receiver

Birthdate - July 23, 1963

Birthplace - Chicago, Ill.

Residence - Aurora, Colo.

How Acquired - Draft #6b, 1986

College - Purdue

High School - Terre Haute South HS.

Terre Haute, Ind.

Height - 5-10

Weight - 180

Pro Year - 7th

Year with Broncos - 7th

Mark Jackson had a good year in 1991 despite spending the final four weeks of the regular season on injured reserve with a dislocated wrist. He finished third on the team with 33 receptions for 603 yards and one TD, and also rushed twice for 18 yards. Jackson tied his personal single game best of seven receptions at Houston (10/6), and his mark of 111 yards in that game was the high for the team last season. He combined with John Elway on one of Denver's biggest plays of the season, against Kansas City (10/20). On a fourth-and-13 play from the Bronco 13, Jackson caught an Elway bomb on the KC 49 and raced to the Chiefs' 16, a gain a 71 yards that set up the winning field goal. The pass play was Denver's longest in 1991 and the longest regular season play of Jackson's career. He was leading the Broncos in receiving before being injured in Denver's loss at Seattle (11/24). After five weeks out of the line up, he returned to play in the AFC Championship Game at Buffalo (1/12), catching a four-yard pass. Jackson is eighth in team history in both receptions (228) and yards (4,001), and his average per catch of 17.55 is third. He has 12 career receptions of 50 yards or more, including two post-season plays. Jackson led Denver in receiving in 1990 for the first time in his career, while setting new career highs in receptions and yardage. He tied for 12th in the AFC with 57 catches and was eighth in the conference with 926 yards. In addition to producing four of Denver's top six reception yardage games in 1990, Jackson tied his career single game reception high of seven in two games, vs. Seattle (9/23) and in Los Angeles against the Raiders (9/9). Seventy percent of his catches (40 of 57) picked up a Denver first down that year. He caught a 66-yard pass at Indianapolis (10/12), which was the Broncos' longest pass play. Jackson also rushed five times for 28 yards and scored on a 16-yard run vs. Kansas City (9/17). In 1989 Jackson finished second on the team with 28 catches for 446 yards and two touchdowns. His top performances of the regular season came at Seattle (10/22), with three receptions for 74 yards. Jackson had seven receptions for 136 yards in post-season play. He had five catches for 111 yards against Pittsburgh in the divisional playoff game (1/7), including one catch for 51 yards. He had a tremendous season in 1988, with 46 receptions for 852 yards and six touchdowns. He suffered a broken collarbone in the second week of the season vs. San Diego (9/11) and spent the next four weeks on injured reserve. He went on to play in all remaining games and closed out the season with several dynamic performances. At New Orleans (11/20) he tied a career reception high with five, and then topped that the following week vs. the L.A. Rams (11/27) when he caught six passes for 140 yards and two scores, all new career highs. He had seven receptions for 145 yards the next week in Los Angeles against the Raiders (12/4), and the following week had seven receptions for 137 yards and one TD at Seattle (12/11). Over the last five weeks of the season Jackson caught 30 passes for 540 yards and three TDs. He had the top three high-yardage games among Bronco receivers that season and was on the receiving end of eight of Denver's 13 longest pass plays. He had a good season in 1987, his first campaign as a full-time starter. He was Denver's leading receiver in the post-season, with eight receptions for 210 yards and a 26.8 average. Jackson was named Denver's offensive most valuable player for his performance in the AFC Championship Game vs. Cleveland (1/17), catching four passes for 134 yards, including an 80-yard touchdown reception. He was also the team's leading receiver in Super Bowl XXII with four receptions for 76 yards. Jackson closed out regular season play with 26 receptions for 436 yards and two touchdowns, and set a personal regular season high yardage mark at Seattle (12/13) with 85 yards on three catches. He had a superb season in 1986, breaking Vance Johnson's records for reception yardage by a Bronco rookie with a team-high 738 yards on 38 receptions. His average of 19.4 yards per catch led all AFC rookies with 30 or more receptions, and ranked fifth among all 57 AFC receivers who had 30 or more catches. Jackson was on the receiving end of the Broncos' five longest pass plays in 1986, with one of 53 yards, two for 51 yards, and one each of 50 and 47 yards. He was one of only two Broncos to record a catch in all 16 regular season games and led all Denver receivers in the last eight contests with 21 receptions for 418 yards. Jackson gained 76 yards on five catches in the post-season, including three for 51 yards in Super Bowl XXI (1/25). Jackson had two key receptions in Denver's 98-yard drive vs. Cleveland in the AFC Championship Game (1/11). He snared a 20-yard pass as the Broncos faced a third-and-18 with just under two minutes left, and caught a five-yard touchdown pass from John Elway to bring Denver within an extra point with 37 seconds left in regulation.

COLLEGE: Jackson was named honorable mention All Big Ten (AP and UPI) as a senior at Purdue, catching 47 Jim Everett aeriels for 732 yards and five touchdowns that season. He closed out his college career with 51 catches for 810 yards and six scores and with an appearance in the Peach Bowl.

PERSONAL: Mark and his wife Ronni have a son, Kyle (3/17/89), and the family makes its home in the Denver suburb of Aurora. Jackson in 1990 was awarded the first Bob Martin Memorial Award, as voted by members of the Denver media who cover the Broncos. The award, named for the Broncos' longtime play-by play announcer, honors a player's outstanding cooperation with the media. Born in Chicago, Ill., he graduated from Terre Haute South HS in Terre Haute, Ind. where he lettered three times in football, twice in track, and once in tennis. A public relations major at Purdue, Jackson's hobbies include tennis, photography, collecting pins, bowling, and "any challenging games."

Vance Johnson rebounded from a slow start last season to lead the team in receptions over the final month of the campaign. He closed out the regular season with 21 catches for 208 yards and three touchdowns, and ranked seventh in the AFC with a 7.3 average on 24 punt returns. After suffering a preseason knee injury, Johnson spent the first four weeks of the season on injured reserve and was on the Broncos' inactive list for games six and seven. Although he had just four receptions through the first 11 weeks of the year, Johnson had 16 in the final four regular season contests. He was the Broncos' postseason reception leader as well, catching 10 passes for 178 yards and a score in two games, while also returning three punts for 36 yards. Against Houston in the Divisional Playoff Game (1/4), he caught five passes for 78 yards, and two of those receptions were pivotal to the outcome of the game. Johnson was on the receiving end of a 10-yard pass from John Elway for the Broncos' first points of the day. Denver's winning field goal was set up by a pass from Elway to Johnson that gained 44 yards on a fourth-and-10 play from the Bronco 35. In the AFC Championship Game at Buffalo (1/12), Johnson caught seven passes for 100 yards to lead all receivers in the contest. He is fourth in team history with 343 receptions, 10 behind Steve Watson, and is fifth with 4,714 reception yards. Johnson has caught more touchdown passes (29) from Elway than any other receiver. In 1990 he finished second on the team with 54 receptions for 747 yards and three touchdowns, and also returned 11 punts for an 8.4 average and six kickoffs for 126 yards. Johnson tied his single game high with nine receptions vs. Seattle (9/23), the Broncos' top mark in 1990. He also led the team with a 150-yard performance vs. Kansas City, (9/17), a game in which he caught a fourth-down, 49-yard pass from John Elway that helped set up the game-winning field goal. Johnson had an outstanding season in 1989, as he became the first Bronco to catch more than 70 passes since Lionel Taylor in 1965. Johnson set career highs with 76 catches for 1,095 yards and seven touchdowns. His reception total tied for fourth in the AFC and ninth in the NFL, while his yardage total ranked ninth in the conference and 12th in the league. He accounted for six of Denver's top eight receiving days in 1989 and had five or more receptions in eight games, with nine against both Philadelphia (10/29) and Phoenix (12/16). Johnson was on the receiving end of six of the team's 15 longest pass plays, including receptions of 68 and 69 yards. He had six receptions for a career-high 154 yards and two TDs against Seattle (11/26), all coming in the first half. That game marked his third 100-yard effort of the season and his first two-TD game ever. He caught nine passes for 148 yards and a score vs. Philadelphia (10/29) and five for 145 yards and a score at Cleveland (10/1). Johnson was Denver's primary punt return in the last half of the 1989 season and closed out the campaign with 12 returns for a team-high 9.8 average. Johnson led all Denver receivers in the postseason, with 12 catches for 197 yards and a score, and he returned seven punts for a 7.6 average. Against Pittsburgh in the divisional playoff game (1/7) he had three receptions for 85 yards and a TD and caught seven passes for 91 yards in the AFC Championship Game vs. Cleveland (1/14). In Super Bowl XXIV (1/28) he caught two passes for 21 yards. Johnson led the team in 1988 with 68 catches (6th AFC, T15th-NFL), the eighth highest single season total in Bronco history, and gained 896 yards (9th-AFC, 20th-NFL). In the game against the Raiders (9/26), Johnson combined with Elway for an 86-yard pass play, tying the Bronco record for longest non-scoring completion. Johnson was the only Bronco that season to record a catch in every game, and he gained 50 or more yards on receptions in nine of 16 games. He had an outstanding 1987 campaign despite missing most of two regular season games with a dislocated shoulder, suffered early in the Dec. 6 contest vs. New England. He led the team with 684 yards on 42 catches and scored seven touchdowns to tie for the team lead. Johnson gained over 80 yards on receptions in six games, including a 115-yard per-performance against the Los Angeles Raiders (11/22), and tied a team record by scoring a TD by reception in six straight games. In the divisional playoff game vs. Houston (1/10), Johnson caught four passes for 105 yards before being sidelined with a groin injury. The injury kept him out of the AFC Championship Game but he returned to action in Super Bowl XXII. He turned in a tremendous performance in the 1986 post-season, completing his comeback from an early season knee injury. After a dazzling exhibition in the final preseason game vs. the Los Angeles Rams, in which he caught 11 passes for 195 yards and a score, he injured a knee in the season opener, had arthroscopic surgery, and spent four weeks on injured reserve. He finished the regular season with 31 receptions for 363 yards and two touchdowns, rushed five times for 15 yards, and returned three punts and two kickoffs. Johnson led the team in the 1986 post-season with 12 catches for 235 yards and two TDs. In the divisional playoff game vs. New England (1/4) he caught four passes for 89 yards and scored on a 48-yard pass from John Elway. After a three-catch performance in the AFC Championship Game at Cleveland (1/11) he led all receivers in Super Bowl XXI with five receptions for 121 yards, including a 47-yard TD pass from Elway. He had a fine season in 1985 as he made the conversion from running back to wide receiver and set new Bronco rookie records for receptions (51) and reception yardage (721 yards). He led the team in punt and kickoff returns as well, and his 1,757 all-purpose yards were tops among all NFL rookies. His receiving totals placed second on the team, although Johnson did not become a full-time starter until week 10. He registered Denver's high-yardage mark that year with 116 yards on six catches vs. Kansas City (12/14), and he recorded three of the top six yardage marks for the team, including 96 yards at Atlanta (9/22) and 92 yards vs. San Francisco (11/11). Johnson scored three touchdowns, with the longest being a 63-yard catch and run against the Falcons. Denver's first pick in the second round of that year's draft, Johnson ran a 4.36 40-yard dash in rookie camp.

COLLEGE: Vance was the University of Arizona's key player at tailback in his four years with the Wildcats, finishing fourth in school history in all-purpose yards (3,442), fifth in scoring (168 pts.), and sixth in receptions (78). He closed out his college career with appearances in the Senior Bowl and the East-West Shrine game, where he caught seven passes and threw a touchdown pass. As a junior, Vance led the PAC-10 in touchdowns with 13, 10 of them rushing. He was a 1982 All-PAC 10 selection and led the team that season in rushing (433 yards) and kickoff returns (27.2 avg.). Vance set several Arizona freshman records and was named to Blue Chip Magazine's second-team All-American freshman squad. A great track athlete as well, Vance won the 1982 NCAA long jump championship with a 26'-11½" effort, and in addition captured the 1984 PAC-10 long jump title, finishing second in the NCAA that year. He was an alternate in the long jump on the 1984 Olympic team, missing the team by one inch. He was chosen to compete with the American Olympic team in the spring of 1985 in Monaco, France, but decided to pass up the opportunity because of his football career. He majored in commercial art.

PERSONAL: Vance and his wife Holly have a daughter, Paris Vannoi (3/12/92), and Vance has two sons, Vaughn (10/21/87), and Vincent (4/18/89). The Johnsons reside in Littleton. An accomplished artist, Vance had seven showings of his work at Denver's Gallery One during the 1987 offseason. He specializes in acrylic fine arts, with particular interest in women's faces and sports vignettes. A native of Trenton, N.J., Vance was raised in Tucson and lettered twice in football and four times in track at Cholla HS. He scored 22 touchdowns as a senior and had a 9.1 yard rushing average while gaining 1,382 yards. He set school records in the long jump, high jump, 100 and 220-yard dashes, and was Arizona's long jump champion in 1980. He was an all-state football selection in 1980.

No. 72 KEITH LEONARD KARTZ

Tackle/Guard

Birthdate – May 5, 1965
Birthplace – Las Vegas, Nev.
Residence – Aurora, Colo.
How Acquired – FA, 1987
College – California
High School – San Diequito, HS, Encinitas, Calif.
Height – 6-4
Weight – 270
Pro Year – 6th
Year with Broncos – 6th

Keith started every regular season game last year and his current streak of 49 consecutive starts is the third longest on the team. He saw limited action in the Broncos' two postseason contests because of a thigh strain, taking the field only to snap on field goals and extra point attempts. Now entering his sixth season with the Broncos, Kartz has started 63 of 73 regular season games played. He is considered by Denver coaches to be one of the NFL's top centers, and in 1990 was named the Broncos' Most Inspirational Player by his teammates. He was also honored as Denver's nominee for the Ed Block Memorial Award For Courage. Kartz started every game at center in 1989 for Denver, his first season ever at that position. His play was impressive enough to garner alternate status for the Pro Bowl. He started 12 games at the right guard position for Denver in 1988 but was hampered late in the season by a dislocated right toe. He began the season as a reserve but moved into a starting role in week two after Stefan Humphries was injured. Kartz started the next 11 games before injuring his toe at New Orleans (11/20). He sat out the following three contests but returned to start in the season finale vs. New England (12/17). Kartz joined the Broncos as a free agent in 1987 and was placed on injured reserve with a back injury in early September. He rejoined the active squad before the Oct. 4 contest vs. Houston and started all three replacement games. Kartz went on to play in all but one of the remaining regular and postseason games. He turned in a fine performance in Super Bowl XXII (1/31) after Dave Studdard left the game with an injury. Kartz attended Seattle's training camp in 1986.

COLLEGE: Kartz was all-conference and All-West Coast as a tackle at the University of California. He played for the Golden Bears in 1981-85, redshirting in 1983. Kartz has a bachelor's degree in social science.

PERSONAL: Keith is single and resides in Aurora, Colo. In Encinitas, Calif., he attended San Diequito HS and lettered three times each in football and track, and twice in basketball. He was born in Las Vegas, Nev.

No. 88 CLARENCE HUBERT KAY

Tight End

Birthdate – July 30, 1961
Birthplace – Seneca, S.C.
Residence – Seneca, S.C.
How Acquired – Draft #7, 1984
College – Georgia
High School – Seneca HS,
 Seneca, S.C.
Height – 6-2
Weight – 237
Pro Year – 9th
Year with Broncos – 9th

Clarence Kay started every regular season game for Denver in 1991 despite being hampered by an arthritic condition in his knees. He had 11 receptions for 139 last year, including a 32-yard catch vs. Pittsburgh (11/3) that was the second longest of his eight-year career, and had an eight-yard catch against Houston in the Divisional Playoff Game (1/4). Heading into 1992 Kay is 13th in team history with 186 receptions and 12th with 2,080 reception yards, and he has started 113 of 119 regular season games. He tied for third on the team in 1990 with 29 receptions, gaining 282 yards. Kay had only six receptions through the first eight games, but rebounded with 23 in the last half of the season. He had five games with three or more receptions, with a high of five at Seattle (12/23), and his high yardage mark, 48 yards, for the season came vs. the Raiders (12/2). Kay started every game in the 1989 regular season and caught 21 passes for 197 yards and two scores. He had his top day of the campaign at Phoenix (12/16), with four catches for 64 yards, including a 20-yard touchdown reception. Kay set personal highs in 1988 with 34 receptions and four touchdowns despite missing two games with a bruised spinal cord, an injury he suffered in the season opener vs. Seattle (9/4). He had 352 yards receiving, the second highest total of his career. Kay was named Denver's offensive player of the game three times in 1988 for his efforts at San Diego (five receptions for 41 yards, 10/2), the following week at San Francisco (four for 44, 10/9), and in Los Angeles against the Raiders (five for 43 and two TDs, 12/4). He also had two TD catches at Pittsburgh (10/23), a game in which he had his high yardage mark of 1988 with 56 yards on four receptions. Kay had a tremendous season in 1987, closing out regular season play with 31 catches for a career-high 440 yards. He was named Denver's offensive MVP for his performance at Minnesota (10/26), catching four passes for 63 yards, and was Denver's overall MVP vs. Kansas City (12/19), setting new personal highs with six catches for 91 yards. In the divisional playoff game vs. Houston (1/10) Kay caught three passes for 57 yards and two touchdowns, and he finished post-season play with five receptions for 95 yards. In 1986 he caught 15 passes for 195 yards and a touchdown, and also had two receptions for 23 yards in the AFC Championship Game at Cleveland (1/11). He had the longest reception of his career at Pittsburgh in a Monday night game (9/15), going for 34 yards. Kay started the first 10 games of the season, but was suspended for the week 11 contest. He started the following two games, played but did not start in week 14, and was on the Reserve/Non-Football Illness list for the final two regular season contests and the divisional playoff game vs. New England. Kay showed tremendous improvement as a receiver in 1985, leading Bronco tight ends with 29 receptions for 339 yards. Kay, who is considered by Denver coaches to be one of the best blocking tight ends in the NFL, came to Denver as a seventh-round draft choice in 1984. He caught 16 passes for 136 yards and three touchdowns that year, earning All-Rookie honors from Pro Football Weekly and the Pro Football Writers of America.

COLLEGE: Clarence earned second team All-Southeastern Conference honors as a senior at Georgia, concluding his college career in the Cotton Bowl. He was a member of the Bulldog teams that played in the 1982 and 1983 Sugar Bowls. Clarence's career totals show 51 receptions for 740 yards and six touchdowns. He majored in arts and sciences.

PERSONAL: Clarence is single and resides in his native Seneca, S.C., where he was a superior athlete at Seneca HS. He earned 12 prep letters in football, basketball, and track, recording a personal high of 6'-8" in the high jump. Clarence was an Adidas football All-American in 1979.

How Acquired – Plan B, 1991
High School – Dunedin HS,
 Dunedin, Fla.
Height – 6-3
Weight – 285
Pro Year – 8th
Year with Broncos – 2nd

Crawford Ker started at left guard in each of the final 10 regular season games. He was put on injured reserve during the preseason with a calf injury and was activated prior to the week five contest. Ker joined the Broncos as a Plan B free agent in 1991 from Dallas, where he was the Cowboys' starting right guard from 1986-89 and the starting left guard in 1990. Ker was drafted in the third round by Dallas in 1985, but played in only five games as a rookie due to a back injury. He was installed as a starter the following season but did not miss a game until 1990 when he failed to play in two games because of an injury. An extremely strong, mobile athlete, Ker was recognized as a team leader in Dallas.

COLLEGE: As a senior at the University of Florida, Ker was named second-team All-Southeastern Conference and honorable mention All-America. He began his college career as a walk-on at Western Arizona JC, and was later honored as a JC All-American.

PERSONAL: Crawford is single and makes his home in Dunedin, Fla. He was born in Philadelphia, Pa., but was raised in Florida, where he was an all-conference football player at Dunedin (Fla.) HS. His parents, Anne and George Ker, are natives of Scotland who moved to the United States in 1956, and his father once served as a royal guard at Buckingham Palace. Crawford loves animals and lives with Atlas, his attack-trained Rottweiler.

Year with Broncos – 8th

Greg Kragen had another outstanding year as Denver's starting nose tackle, and earned All-NFL (Sports Illustrated) and All-AFC (UPI) honors, as well as the Broncos' Bob Martin Award, which is voted on by the local media. He had 61 tackles, 31 assists, and a career-high 3.5 sacks during the 1991 season. Kragen had an excellent game vs. Kansas City (10/20) in which he registered eight tackles, four assists, and a seven-yard sack. In the postseason he had nine tackles, one assist, and two passes defended. He also had an interception in the AFC Championship game at Buffalo. In 1990, he led all of Denver's defensive linemen with 46 tackles and 35 assists, while also tallying two sacks, three forced fumbles, two fumble recoveries, and five passes defended. Kragen had a fine game at Buffalo (9/30) with nine tackles and two forced fumbles and at Kansas City (12/9) he totaled six tackles, four assists, and a fumble recovery that set up a Bronco touchdown. Kragen had a tremendous season in 1989 and was rewarded with his first Pro Bowl appearance. He started 14 regular season games and all three postseason contests at nose tackle, sitting out weeks five and six with a sprained knee. Kragen closed out the season with 43 tackles, 29 assists, a team high four fumble recoveries, two sacks, and two passes defended. He was named AFC Defensive Player of the Week for his performance at Kansas City (11/12), a game in which he had six tackles, a sack, and a 17-yard fumble return for Denver's only touchdown. Kragen was named the team's defensive player of the game five times in 1988, including three times in a four week stretch. In Los Angeles against the Raiders (12/4) he was in on 13 tackles and had two sacks and at San Francisco (10/9) he had 10 first hits and five assists, and set up the Broncos' game-tying touchdown with a fumble recovery late in the fourth quarter. Kragen's season totals show a team-high 101 first hits, 39 assists, two and one-half sacks, four passes defended, and a fumble recovery. He began the 1987 campaign as a back up at nose tackle but returned to a starting role before the Oct. 26 game at Minnesota and started all but one of the remaining games. He was named defensive MVP for his performance against the Raiders (11/22), in which he tallied five first hits, four assists, and an eight-yard sack, and he had a 14-tackle game two weeks later vs. New England (12/6). Kragen closed out the regular season with 48 first hits, high among defensive linemen, 30 assists, two sacks, and a fumble recovery. His postseason totals show 11 first hits, nine assists, and four quarterback harassments, earning defensive MVP honors for his performance vs. Cleveland in the AFC Championship Game (1/17). Kragen moved into the starting nose tackle spot in the third week of the 1986 season and started every game thereafter, including both playoff games and Super Bowl XXI. He finished the regular season with 60 total tackles and a team-leading three fumble recoveries. Kragen played as Rubin Carter's back-up at nose tackle and on special teams in 1985, recording two sacks that year, including one in his first game as a professional at the Los Angeles Rams (9/8). He joined the Broncos as a free agent in 1985 after being one of the club's last training camp cuts in 1984.

COLLEGE: Greg earned several honors at Utah State, where he played from 1980-83. He was a first-team All-Pacific Coast Conference player in his senior year as well as an honorable mention AP All-American and second-team All-West Coast performer.

PERSONAL: Greg and his wife Cindy have a daughter, Jordan Marie (1/8/90), and a son, Kyle William (2/1/92), and the family makes its home in Danville, Calif. A native of Chicago, Ill., Greg earned three prep letters in basketball and two in football at Amador HS in Pleasanton, Calif. He majored in political science at Utah State.

No. 76 KENNETH WAYNE (Ken) LANIER

Tackle

Birthdate – July 8, 1959
Birthplace – Columbus, Ohio
Residence – Aurora, Colo.
How Acquired – Draft #5, 1981
College – Florida State
High School – Marion Franklin HS,
 Columbus, Ohio
Height – 6-3
Weight – 290
Pro Year – 12th
Year with Broncos – 12th

Ken Lanier leads all active Broncos in games played (157), eighth most in team history, and games started (149), seventh most in team history. He also leads the team in consecutive games played (152), a streak that began in the 13th week of the 1981 season, and consecutive games started (115), having started every Bronco game since week nine of 1984. Lanier is also the team leader in postseason starts (13). He is noted as one of the team's most durable players and regarded by Bronco coaches as a consistent, dependable player with a professional attitude both on and off the field. He joined the club as a fifth-round draft choice in 1981 and saw action in eight games that season, starting one. He was named a fulltime starter at right tackle in 1982 and has held the position ever since.

COLLEGE: Ken was known as the "Ironman" of Florida State's team because of his string of 46 consecutive games started during his four-year Seminole career. He was named to several All-America teams during his junior and senior seasons. In addition to his football career at FSU, Lanier performed weight duty for the Seminole track team and holds the school record in the shot put with a heave of 60'2". He was the Metro Conference champion in that event in his junior and senior years. Ken closed out his college football career with an appearance in the Senior Bowl, and graduated from Florida State with an industrial arts degree.

No. 21 LE-LO LANG

Cornerback

Birthdate – January 23, 1967
Birthplace – Los Angeles, Calif.
Residence – Aurora, Colo.
How Acquired – Draft #5b, 1990
College – Washington
High School – Jordan HS,
 Los Angeles, Calif.
Height – 5-11
Weight – 185
Pro Year – 3rd
Year with Broncos – 3rd

Le-Lo Lang is expected to challenge for increased playing time at the cornerback position in 1992. He had five tackles, six assists, four passes defended, and an interception as a member of Denver's secondary in 1991. He had three passes defended against Seattle (9/15), knocking down a pass in the end zone on Seattle's next-to-last play and gained his interception on the last defensive stand of the regular season at San Diego (12/22). Lang also had three tackles, two assists, and a knockdown block on special teams. In 1990, he spent the first 10 weeks of the season on Denver's non-football injury list with a broken foot he suffered while weight lifting prior to training camp. Lang's six-game totals show six tackles, two assists, three passes defended, a fumble recovery, a forced fumble, and an interception. He had four tackles, an assist, and a knockdown block as a member of Denver's special teams unit. Lang was the Broncos' second pick in the fifth round of the 1990 draft.

COLLEGE: Lang earned honorable mention All-Pac 10 and All America honors as a senior at the University of Washington. He had an outstanding career with the Huskies, originally joining the squad as a quarterback. Among Lang's seven collegiate interceptions was one returned for 87 yards and a score in his final year, the third longest such return in school history. He majored in society and justice at Washington.

PERSONAL: Le-Lo (pronounced LEE-lo) is single and makes his home in Aurora, Colo. A native of Los Angeles, Calif., he was a stand-out athlete at Jordan HS there. Tim Lucas began the 1991 campaign as a starter at outside linebacker, but suffered a broken left leg on the first play of the week three game vs. Seattle (9/15), and spent most of the remaining regular season on injured reserve. He returned to the active roster to play in games 15 and 16 and in both postseason contests. Lucas had eight tackles, seven assists, and a pass defended in regular season play at linebacker. He started in the final five games of the 1990 campaign, his first starts since 1987, and posted 16 tackles, 16 assists, a sack, a forced fumble, and a fumble recovery. He also had five total tackles as a member of the Broncos' special teams unit. Lucas spent the first five weeks of the season on injured reserve with a foot injury suffered in the preseason. He forced and recovered a fumble vs. Pittsburgh (10/14) in his first game back, and in his first game as a starter, against the Raiders (12/2), Lucas tallied eight tackles and a sack. He played primarily on special teams in 1989 and was one of that unit's leaders with 13 tackles and eight assists. Lucas turned in a key play at Washington (11/20), when he tackled the Redskins' Monte Coleman for a loss on a fake punt attempt. In play as a linebacker, Lucas had five tackles, an assist, two sacks, and a pass defended. He played in every game in 1988, seeing the majority of his playing time on special teams. He had seven tackles and five knockdown blocks on that unit and was named Denver's special team MVP for his performance at Pittsburgh (10/23). He registered one tackle last season as a linebacker. Lucas played in 11 games and started three in 1987 with the Broncos. After signing with Denver on Sept. 24 that year, he started all three replacement games at outside linebacker. Lucas was named the Broncos' most valuable player of the game vs. the Raiders (10/12) after posting seven first hits, an assist, a five-yard quarterback sack, an interception, and a forced fumble. He was on the inactive list for weeks six through eight and played primarily on special teams for the remainder of the campaign. Lucas closed out the season with 11 first hits, four assists, and two sacks. Prior to coming to Denver, Lucas played with the USFL's Oakland franchise from 1983-85. He was drafted by the St. Louis Cardinals in the 10th round of the 1983 college draft.

COLLEGE: Lucas was a member of the Pac-10 All-American team as a senior at the University of California. He played for the Golden Bears in 1979-82 and won the school's scholar award. Lucas graduated with a degree in economics.

PERSONAL: Tim and his wife Robin make their off season home in Aurora, Colo. Born in Stockton, Calif. he graduated from Rio Vista (Calif.) HS and was named all-league in football, baseball, basketball, and track. As a running back he ranked second in Northern California in rushing. Tim lists golf as his hobby.

No. 77 KARL BERNARD MECKLENBURG

Linebacker/ Defensive End

Birthdate - September 1, 1960
Birthplace - Edina, Minn.
Residence - Littleton, Colo.
How Acquired - Draft #12, 1983
College - Minnesota
High School - Edina West HS, Edina, Minn.
Height - 6-3
Weight - 235
Pro Year - 10th
Year with Broncos - 10th

Karl Mecklenburg earned his fifth career Pro Bowl berth and All-AFC honors (UPI) for another fine season in 1991. He started every game from his customary inside linebacker position and finished third on the team in both sacks (nine) and total tackles (130). Last year was Mecklenburg's fourth-straight and fifth overall to post over 100 total tackles, and he is now fourth in team history with 61.5 quarterback sacks. In regular season play last season he had 73 tackles, 57 assists, three passes defended, and a forced fumble. He had six sacks in the final four weeks of the year, including a two-sack performances vs. New England (12/1) and Phoenix (12/15). Mecklenburg turned in a big play in the season opener vs. Cincinnati (9/1), sacking Boomer Esiason and forcing a fumble to take the momentum out of the Bengals' comeback drive. The following week he had 19 total tackles and a sack against the Raiders (9/8). In Denver's two postseason games last year he recorded 12 tackles and four assists. Mecklenburg played most of the 1990 season opposite Simon Fletcher at outside linebacker, but moved back to his customary inside position late in the season. One of only five Bronco defenders to start in each game that year, Mecklenburg ranked third with 116 total tackles, and had five quarterback sacks. Mecklenburg scored a touchdown vs. Seattle (9/23) on a fumble return, returned another for 22 yards against the Chiefs (9/17), registered his first career safety against Green Bay (12/30) in the season finale, and blocked a PAT attempt vs. Cleveland (10/1). He earned his fourth Pro Bowl berth in five years in 1989, but was unable to play in the game because of a knee injury sustained in Super Bowl XXIV. He was also named first-team All-Pro (AP), first team All-AFC, and the AFC Defensive Player of the Month for November. Under Denver's new defensive system, Mecklenburg was allowed to concentrate on his inside linebacker position, and he finished the regular season as the Broncos' leader in total tackles with 143, (83 first hits and 60 assists). Mecklenburg also recorded 7.5 sacks, and had four fumble recoveries, three passes defended, and two forced fumbles. He had 10 or more total tackles in nine games, including a high of 15 vs. San Diego (10/8), and returned a fumble for 23 yards and his first touchdown as a pro at Phoenix (12/16). Mecklenburg started 15 games that year, missing the season opener because of a knee injury. He started the first three games of the 1988 season but fractured his right thumb on the last play of the contest at Kansas City (9/18), a game in which he posted an astounding total 16 first hits and was named Denver's defensive and overall MVP. Mecklenburg did not suit up the following week and saw only limited action at San Diego (10/2), but returned to form over the next three weeks, posting 42 total tackles and a sack in that period. He reinjured the thumb at Pittsburgh (10/23) however, and spent the next six weeks on injured reserve. Mecklenburg returned to the active roster for the final two weeks of the season and closed out the season with two 12-tackle performances. His season totals show 78 first hits, 24 assists, and a pass defended. Additionally, he had one-and-a-half sacks. Mecklenburg earned his third straight starting berth in the NFL Pro Bowl in 1987 and was voted by teammates Denver's Most Valuable Defensive Player. He was further honored as All-NFL (NEA, AP 2nd-team) and All-AFC (UPI, Pro Football Weekly). Mecklenburg was named the Broncos' most valuable defensive player of the game four times in the 1987 campaign, and was selected as the AFC defensive player of the week following his performance vs. New England (12/6), netting two interceptions, six first hits, three assists, and two quarterback harassments. He closed out the season with totals of 81 first hits, 16 assists, three interceptions, two forced fumbles, and seven sacks, tying Ruon Jones for the team lead in sacks. Through the 1985-87 seasons Mecklenburg and Jones combined for 60 sacks. He had 19 total tackles in the postseason, including one-and-a-half sacks in Super Bowl XXII (1/31). Mecklenburg was named AFC Player of the Year by the Football News in 1986, in addition to being honored as All-NFL (AP, Sports Illustrated, NEA, Pro Football Writers of America, The Sporting News, Pro Football Weekly) and All-AFC (UPI, Pro Football Weekly, Football News). In 1986 he recorded 9.5 sacks, 83 first hits, and 127 total tackles, with all figures ranking second on the team. Mecklenburg also posted three passes defended, a forced fumble and a fumble recovery, and had two games with 2.5 sacks, at the Raiders (11/2), and vs. New England (9/28). Mecklenburg had 30 total tackles during the postseason, including a team-high 13 in Super Bowl XXI. Mecklenburg was one of the NFL's biggest success stories in 1985, and his superb play resulted in his being named a starter in the Pro Bowl, where he led the AFC with 11 tackles. He did not become a fulltime starter until the 10th week of the campaign but finished with a Bronco record 13 quarterback sacks, (broken by Rulon Jones in 1986). Mecklenburg had two team record four-sack games (vs. New Orleans on 9/15 and at Pittsburgh on 12/1), earning All-NFL (AP, Sports Illustrated, The Football News, Pro Football Writers of America, Newspaper Enterprise Association, and College and Pro Football Newsweekly-second team), and All-AFC (UPI) honors for his efforts. His great versatility enabled the coaching staff to move him around considerably in the Denver defense, and Mecklenburg played seven positions during a campaign in which he also led the team in forced fumbles (five) while posting 65 total tackles and defending four passes. He displayed his versatility in that Pittsburgh game, lining up at every defensive position except cornerback and safety. Mecklenburg in 1984 made an immediate impact in his conversion to linebacker from defensive end during a campaign that saw him record seven sacks, high among linebackers, and two interceptions for a club leading 105 yards. Mecklenburg was used largely on third down and passing down situations in 1984, but also saw some action as a defensive end. He played in all 16 games in 1983, posting action as a defensive end. He played in all 16 games in 1983, posting 24 tackles and two sacks after joining the Broncos as their 12th round draft pick.

COLLEGE: Karl earned second team All-Big Ten Honors (AP and UPI) as a senior at Minnesota. He started his college career at Augustana College (South Dakota), but transferred to Minnesota in 1980, sitting out that season as a redshirt.

PERSONAL: Karl and his wife Kathi have a son, Luke (1/31/85), and a daughter, Kelsey (3/12/90), and the family makes its home in the Denver suburb of Littleton. Karl is the Sport Chairman for a new national program with the United States Association for Blind Athletes called "SportMates". SportMates raises funds to provide training for blind and other disabled athletes for world competitions, which this year included the 1992 Winter Paralympics in Albertville, France and Summer Paralympics in Barcelona, Spain. From 1985 to 1989 Karl's "For Mercy's Sake, Sack 'Em" program raised $600,000 for Colorado's medically needy at Denver's Mercy Hospital. Karl's mother is the former Deputy Secretary of the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, and his father is a physician in the Washington, D.C. area. He was an all-conference selection, had also earned all-state honors at Edina West HS in his native Edina, Minn.

Karl has a degree in biology and is an accomplished guitarist who also likes to hunt and fish.

Jeff Mills played in 12 games last season and started three in place of Mike Croel. He spent weeks seven through 10 on injured reserve after hurting a knee in a bye-week practice. Mills totals for the regular season show 16 tackles, seven assists, three sacks, a pass defended, and a forced fumble, and he was a valuable member of the Broncos' special teams. In his first career start, vs. New England (12/1), Mills had a sack and forced a fumble, and the following week, at Cleveland (12/8), he netted two sacks. He was acquired by the Broncos in Dec. 1990 off of waivers from San Diego and played in the final two games of the year on special teams. He was the Chargers' third round draft choice and played in five of the first six games of the year with them. He was credited with one tackle on defense and two as a member of the special teams unit. Mills was placed on injured reserve on Oct. 27 with a hamstring injury and was in the process of being placed back on the active roster when the Broncos claimed him.

COLLEGE: Mills was named All-Big Eight and honorable mention All-America following his senior season at the University of Nebraska, a campaign in which he had 58 tackles, three sacks, and two fumble recoveries, and was twice named the Huskers' player of the game. As a junior he started every game and earned honorable mention all-conference honors. Mills majored in business administration.

PERSONAL: Jeff is single and makes his offseason home in South Orange, N.J. He attended Montclair (N.J.) HS in his hometown and lettered in football, track and basketball. He played both linebacker and tight end as a prepster, and was selected to the U.S. Army Reserve junior all-star team and all-state teams.

No. 11 STEVEN CARL (Steve) PELLUER

Quarterback

Birthdate – July 29, 1962
Birthplace – Yakima, Wash.
Residence – Blue Springs, Mo.
How Acquired – Plan B, 1992
College – Washington
High School – Interlake HS,
 Bellevue, Wash.
Height – 6-4
Weight – 209
Pro Year – 9th
Year with Broncos – 1st.

Steve Pelluer signed with Denver as a Plan B free agent in March. Now entering his ninth NFL season, he has completed 548 of 974 passes for 6,870 yards, with 28 touchdowns and 40 interceptions. Pelluer has also proven to be a mobile quarterback, gaining 858 yards on 142 attempts, an average of six yards per carry, and has scored six TDs on the ground. He was the Dallas Cowboys' fifth round draft choice in 1984 and saw limited playing time in his first two seasons. Pelluer started six of the Cowboys' final seven games in 1986, and ended that campaign with 2,727 yards passing, with eight TDs and 17 interceptions. He started four games in 1987, including season-ending wins over the Cardinals and Rams. Pelluer was Dallas's primary quarterback in 1988, starting 14 games and passing for a career-high 3,139 yards and 17 TDs. Against Philadelphia he set a career high with 342 yards, the fourth 300-yard game of his career. Pelluer was traded to Kansas City on Oct. 17, 1989, and started three of the five games in which he played. The following season he threw only five passes, completing two. In 1991 he left the Chiefs' training camp for personal reasons and was on the inactive list for all but the final regular season game.

COLLEGE: Pelluer was the Pac-10 Offensive Player of the Year in his senior season at the University of Washington. He set six Huskies' records in that campaign, including highest completion percentage (.672), and led the team in total offense with a mark of 4,365 yards. Pelluer closed out his college career with 436 completions on 755 attempts for 4,603 yards and 30 touchdowns.

PERSONAL: Steve is single and makes his offseason home in Blue Springs, Mo. Born in Yakima, Wash., he was captain of the football and basketball squads at Interlake HS in Bellevue, Wash., earning all-state honors at quarterback as a senior. Steve is involved in the Fellowship of Christian Athletes and Special Olympics, and has served on the board of the Doug Cosbie Youth and Family Growth Center. His grandfather (Carl Gustafson), father (Arnie), and brother (Scott) all played football at Washington State. Scott is now the linebacker's coach at Boise State and was drafted by Dallas in 1981, going on to play with New Orleans from 1981-85 and 1987. Another brother, Arnie, played football at Stanford. Steve has a degree in building construction from Washington.

No. 33 ROBERT LEWIS PERRYMAN, Jr.

Running Back

Birthdate – October 16, 1964
Birthplace – Raleigh, N.C.
Residence – Denver, Colo.
How Acquired – Plan B, 1991
College – Michigan
High School – Bourne HS,
 Bourne, Mass.
Height – 6-2
Weight – 233
Pro Year – 6th
Year with Broncos – 2nd

Robert Perryman is expected to be fully recovered from a knee injury suffered late in the 1991 regular season. He ruptured a tendon in his left knee in the game against Phoenix (12/15), and following surgery, spent the offseason rehabilitating the injury. Perryman's blocking was one of the keys to the success of Denver's running game last year. He rushed 21 times for 45 yards and was second among Bronco running backs with 17 receptions for 171 yards. Perryman joined Denver last year as a Plan B free agent from Dallas. He began the 1990 season with New England and played in eight games, starting seven, before being waived by the Patriots. He signed with Dallas and although he was a member of the Cowboys' active roster through the remainder of the season, he did not see action in a game. Perryman was the Patriots' third-round draft choice in 1987 and moved into the starting lineup in his second season. He had his best season, statistically, in 1989 with 562 rushing yards and 29 receptions for 195 yards.

COLLEGE: Perryman rushed for 1,048 yards and 11 touchdowns at the University of Michigan. As a senior he finished second on the team with 422 yards and six TDs and started the last three games of the season, including the Rose Bowl. In his sophomore season Perryman scored five touchdowns, including three in the season opener vs. Miami. He ran for 110 yards in that season's Holiday Bowl vs. BYU, and caught a 10-yard TD pass, which won the game and gave Michigan a national title. Perryman has a degree in Sports Management and Communications.

PERSONAL: Robert and his wife Sonya make their offseason home in Denver, and he has two sons, Jason and Robert III. Born in Raleigh, N.C., he lettered in football, basketball, and track at Bourne (Mass.) HS. He was the football team's MVP and Massachusetts Division 4 Player of the Year after rushing for 2,034 yards and 26 TDs as a senior. Robert rushed for 304 yards and five TDs and had 18 tackles in a game against rival Wareham and rushed for 190 yards in the Div. 4 championship game. The oldest of six children, his father is a teacher and coach in Atlanta, Ga., and his mother works in child development. His brothers Ron and Rorey both played football at Boston College. Roberts lists running, movies, tennis, golf, music, and traveling as his hobbies.

Warren Powers had a good season in 1991 as the Broncos starting left defensive end despite being slowed late in the campaign by a sprained ankle. In regular season play he posted 25 tackles, 17 assists, two sacks, two fumble recoveries, and two passes defended. Powers returned a fumble 22 yards for his first pro TD at Seattle (11/24), but sprained his right ankle on the play, and didn't play in the next two games. He didn't play in the Divisional Playoff Game against Houston (1/4) because of Denver's defensive alignment, but had four tackles and two assists in the AFC Championship Game (1/12). Powers started every game at the left defensive end position for Denver in 1990, taking over for the injured Alphonso Carreker. He finished second on the Broncos' defensive line with 77 total tackles, while also posting four sacks, two forced fumbles, and a pass defended. Powers had two sacks in the season opener against the Raiders (9/9) and his high single game tackle total of nine came at Buffalo (9/30), a game in which he also had a sack. He had a good rookie campaign and saw more action as the season progressed. Denver's second pick of the second round in 1989. Powers recorded seven tackles, 12 assists, three quarterback sacks, and a forced fumble. He had his first start as a professional in the regular season finale at San Diego (12/24).

COLLEGE: Powers was a three-year starter at the University of Maryland and earned first-team All-Atlantic Coast Conference honors and was an honorable mention All-America candidate as a senior. He closed out his college career with an appearance in the Blue-Gray all-star game.

PERSONAL: Warren is single and resides in Jarrettsville, Md., in the offseason. He attended Edmonson HS in his native Baltimore, Md., and was an all-Met defensive tackle and a member of the all MISA all-star team as a senior. Warren lettered three times each in football and basketball, guiding the football team to a pair of city titles. He had five sacks in the championship game as a junior. A criminal justice major at Maryland, Warren lists basketball and fishing as his hobbies.

College – Arkansas
High School – Central HS,
 Little Rock, Ark.
Height – 6-0
Weight – 179
Pro Year – 2nd
Year with Broncos – 2nd

Derek Russell emerged as a dependable receiver over the last half of the 1991 season. He did not have a catch in the first five weeks of the campaign, yet tied for fifth on the team with 21 receptions for 317 yards and a TD. Russell had three receptions in five games and his best performance came vs. Kansas City (10/20) when he had three catches for 69 yards and a score. He also averaged 17.1 yards on seven kickoff returns last year. Russell did not play in games three through five because of a groin pull, but was a member of Denver's starting lineup in each of the last five regular season games and in both postseason contests. He had a 20-yard catch in Denver's victory over Houston in the Divisional Playoff Game (1/4). Russell was taken by the Broncos with a fourth-round pick last year that was acquired as part of the Gaston Green-Gerald Perry trade with the Rams.

COLLEGE: Russell finished out his career at the University of Arkansas as the school's fifth all-time reception leader with 91, and his total of 1,874 yards ranks second in Razorback annals. He caught 43 passes for 897 yards as a senior and earned All-America and all-conference honors, closing out his career with an appearance in the Senior Bowl. Russell also earned second-team All-America notice as a junior.

PERSONAL: Derek and his wife Natasha have a son, Nicolis (8/21/89), and they make their offseason home in Englewood, Colo. A native of Little Rock, Ark., he attended Central HS there and was honored as All-America and all-state. He was also named the player of the year by the Arkansas Gazette and athlete of the year by the Arkansas Democrat. Derek was named All-America in track as well. College – California
High School – El Cerrito HS,
 El Cerrito, Calif.
Height – 6-6
Weight – 289
Pro Year – 10th
Year with Broncos – 2nd

Harvey Salem was acquired by Denver last year in an Oct. 7 trade with Detroit. He played in 10 regular season games and in both postseason contests with the Broncos last year, sharing time at left tackle with Jeff Davidson. Salem has played every offensive line position except center in his 10 seasons. He was originally a second-round choice of Houston in 1983 and earned All-Rookie honors that year as a 16-game starter. In three seasons with the Oilers Salem started 44 of 46 games played before being traded to the Lions in Sept. 1986. He started at both right and left guard for Detroit that season and the following year he saw time at both tackle positions. In 1989 Salem suffered a shoulder injury in training camp that hampered his play, and he eventually spent the last six games on injured reserve. The next season he started 13 of 15 games despite shoulder and ankle injuries.

COLLEGE: Salem was a two-time All-American and all-conference selection at the University of California-Berkeley. He earned All-Academic mention three times, with a GPA of 3.5 in psychology, was a on the Strength All-America team, and threw the shot put on the Cal track team.

PERSONAL: Harvey is single and makes his offseason home in his native Berkeley, Calif. He attended El Cerrito (Calif.) HS. In the 1989 offseason Harvey traveled to China with seven other NFLPA members to conduct football clinics, which occurred during the time of the student uprisings.

No. 30 STEVEN EDWARD (Steve) SEWELLRunning Back

Birthdate – April 2, 1963
Birthplace – San Francisco, Calif.
Residence – Aurora, Colo.
How Acquired – Draft #1, 1985
College – Oklahoma
High School – Riordan HS,
 San Francisco, Calif.
Height – 6-3
Weight – 210
Pro Year – 8th
Year with Broncos – 8th

Steve Sewell had perhaps his best season as a pro in 1991. He tied his career high and was second on the team with 38 receptions, rushed for 211 yards and two TDs, and completed a 24-yard pass to John Elway on opening day. Sewell gained 40 yards rushing against Phoenix (12/15), including an eight-yard TD run and a 19-yard scamper that set up the winning touchdown. He had a run of 26 yards vs. New England (12/1) that tied his longest ever. Sewell set a new career standard with 10 receptions at Houston (10/6), and set up a Denver field goal with a 60-yard reception at Cleveland (12/8). Sewell had eight rushing attempts for 51 yards in the postseason and also caught 10 passes for 106 yards. In the Divisional Playoff Game victory over Houston (1/4) he gained 48 yards on just four carries, including a 19-yard run, and caught three passes for 28 yards. Sewell was dynamic in the AFC Championship Game (1/12), catching seven passes for 78 yards. In seven seasons with the Broncos Sewell has rushed for 917 yards and two scores. He is 12th in team history with 187 receptions, 20 behind #10 Gerald Wilhite, and is 11th with 2,354 reception yards. He had a good season in 1990, although he spent four weeks on injured reserve after dislocating a shoulder while lifting weights. He closed out the season with 26 receptions for 268 yards and 17 carries for 46 yards and three touchdowns. He picked up a first down by reception 17 times that season. Sewell's best receiving day came vs. Seattle (9/23) when he had six catches for 53 yards, and in his best rushing performance of the year he rushed for 21 yards and a score on four carries at Indianapolis (10/21). In 1989 he led all NFL running backs for the second straight year in average per catch, with a mark of 16.6. He finished third on the team with 25 receptions, good for 416 yards and three scores, and he picked up a first down on 19 of his catches. Sewell rushed just seven times for 44 yards that year, but picked up three first downs on the ground. He had five catches for 84 yards at Kansas City (11/12), including a 30-yard reception off of a shovel pass that set up the winning field goal. He had three receptions for 72 yards vs. Pittsburgh (11/5), including one for 56 yards. Sewell caught five passes for 77 yards in postseason play, with three for 55 in the AFC Championship Game vs. Cleveland (1/14). He closed out the 1988 season fourth on the team in both rushing and receiving. He gained 135 yards on 32 rushing attempts, scoring once, and set career highs with 38 receptions for 507 yards and five TDs. Sewell was named Denver's offensive player of the game vs. Seattle (9/4) after catching five pass for 81 yards and rushing for 16 yards. He was named the Broncos' overall player of the game at Indianapolis (10/31) after posting six receptions for 82 yards and two scores, including a 48-yard TD reception, and rushing once for 25 yards. Sewell also had a 68-yard TD catch vs. Atlanta (10/16). He had a good season in 1987 despite sitting out the final five regular season games on injured reserve with a fractured jaw. For the season he rushed 19 times for 83 yards and two scores and caught 13 passes for 209 and a TD. Sewell caught a 72-yard touchdown pass in the season opener vs. Seattle (9/13) and the following week against Green Bay (9/20) scored on a two-yard run to send the game into overtime. He had his best game of the season vs. Chicago (11/16), tying his career high of five receptions for 78 yards and scoring the winning touchdown on a four-yard run. Sewell was injured the following week against the Raiders (11/22) and didn't return to the active roster until the playoffs. In postseason action he rushed seven times for seven yards, scoring a TD in the AFC Championship Game (1/17), and caught eight passes for 92 yards, including four for 41 yards in Super Bowl XXII (1/31). He also completed a 23-yard pass to John Elway in the game. In 1986 Sewell rebounded from a midseason injury to close the season on a high note for Denver. He threw a 23-yard touchdown pass to John Elway in the season opener against the Raiders (9/7), and when Vance Johnson was placed on injured reserve after that contest, Sewell played almost exclusively at wide receiver for the next five weeks. In week three at Philadelphia (9/21) he caught five passes for 87 yards, including one for 40 yards, all personal career highs. Sewell went down with a shoulder injury vs. San Diego (11/9) and spent the next five weeks on injured reserve. He returned to the active roster to play in the regular season finale at Seattle (12/20), and closed out the campaign with 23 carries for 123 yards and one score, and 23 receptions for 294 yards and a touchdown. He played in all three postseason contests, rushing six times for 13 yards and catching eight passes for 100 yards, including a key 22-yard pass from Elway that moved the team to midfield on the Broncos' 98-yard scoring drive in the AFC Championship Game at Cleveland (1/11). He had a fine debut as Denver's first-round draft choice in 1985, finishing third on the team in rushing despite not having an attempt until the seventh game of the year. He finished with 82 carries for 275 yards and four touchdowns, including two at Pittsburgh (12/1). Sewell had his best day at Kansas City (10/27), gaining 64 yards on 20 carries. He performed well coming out of the backfield as a receiver as well, snaring 24 passes for 224 yards and one score, a 54-yard pass from Gary Kubiak at San Diego (11/3). Sewell had his best day receiving in the season finale at Seattle (12/20), catching five passes for 62 yards. He also returned one kickoff for 29 yards that year. Bronco coaches are impressed with his overall athletic ability, great attitude, and dedication.

COLLEGE: Steve was the most versatile athlete on the Oklahoma squad, starting all but a few games in his four years there. He earned second-team All-Big Eight honors as a senior, rushing for 577 yards and gaining 315 yards on receptions, while scoring seven touchdowns. Steve's career statistics show 170 carries for 1,113 yards (a 6.5 average), 33 receptions for 550 yards, and 14 touchdowns. Sewell was voted the Don Key Award, the highest honor a Sooner player can receive. The award is given to the player who annually exhibits all the positive physical, mental, and academic traits of college football. He closed out his college football career with an appearance in the Orange Bowl. Steve also ran track as a sophomore and was selected Academic All-Big Eight in 1982.

PERSONAL: Steve has a son, Samuel (9/11/88), and lives in Aurora, Colo. A native of San Francisco, Steve graduated from that city's Riordan HS, where he was All-Bay Area and all-league in a senior season in which he rushed for 1,000 yards. He earned three prep letters in football as a two-way starter (running back and safety), and lettered three more times in track specializing in the long jump and relays. Steve is an avid movie buff and has a degree in communication.

Shannon Sharpe was converted from wide receiver to H-back last year and had a fine season, catching 22 passes for 322 yards and a touchdown and also gaining 15 yards on a reverse. He made half of his receptions in the final three weeks of the campaign, with 11 catches for 159 yards. Sharpe established new career highs at Cleveland (12/8) with four receptions for 59 yards, and had four catches the following week vs. Phoenix (12/15). On special teams he posted a team-high 12 tackles, with five assists and two knockdown blocks. Sharpe appeared in Denver's starting line-up nine times during the regular season. He closed out the postseason with six catches for 60 yards, with three for 20 against Houston (1/4) and three for 40 at Buffalo in the AFC Championship Game (1/12). Denver's seventh round draft choice in 1990, Sharpe saw more playing time as the season progressed and closed out the year with seven receptions for 99 yards and a score. He had his top receiving game at Kansas City (12/9) with three catches for 41 yards and his first professional touchdown. Sharpe was also one of the Broncos' top special teams performers, netting 16 total tackles, six knockdown blocks, and a forced fumble.

COLLEGE: Sharpe had a tremendous career at Savannah State College, where he was a three-time All-American, All-Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Conference, and all-state selection, as well as the three-time conference offensive player of the year. Sharpe closed out his college play with 192 receptions for 3,744 yards, a 19.5 average, and 91 touchdowns. He ended his career with appearances in the East-West Shrine and Blue-Gray all-star games. Sharpe set school records for most consecutive games with a reception (39), with a touchdown (14), and for most games with over 100 yards receiving (10). As a senior he caught 61 passes for 1,312 yards and 18 TDs, and had two games with more than 200 yards receiving and one game with four touchdown catches. Sharpe was a criminal justice major.

PERSONAL: Shannon is single and lives in Glennville, Ga., where he attended Glennville HS and was all-country, all-region, and all area in football. In addition to four letters in football, he lettered three times in basketball and four times in track, setting a Georgia state class A record in the triple jump (48-3) as a junior, and breaking that mark as a senior (49-5). He won the regional long jump title three straight years and the regional discus throwing title twice. Shannon was also a two-time all-area selection in basketball, and he scored over 1,000 points in three seasons. His brother Sterling was an All-American at South Carolina and has earned All-NFL status in both of his first two NFL seasons with the Green Bay Packers. Shannon has several cousins who played college football, and he lists his hobbies as fishing, basketball, and weight lifting.

No. 49 DENNIS SMITH

Safety

Birthdate - Feb. 3, 1959
Birthplace - Santa Monica, Calif.
Residence - Hollywood, Calif.
How Acquired - Draft #1, 1981
College - Southern California
High School - Santa Monica HS, Santa Monica, Calif.
Height - 6-3
Weight - 200
Pro Year - 12th
Year with Broncos - 12th

Dennis Smith had a tremendous season in 1991 and was rewarded with his third straight, and fifth career, Pro Bowl appearance and the Broncos' Most Valuable Defensive Player award. He played in every game for the first time since his rookie season and delivered a steady barrage of thundering hits on opponents throughout the campaign. Smith tied for the team lead with a career-high five interceptions and was fourth on the defense with 110 total tackles. In addition, he had 12 passes defended, a forced fumble, and a fumble recovery, and was third on the team in the postseason with 18 total tackles. Against the Patriots (12/1) Smith picked off two passes, recovered a fumble, and broke up three passes, and he was Denver's defensive player of the game vs. Seattle (9/15). The oldest player on the Bronco defense, Smith is sixth in team history with 23 interceptions. In 1990 he earned his fourth Pro Bowl berth and started all 15 games in which he played, sitting out the week three game vs. Seattle (9/23) with a sprained ankle. He finished fourth on the team with 110 total tackles and led the squad with eight passes defended. Smith also posted one interception, two fumble recoveries, and a forced fumble. He had a big part in Denver's victory over San Diego (12/16) that ended a six game losing streak when he racked up nine tackles and three assists, and broke up two passes. He earned his third Pro Bowl berth after a dynamic 1989 campaign. He was voted by teammates as Denver's defensive most valuable player and earned All-NFL (AP second team) and All-AFC (Pro Football Weekly, UPI-second team) honors, and was the AFC Defensive Player of the Month for October. He started all 14 regular season games in which he played, sitting out against the Raiders (12/3) with a groin injury and at Phoenix (12/16) with a pinched nerve in his neck. In regular season play he led the team with six forced fumbles and had 47 first hits, 35 assists, two interceptions, 11 passes defended, three fumble recoveries, and a blocked field goal. Smith set up a Denver score with one of two forced fumbles at Washington (11/20) and had a tremendous game at Seattle (10/22) with seven first hits, seven assists, an interception that set up the winning field goal, two passes defended, a forced fumble, and a fumble recovery. He started all three postseason games and had two interceptions in the AFC Championship Game vs. Cleveland (1/14). Smith started in 11 games in 1988 but spent four weeks on injured reserve with a hamstring injury. He was named Denver's defensive player of the game in the season opener vs. Seattle (9/4), when he posted 10 first hits and two assists. Smith earned overall player of the game honors in Los Angeles against the Raiders (12/4) after registering 10 total tackles and a fumble recovery. Smith's 1988 season totals show 83 first hits, 23 assists, one sack three passes defended, two forced fumbles, and two fumble recoveries. He had a difficult 1987 campaign, playing in just six games and spending seven weeks on injured reserve. He was named Denver's defensive MVP of the game for his performance in the season opener vs. Seattle (9/13) where he posted six first hits and an assist, returned an interception for 15 yards, and forced and recovered a fumble while playing with a cast on his hand to protect a broken finger suffered in the preseason. He had surgery on the finger following the next week's game against the Packers (9/20), in which he registered 10 total tackles and a fumble recovery. Smith posted his second interception of the season vs. Detroit (11/1) but sat out the next week with a sprained knee. He broke his right forearm early in the contest against the Raiders (11/22) and did not play again until the AFC Championship Game (1/17). Against Cleveland he had seven first hits and two assists, and followed that up with a 13-tackle performance in Super Bowl XXII (1/31). He earned his second straight Pro Bowl appearance in 1986, this time as a starter, and was named All-AFC (Pro Football Weekly) and honorable mention All-NFL (AP). He started every game in which he played, missing the games vs. New England (9/28) and at San Diego (10/12) with a groin pull. Smith led the team with 12 passes defended and posted 88 total tackles, including 66 first hits, two forced fumbles, one fumble recovery, a nine-yard sack, and an interception, that vs. Seattle (10/26). Smith broke a bone in his shoulder in the 1986 season opener vs. the Raiders (9/7) but turned in a solid performance in the next two games despite the injury. He did not play in the first playoff game but returned to start both the AFC Championship Game and Super Bowl XXI, finishing postseason play with 12 first hits and three assists. Smith made his first Pro Bowl appearance in 1985 and was named All-NFL (College and Pro Football Newsweekly) and All-AFC (UPI-2nd team) for his efforts, despite missing three games due to injuries. His three interceptions for the year all came against the Los Angeles Raiders (12/8), and he was second on the team with 17 passes defended. Smith had four quarterback sacks that year and he blocked two field goals vs. San Diego (11/17), the second of which came in overtime and was returned for a game-winning touchdown by Louis Wright. Smith was hampered early in the year by a sprained shoulder suffered in the season opener against the Los Angeles Rams (9/8), sitting out in weeks two and three. He also missed the game at San Diego (11/3) with a pulled thigh muscle. Smith had another fine season as Denver's starting strong safety in 1984, and was named All-NFL (Pro Football Weekly, College and Pro Football Newsweekly) and All-AFC (Pro Football Weekly, UPI-2nd team). Smith started all 15 games in which he played, sitting out the contest against Seattle (11/25) with a pinched nerve in his left shoulder, and he recorded three interceptions and nine passes defended to go along with his 92 tackles and three sacks. Smith turned in one of the biggest plays of that season against New England (11/4) when he scooped up a Mosi Tatupu fumble and raced 64 yards for the winning score with less than two minutes remaining, his first touchdown as a professional. In 1983 Smith recorded professional highs of four interceptions, 114 tackles, and five quarterback sacks despite missing two games with a knee sprain. Smith led all club defensive backs in tackles with 65 in 1982 and as a rookie accounted for three turnovers to go along with 45 tackles. Dennis started the last three games of the 1981 campaign at right cornerback, and Bronco coaches have utilized him occasionally as a wide receiver in obvious long passing situations because of his great jumping ability. He made his first pro interception at Chicago in 1981 and returned it 65 yards, the longest interception return by a Bronco in the past six years. He took over as Denver's strong safety in 1982 and started eight of the nine contests in that strike-shortened campaign. Bronco coaches feel that Smith has the ability to dominate at strong safety and are looking forward to an outstanding performance from him again in 1991.

COLLEGE: Dennis earned four letters in football and three more in track at Southern California, making several All-America teams following his senior season. His four-year totals included 205 tackles and 16 pass interceptions, including a team high of seven in 1978. Smith played in the Rose Bowl following the 1978 and 1979 seasons and in the Bluebonnet Bowl after the 1977 campaign. He demonstrated his athletic prowess as a seven-foot high jumper for the Trojan track team.

PERSONAL: Dennis and his wife, Andree, have two children, a daughter, Tiffany Diamond (1/26/84), and a son, Armani Joseph (6/1/87); and the family makes its home in Hollywood, Calif. Basketball and playing piano are Dennis' favorite hobbies. He works in the off-season with his own corporation with his father-in law (contractor), as a partnership. Smith lettered twice as a wide receiver and defensive back at Santa Monica HS, also earning three prep letters in track and one more in basketball.

Traylor was also used at the fullback position in several postseason goal-line situations. He started for an injured Brooks in weeks three and four and had nine total tackles vs. Seattle (9/15) and 10 the following week against San Diego (9/22).

COLLEGE: Traylor was one of the nation's most dominating inside linebackers in his college career. He earned All-American honors as a senior and played in the Blue-Gray and Senior Bowl all-star games. In his first season at Central State Traylor was named all-conference and third-team All-America. Traylor was a two-time all-conference selection at Coffeyville (Kan.) Community College and in 1988 was the most valuable player in the JUCO Championship Game. His two-year stats at Central State show 146 total tackles, two interceptions, two touchdowns, nine passes broken up, five sacks, and three blocked kicks. In four years of college football Traylor registered 375 tackles, (163 solo), 11 interceptions, four touchdowns, 19 sacks, 16 passes broken up, and five blocked kicks.

PERSONAL: Keith is single and makes his home in his native Malvern, Ark. At Malvern HS he was a two-time All-American, all-state, all-district, and all-conference selection and was rated as one of the 10 best prospects in the state. He was also all-state and all-conference in basketball. Keith has a son, Brandon, and was an industrial safety major at Central State. He likes to shoot pool and play basketball in his free time.

Year with Broncos – 4th

David Treadwell is the most accurate field goal kicker in Broncos' history with a percentage .767, and is now fourth in team annals in scoring with 341 points. In his three-year career he has been successful on 79 of 103 field goal attempts and has made 104 of 108 PATs. Treadwell scored over 100 points for a third straight season in 1991 and his total of 112 ranked third in the AFC and sixth in the NFL. He tied a Denver record with 27 field goals, equaling his 1989 mark and that of Gene Mingo in 1962, and his overall field goal percentage of .750 was sixth highest in the conference. He had four field goals against Kansas City (10/20), scoring most of the Broncos' points in a 19-16 victory and the next week accounted for all of Denver's scoring in a 9-6 win at New England (10/27). In the AFC Divisional Playoff Game vs. Houston (1/4) Treadwell kicked the winning field goal with 20 seconds left in the game. He also had a 49-yard field goal in the game, a new Bronco postseason record. He ranked third in the AFC and sixth in the NFL with 109 points in 1990. He was successful on 34 of 36 PAT attempts and on 25 of 34 field goal attempts. Treadwell kicked last-second, game-winning field goals in both weeks two and three, and kicked field goals of 49 yards against San Diego (12/16) and Seattle (12/23). Treadwell earned a Pro Bowl berth in 1989, his first professional season, after leading the AFC in scoring with 120 points, the third highest total in team history. He was also named All-AFC (UPI, Pro Football Weekly, Football News) and NFL All Rookie (Football News).

and was selected as Denver's special teams Most Valuable Player by his teammates. Treadwell converted a team record-tying 27 of 33 field goals and his .818 percentage led the conference and was second highest in the NFL, and he converted 39 of 40 extra point attempts, missing his final try of the regular season. His longest field goals of the year were of 46 yards, coming at Buffalo (9/18) and vs. San Diego (10/8). He was successful on his first 11 field goals of the season before missing a 54-yard effort against San Diego (10/8), and converted 25 of 26 field goals of 41 yards or less. Treadwell kicked four field goals at Buffalo and three in three other contests. He scored 10 or more points in seven games and had two game-winning field goals, including one in overtime at Seattle (10/22). In postseason play Treadwell scored 23 points, converting all eight extra point tries and five of six field goal attempts. He made three of four field goal attempts in the AFC Championship Game vs. Cleveland (1/14), missing a 54-yard attempt. Treadwell attended Denver's training camp in 1988 but did not make the final roster, and subsequently signed with Phoenix. He was obtained by the Broncos via trade on May 30, 1989.

COLLEGE: Treadwell was a first-team All-Atlantic Coast Conference selection and a consensus first-team All-American as a senior at Clemson University. Additionally, he earned Academic All-ACC and All-America honors as an electrical engineering major. Treadwell closed out his college career with an appearance in the Hula Bowl.

PERSONAL: David and his wife Kimberly make their home in Denver. Born in Columbia, S.C., he lettered three times and was an all-city selection in soccer at the Bolles School in Jacksonville, Fla. David did not play football in high school. He is involved with a Make A Wish Foundation program called "Kicks For Kids." He will be attending Denver University's School of Law in the fall. A junior executive with Dow Chemical Co. in the 1990 offseason, David enjoys music, cars, golf, and cycling.

Birthplace - Crane, Tex.

Residence - Englewood, Colo.

How Acquired - Draft #8, 1991

College - Nebraska

High School - Crane HS, Crane, Tex.

Height - 6-3

Weight - 260

Pro Year - 2nd

Year with Broncos - 2nd

Kenny Walker had a fine season in 1991 after joining the Broncos as an eighth-round draft choice, and was named Denver's Most Inspirational Player by his teammates. He played in every game and started in place of Ron Holmes at New England (10/27). Walker closed out his rookie campaign with 16 tackles, 15 assists, and two passes defended, and he forced fumbles on two of his three sacks. He impressed Denver coaches with his overall strength and play against the run. Walker is only the second deaf person to play in the NFL, following Bonnie Sloan, who was with St. Louis in 1973.

COLLEGE: Walker was a consensus All-American and All-Big Eight selection as a senior at the University of Nebraska, and also earned the conference's Defensive Player of the Year award. A member of the conference's all-academic team, Walker was nominated for the Outland Trophy. Walker closed out his Husker career with 91 tackles, (50 solo), 28 tackles for losses, 16 sacks, and six passes broken up.

PERSONAL: Kenny and his wife Marti make their home in Englewood, Colo. A native of Crane, Tex., he lived in Denver for 11 years and began his prep career at Denver South HS. He moved back to Texas and was an all-state selection at Crane HS, where he was also all-state in basketball and lettered in track in the long jump and 200-meter dash. Kenny was named MVP in the Midwest Athletic Association for the Deaf basketball tournament in the winter of 1991. He started at center for the Midwest team that finished third in the AAAD tournament played in March 1989. Kenny earned academic honors at Nebraska with a 3.10 GPA as an art major.

College – Boston College
High School – South Catholic HS, Hartford, Ct.
Height – 6-4
Weight – 287
Pro Year – 4th
Year with Broncos – 4th

Dave Widell had a good year for Denver in 1991, and his versatility proved valuable in the postseason. He started two games at left guard, including the season opener against Cincinnati (9/1), and filled in at center for Keith Kartz against Houston and Buffalo in the playoffs. Widell also serves as the Broncos' long snapper. He was acquired in a trade with Dallas, (8/24/90), where he had played since joining the Cowboys as a fourth-round draft choice in 1988. He played in every game in 1990 and started at left guard in the final five weeks of the campaign, while also serving as the Broncos' punt snapper. In two seasons with Dallas, Widell started 11 times, eight times at left tackle and three times at right tackle. He started in the season opener of his rookie year, becoming the first Cowboy rookie to start the first game of the season since Burton Lawless in 1974.

COLLEGE: Widell was a three-year starter at Boston College and was named All-East Coast and honorable mention All-America as a senior, joining his brother Doug in the Eagles' starting lineup. A versatile athlete, he backed up left tackle in his freshman year, shared the center position his sophomore season, and handled the long-snapping duties for three and a half years.

PERSONAL: Dave and his wife Shawn make their offseason home in the Denver suburb of Aurora. A native of Hartford, Ct., Dave was an all-state tight end and nose tackle there at South Catholic HS. He has a degree in finance.

BROTHER COMBINATIONS

Dave and Doug Widell are just the sixth brother combination in NFL history to play together at the same time, for the same team, at the same position (the offensive line, in this case). There have been 144 brother combinations that have played in the NFL at one time or another, but only five previous sets have played together as the Widells are now doing.

Doug Widell started every game in 1991 and has now started 42 consecutive regular season games, the fifth longest active streak on the team. Now going into his fourth season with the Broncos, he has not missed a game as a pro. He was one of only four offensive players to start every game for Denver in 1990. He had an outstanding rookie season with Denver in 1989 and was named to the NFL All Rookie team by College and Pro Football Newsweekly. He played in every game and moved into the starting lineup at right guard prior to the week seven game at Seattle (10/22). Widell started every game thereafter including the AFC Championship Game vs. Cleveland and in Super Bowl XXIV. In addition, he led Denver's special teams in the regular season with 10 knock-down blocks. The Broncos' first pick in the second round in 1989, Widell impressed Denver coaches with his toughness and ability to make adjustments on the field.

COLLEGE: Widell started in his final two seasons at Boston College and earned All-East (Associated Press) and honorable mention All-America (Associated Press, Football News) honors as a senior. After combining with Joe Wolf to form the premier blocking tandem in the Northeast, he concluded his college career with appearances in the Blue-Gray, East-West, and Senior Bowl all-star games. Widell saw limited action in 1986, but started every game at right guard the following year. He was switched to right tackle in 1988, filling the void created by the departure of his brother. Widell was second on the depth chart at right guard in 1985 and was a redshirt freshman in 1984. He graduated with a degree in marketing.

PERSONAL: Doug is single and makes his offseason home in Wethersfield, Ct. He graduated from South Catholic HS in his native Hartford, Ct., and was an outstanding two-way tackle, earning all state and all-conference honors as well as two letters. Doug enjoys playing golf in his spare time.

No. 83 MICHAEL DAVID YOUNG

Wide Receiver

Birthdate – February 21, 1962

Birthplace – Hanford, Calif.

Residence – Golden, Colo.

How Acquired – Plan B, 1989

College – UCLA

High School – Whitney HS.

Visalia, Calif.

Height – 6-1

Weight – 183

Pro Year – 8th

Year with Broncos – 4th

Michael Young led Denver in receiving last year and set career highs with 44 receptions for 629 yards, scoring twice. The only Bronco to have a catch in every game, he caught a career-high seven passes against the Seahawks (9/15) for 63 yards. In the season opener vs. Cincinnati (9/1) Young had four receptions for 84 yards, including a touchdown of 52 that stands as the longest regular season catch of his career. He had seven receptions for 110 yards in the postseason, including a four-catch, 85-yard performance against Houston in the Divisional Playoff Game. Young had a key play in that game, hauling in a John Elway pass on fourth-and-four and taking off for a 26-yard gain. That play set up a touchdown that brought Denver within one point at 24-23 midway through the fourth quarter. Young also had a 32-yard reception in the third quarter that set up a Denver field goal. In 1990 he had a career-high 28 receptions for 385 yards and four touchdowns, also a personal single-season best. Although he had just three catches through the first eight weeks of the season, he snagged 25 over the last half of the campaign. Young tied his single game best of six catches, against the Raiders (12/2), and had his first two-TD game ever, vs. San Diego (12/16), helping Denver snap a six-game losing streak in his first start with the team. In 1990 Young had 22 receptions for 402 yards, and led the team with an average per catch of 18.3 yards. Young set personal single game highs at Seattle (10/22), with six receptions for 137 yards, including catches of 43 and 47 yards. In postseason play he caught four passes for 145 yards, with a stellar performance in the AFC Championship Game vs. Cleveland (1/14). In that contest he combined with John Elway for a 70-yard touchdown play to give Denver an early 10-0 lead, and later set up another Bronco TD with a 53 yard reception. Young joined the Broncos under the terms of the NFL's Plan B free agency system. He was drafted in the sixth round in 1985 by the Los Angeles Rams. Young played in nine games in 1988 and had two catches for 27 yards before being placed on injured reserve with a back injury. His best season statistically with the Rams was in 1986 when he had 15 receptions for 181 yards and three TDs.

COLLEGE: Young closed out his career at UCLA with 55 receptions for 910 yards and eight TDs, and was named second-team All-PAC 10 as a senior. As a senior he was named first-team academic Pac-10 and caught 31 passes for 431 yards and four TDs. Young turned in a fine performance in UCLA's 1984 Rose Bowl win over Illinois, with five receptions for 129 yards, including a 53-yard TD catch. Young also played baseball in college and was drafted by the New York Mets after hitting .311 during his junior year. He had a string of 26 consecutive stolen bases, as well. He majored in sociology.

PERSONAL: Michael and his wife Jill have a daughter, Christine (2/3/88), and the family makes its home in Golden, Colo. A native of Hanford, Calif., Young attended Whitney HS in Visalia, Calif., where he was a high school All-American in football and baseball. As a senior he caught 63 passes and scored 12 TDs. He was on the same team as Don Mosebar (L.A. Raiders) and Lupe Sanchez (Pittsburgh).

JON BOSTICK WR

6-0, 190 DOB: Oct. 4, 1969

Nebraska

Draft Choice #7c

Jon Bostick earned a reputation as a big-play receiver at Nebraska, with his 15 career touchdown receptions the most ever by a Cornhusker split end. Only the eighth pass receiver in Nebraska annals to gain over 1,000 yards receiving, Bostick is tied for sixth in school history. His final career stats show 55 receptions for 1,083 yards, a 19.7 average, and 15 touchdowns. In 1991 Bostick was honorable mention All-American and an all-Big Eight first team selection (Football News, Poor Man's Guide to NFL Draft), finishing with 24 catches for 419 yards (a 17.5 average) and five TDs. Bostick was on the academic all-Big Eight team as well. He had four receptions for 51 yards vs. Colorado State and vs. Washington earned offensive player of the game honors after grabbing four passes for 63 yards, including a 42-yard score. Against Colorado Bostick had two catches for 59 yards, including a 49-yard TD that gave the Huskers a 19-19 tie. In 1990 he was named all-Big Eight honorable mention, leading the team with 19 receptions for 375 yards (a 19.7 average) and four TDs. He only had one game without a reception and also returned seven punts for a 14.3 average. Scheduled to redshirt in 1989, his performance with the scout team led to his activation after the third game of the campaign. Bostick finished the 1989 season third on the club with 12 catches for 289 yards (a 24.1 average) and six TDs. That 24.1 average was the second best in Nebraska history. Bostick's first collegiate catch was a 60-yard touchdown reception vs. Oregon State, and later that year he was named Big Eight Player of the Week after coming up with five receptions for 99 yards, including two TDs, against Oklahoma State. In 1988 he started for the Huskers' freshman team and had 10 catches for 298 yards (a 29.8 average) and six scores. A native of El Dorado, Kansas, Bostick prepped at Interlake HS in Bellevue, Washington, where he was an all-state selection who earned Washington Player of the Year honors from the Seattle Post-Intelligencer as a senior. He scored 20 TDs in his senior year, including four each in three different games. He lettered twice each in football and basketball and three times in track. John has a degree in speech communications from Nebraska.

SHANE DRONETT DE
6-5, 275 DOB: Jan. 12, 1971
Draft Choice #2

Shane Dronett (pronounced "DRO-nett") was a first team All-American and a two-time all-Southwest Athletic Conference choice during his sterling career at Texas, where he forged a reputation as a tough, aggressive tackler who excelled in shutting down the outside running game. In 1991 Dronett was named All-American first team (Walter Camp), earning second team honors from Football News and third team from Associated Press. A consensus all-SWC choice, Dronett finished with 72 tackles (44 solo), nine passes broken up, had 25 quarterback pressures, blocked four kicks, and caused four fumbles. He blocked two field goals vs. Auburn and had two sacks, blocked a kick, and forced a fumble against Southern Methodist. In the season final vs. Texas A & M Dronett had 10 tackles, a sack, three pressures, and knocked down a pass. In 1990 he was an All-American third team choice (Associated Press, Poor Man's Guide to the NFL Draft) and was a unanimous all-SWC selection. He started all year at left defensive end and led one of the nation's premier front walls, allowing just 139.7 rushing yards per game. Dronett finished 1990 with 73 tackles (46 solo), 10 sacks, eight stops behind the line, and 21 quarterback pressures. He also caused one fumble, recovered two others, and blocked two kicks. He had a great game against Oklahoma in a 14-13 Texas win, posting a season-high 17 tackles (10 solo), one sack, blocking one field goal and forcing the kicker to shank another. He played in every game and made a real impact as a true freshman in 1989, starting five contests at left defensive end. Dronett had 36 tackles (20 solo) and three sacks, including three stops behind the line, six quarterback pressures, and one pass broken up. He also caused two fumbles as a freshman. A native of Orange, Texas, Dronett was a second team Class 4A all-state selection as a tight end, earning third team honors on the Texas Sportswriters' Super All-State squad as a senior at Bridge City (Orange, Tex.) HS. He was rated the best tight end prospect in the state and the 13th best prospect overall by the Austin American-Statesman, closing out his high school career with an appearance in a Texas all-star game in which he played against Bronco first round draftee Tommy Maddox. Shane was a pre-business major at Texas.

Texas

RON GEATER DE
6-5, 272 DOB: April 23, 1969
Draft Choice #7A

Ron Geater (pronounced "GATE-ir") was a dominating force on an Iowa team that led the Big Ten in total defense and quarterback sacks in 1991. His career stats show 135 tackles (73 solo and 62 assists), 18 tackles for losses, and 11 quarterback sacks for the Hawkeyes. Geater started 10 games at tackle last year and earned all-Big Ten honors. He was named the Sports Illustrated Defensive Player of the Week for his efforts at Purdue, which included six solo and three assisted tackles, as well as a school-record four sacks. He also caused and recovered a fumble against the Boilermakers. Geater finished fourth in the Big Ten in tackles for loss (15 for 85 yards) and fifth in sacks (nine for 64). He had 84 total tackles last year (48 solo), blocked one field goal attempt and broke up four passes. Geater had 18 tackles, including 12 solo, vs. Michigan. He also had 11 tackles vs. Indiana and 10 each against Illinois and Ohio State. As a junior Geater played in 10 games and finished with 26 tackles, including three for losses. He posted two quarterback sacks at Purdue. Geater played in just three games during an injury-plagued sophomore season, but as a freshman he played in 10 games and recorded 23 tackles. He was redshirted in 1987. A native of Marion, Iowa, he was a USA Today honorable mention All-American, Super Prep all-midwest, first team all-state, unanimous all-league, and team captain at Marion HS. A versatile athlete, Ron also was a two-time league wrestling champion in high school. He was a communications major at Iowa.

JOHN EDWARD GRANBY, JR. WR
6-1, 200 DOB: Nov. 11, 1968
Draft Choice #12

Virginia Tech

John Granby was a four-year starter and an all-Big East selection at Virginia Tech, where he had 12 career interceptions for the Hokies to rank fourth in school history. Known as a physical player, Granby in 1991 was all-Big East for a campaign in which he returned from an injury to post four interceptions and 32 tackles (31 solo), closing out his college career with an appearance in the Senior Bowl. In 1990 he opened his fourth season as a starter at left cornerback, but fractured his jaw vs. Maryland, missed the rest of the year, and was granted a medical hardship. As indicated, he successfully returned to the starting lineup last year. In 1990 Granby earned Iron Hokie status for his efforts in the Virginia Tech weight room. He had 29 tackles (23 solo), with three interceptions for 53 yards. Granby started throughout the 1988 season and finished with 41 tackles (27 solo), with four interceptions for 27 yards in returns. He moved into the starting lineup at left cornerback as a true freshman in 1987, despite never having played defense in high school. Granby made 26 tackles and had his first pass interception, returning that theft five yards against East Carolina. A native of Virginia Beach, Virginia, Granby was the third all-time leading rusher in Beach District history, despite playing quarterback at Kellam (Virginia Beach) HS. He also played tailback in high school. The first sophomore in district history to rush for 1,000 yards, he had a career prep total of nearly 3,000 yards rushing, and was a three-time all-district choice in addition to being a two-time all-Tidewater and all-region pick. Granby lettered three times each in football and basketball, and once in track, closing out his prep gridiron career with an appearance in the Virginia all-star game. John graduated from Virginia Tech in May with a degree in liberal arts and enjoys bowling and listening to music.

CHARLES RAY (Chuck) JOHNSON G/T
6-3, 280 DOB: May 22, 1969
Draft Choice #4

Texas

Chuck Johnson played both guard and tackle in his five years at Texas, earning all-Southwest Athletic Conference honors and concluding his career with an appearance in the Senior Bowl game. He also was a four-year track letterman at Texas, specializing in the discus. Johnson was bothered by an assortment of injuries in 1991, but still started at left tackle in four games for the Longhorns. In 1990 Johnson was an all-SWC second team choice (named by Associated Press as well as by several Houston area newspapers), starting 10 games as well as the Cotton Bowl, all at left tackle. Johnson was a reserve tackle in 1989, seeing action with the second unit in the Longhorns' first three games on the left side and on the right side in the last eight contests. He appeared in five games as a reserve tackle in 1988 and was redshirted as a freshman in 1987. A native of Freeport, Texas, Johnson prepped at Brazosport HS in Freeport, where he lettered twice in football, four times in track, and three times in basketball. Chuck is a graduate of Texas with a degree in government and pre-law, and he lists weightlifting, dancing, and music ("deep notes") as his hobbies.

6-5, 301 DOB: June 20, 1968
Draft Choice #7b

Jim Johnson was one of the most powerful players on the Michigan State offensive line in his five year career with the Spartans. Johnson was an all-Big Ten Conference second team choice in 1991 (The Poor Man's Guide to the NFL Draft), starting all season at right tackle. A strong and mobile player known for his aggressive nature, Johnson in 1990 was all-Big Ten first team (Associated Press), starting all year at right tackle and paving the way for a running game that led the conference and averaged 253.9 yards per game. Johnson moved into the Spartans' starting lineup at right tackle in 1990, playing more minutes that year (323) than any other offensive lineman. He was a reserve player in 1988 and redshirted during the 1987 campaign. A native of Grand Rapids, Michigan, Johnson was all-state and all-conference as an offensive tackle at Lowell HS in Alto, Mich., where he was named as team captain in both football and wrestling. He finished second in the class B state wrestling championship in 1986. Jim was a criminal justice major at Michigan.

DIETRICH LAMOND LOCKRIDGE T/G
6-3, 325 DOB: May 9, 1968

Dietrich Lockridge earned All-American and all-Southwestern Athletic Conference honors for a career in which he was one of the nation's most physical drive blockers, as well as showing great agility and flexibility for a player of his size. In 1991 Lockridge was a division I-AA All-American and all-SWAC for a dominating performance as an anchor of the Jackson State offensive line. In 1990 he was an All-American second-team selection and again was all-SWAC first team, starting all season at left guard as the Tigers averaged 437 yards of total offense per game. A sophomore All-American by The NFL Draft Report in 1989, Lockridge started all year at left guard as the Tigers averaged 429 yards per game and finished 11th nationally in total offense. Lockridge stepped into the starting lineup in 1988 and was one of the key factors in Jackson State producing 2,133 rushing yards. He did not play during the 1987 campaign. A native of Tupelo, Mississippi, Lockridge was all-state and all-conference at Tupelo HS, where he played both offense and defense and lettered twice each in football and track, closing out his prep career with an appearance in the Mississippi High School all-star game. Dietrich is a cousin of Otis Womsley and likes to play basketball during the offseason. He goes by the nickname of "Truck," and was a criminal justice major at Jackson State.

THOMAS ALFRED (Tommy) MADDOX
6-4, 200, DOB: Sept. 2, 1971
Draft Choice #1

QB

UCLA

Tommy Maddox was the 1991 first team sophomore All-American (in his third year at UCLA) in leading the Bruins to a 9-3 record and a victory in the John Hancock Bowl. In the Bruins' 12 games Maddox completed 209 of 343 passes (.609 percent) for 2,681 yards and 16 touchdowns. He ranked second in Pac-10 total offense (224.7 yards) and was fourth in the conference in passing efficiency (135.0), throwing for at least 200 yards eight times, including four straight at one point, going over 250 four times. In addition, he raised his completion percentage from .557 as a freshman to .609 as a sophomore. Selected first team all-Pac 10 (Football News), a Football News "Almost All-American" and a UPI All-American honorable mention, he was the first player in Pac-10 history to have passed for at least 5,000 yards by the end of his sophomore year. His 2,681 yards rank fourth on the UCLA single-season list, just one yard behind his 1990 total. Last year vs. Arizona Maddox tied a school record with five TD passes, and his four 300-yard games tie the school record (Tom Ramsey and Troy Aikman). Maddox's 300-yard totals are 409 (vs. USC, first in UCLA history), 353 (third), 332, and 303. He is the only quarterback in UCLA's storied tradition to pass for at least 350 yards twice in a career, and is the only player to pass 330 three times. In 23 collegiate games (21 starts), Maddox completed 391 of 670 passes (.584) for 5,363 yards and 33 TDs, averaging 233.2 yards per outing during his career. In addition, he compiled 5,482 yards of total offense. Maddox passed for at least two TDs in 11 of his 23 games, and had a string of 12 straight games with at least one TD pass. The only player in UCLA history to pass for over 2,500 yards twice, and he was just the fourth player in Pac-10 history to crack the 2,500-yard barrier more than once (John Elway did it three times at Stanford). Fourteen of his 33 career scoring passes measured at least 29 yards. As a redshirt freshman in 1990 he ranked eighth nationally—first among freshmen—in total offense (257.3) despite starting just nine of 11 games. Maddox also led the Pac-10 in total offense and ranked second in passing efficiency (133.1). He earned first team Freshman All-American honors (Football News) and was honorable mention All-American (UPI) and all-Pac 10. On the season Maddox passed for 2,682 yards, highest freshman total in Pac-10 history, and his per game average was 243.8, second best in UCLA history. He completed 182 of 327 passes for a .557 percentage as a freshman, and showed excellent mobility in scrambling for 368 yards. Maddox had a 53-yard run, the second longest by a Bruin, and his 17 TD passes included three games with three TD strikes. Nine of those scoring passes measured at least 30 yards. In the 1990 season finale vs. USC Maddox set UCLA single-game records for passing yards (409) and total offense (445), the latter total ranking eighth (tied) in Pac-10 history and highest ever for a freshman. Maddox comes into this season as the last quarterback to have defeated the University of Washington (at Seattle on Nov. 10, 1990), completing 23 of 41 passes for 239 yards and two TDs despite swirling winds and rain. He accounted for at least 350 yards of total offense twice—his school record 445 vs. USC and 356 against Oregon. At his best in big games, Maddox in 1990 faced six bowl-bound teams and in those contests completed 126 or 228 passes (.553) for 1,822 yards (303.7 average) and 13 TDs. He also led the league in passing yards per attempt (8.20) and yards per completion (14.74). In his first career start, at Michigan, he completed 26 passes (of 47) for 353 yards, at that time the second highest figure in Bruin annals. He made his varsity debut in the third quarter vs. Oklahoma with an eight-yard completion. Maddox was selected offensive winner of the John F. Boncheff, Jr., Memorial Trophy for Rookie of the Year. He did not see action with the varsity in 1989. A native of Shreveport, Louisiana, Maddox was first team all-state, all-county, all-metro, and All-American (by Parade and Super Prep magazines) at L.D. Bell HS in Hurst, Texas, where he was rated the top quarterback prospect in the country. He also made The Sporting News Top 100 and the All-Star Sports Top 100 lists. He was chosen Southwest Texas High School offensive player of the year and was selected district and area most valuable player while serving as team captain his senior year. As a senior he passed for 2,601 yards and 18 TDs, while rushing for 400 yards as well. An outstanding all-around prep athlete, Maddox lettered twice in football and three times each in both basketball and baseball. As a senior point guard he averaged 35.8 points, 10.6 rebounds, and 8.0 assists per game, scoring 2,260 career points. In basketball Maddox was first team all-state and all-metro and was named area offensive player of the year as a senior. He was twice all-district and all-area. In baseball, he compiled a record of 7-1 as a pitcher and batted .415 his senior year, twice garnering all-district and all-area honors in that sport as well. Tommy is married (Jennifer), and was a history major at UCLA.

ROBERT EARL (Bob) MEEKS, JR. C/T

6-1, 286, DOB: May 28, 1969

Draft Choice #10

Bob Meeks is a versatile athlete who in 1991 was an honorable mention All-American and all-southeastern Conference first team choice (The Poor Man's Guide to the NFL Draft). Meeks started all year at center and was a key to the Tigers' front wall, earning the award as Auburn's best offensive lineman in 1991 as well as offensive player of the year honors. A team captain last year, Meeks closed out his outstanding career with appearances in the Blue-Gray and Senior Bowl all-star games. In 1990 he started all year at center after having moved into the position from offensive tackle during spring drills. Meeks provided fine pass protection as Auburn averaged 223.8 yards per game in the air. Meeks started the first eight games of the 1989 campaign at left guard, then underwent knee surgery before returning to action for the season finale vs. Alabama. In 1988 he shifted from guard to center prior to spring drills, moved to tackle in fall drills and ultimately served as a backup on both sides of the line. Meeks was redshirted in 1987, performing on the scout team as an offensive guard. A native of Andalusia, Alabama, Meeks lettered four times in football and three times in basketball at Evergreen HS in Evergreen, Ala., where he was the only player in school history to start and letter four years on the gridiron. Bob was an adult education major at Auburn and lists fishing, hunting, shooting, weightlifting, and driving sports cars as his favorite hobbies.

MUHAMMAD RAMADAN OLIVER CB

5-11, 178 DOB: March 12, 1969

Draft Choice #9

Muhammad Oliver is a gifted all-around athlete who excelled in both football and track at Oregon, lettering twice in each sport over the past two years. He was one of only three defenders to start all 11 games for the Ducks in 1991. Oliver was credited with five big plays in Oregon's last four games, including a punt which he blocked and returned 21 yards for a touchdown vs. Arizona State, an interception and blocked punt at Washington, and an interception vs.

Stanford. He added to his heroics against Arizona State with a blocked field goal attempt as well. In 1990 Oliver suffered a knee injury at Washington that forced him out of the last five games. Prior to that injury he had made 18 tackles in six games and had his first college interception against Utah State. He transferred to Oregon from Glendale Community College in Arizona, where he was a second team National Junior College All-American in 1989. A tremendous track athlete as well, Oliver competed for Oregon in the decathlon, the 10-event equivalent to being a two-way performer in football. Oliver finished fourth in the Pac-10 Conference a year ago in the multi-event competition and then captured the same place in the NCAA Championships, scoring 7,709 points each time. His best events are the high jump and hurdles, having won the conference crown in the high jump last spring, clearing the 7-0 mark. Oliver was recruited in junior college originally only for track, but he added 25 pounds to his frame and became a star in football as well. He was a member of the 1988 junior national track squad that competed against several other nations and won the Arizona community college decathlon title in 1989. A native of Brooklyn, New York, Oliver graduated from North HS in Phoenix, Az., where he lettered twice each in football, track, and wrestling. Muhammad was an two-time all-conference choice in football and track. Muhammad has his degree from Oregon in sociology and lists bowling and track and field as his favorite leisure activities.

Auburn

Oregon

FRANK LAWSON ROBINSON CB

5-11, 180 DOB: Jan. 11, 1969

Draft Choice #5

Frank Robinson was an all-Big Sky Conference corner back for two years at Boise State, capping his senior campaign by being named first team All-American (Walter Camp, Associated Press, and Kodak). Robinson was a four-year starter at left cornerback who more than earned his reputation as a big-play performer for the Boise State Broncos, finishing his career with a Big Sky conference career-record 22 pass interceptions and 46 punt returns for 455 yards (a 9.9 average).

In 1991 Robinson earned those All-American honors for a great season in which he tied for the Big Sky lead in pass interceptions with eight, returning those thefts for 101 yards and two touchdowns. His eight interceptions in 11 games was one of the country's leading interception-per-game ratios (.73 percent, exceeded by only five major college players). In addition, he was an exceptional special teams player for the Broncos, returning 19 punts for 189 yards and a 9.95 average last year. Robinson also had a tremendous junior year (1989), earning unanimous all-Big Sky honors after making 38 tackles (29 solo), with six interceptions for 71 yards and seven blocked kicks. His blocked kicks included two extra points (one of which was returned for two points), two punts, and three field goals. His interception return of 51 yards vs. Montana State was the longest of the year in the conference. Robinson was named Boise State's special teams player of the year and most valuable defensive player in 1990, leading the team in passes broken up with 19. He also returned 21 punts for a 9.9-yard average, and twice was named conference defensive player of the week. In addition to his six regular season thefts, Robinson also intercepted three passes in the first round 1990 playoff game against Northern Iowa. In 1989 he was honorable mention all-Big Sky, making 51 tackles (33 solo) three interceptions, and 13 passes broken up. He returned six punts for 58 yards and a 9.7 average. He was a walk-on in 1987. Robinson also walked onto the Bronco basketball team for the 1989-90 season and earned letters his junior and senior years. A native of Newark, New Jersey, Robinson graduated from Novato HS in Novato, California, where he lettered three times in basketball and twice each in football and track. He was a 1986 Bay Area Blue Chip selection who also won academic All-American honors in high school. Frank has his degree in business administration from Boise State and likes to play basketball and Nintendo's "Super-Techmo Bowl" in his spare time.

If Old Club decides not to re-sign such a player, he is a free agent with no first refusal/compensation rights remaining with the Old Club.

Active List

The Active List is the principal status for players participating for a club. It consists of all players under contract, including option, who are eligible for preseason, regular season, and postseason games. In 1992, teams will be permitted to open training camp with no more than 80 players under contract and thereafter must meet a series of mandatory roster reductions prior to the season opener. Teams will be permitted an Active List of 45 players and an Inactive List of two players for each regular season and postseason game during the 1992 season. Provided that a club has only two quarterbacks on its 45-player Active List, a third quarterback from its Inactive List is permitted to dress for the game, but if he participates in the game, the other two quarterbacks are thereafter prohibited from playing. Maximum roster limits and dates for 1992 are:

August 25active list of 60 players
 August 31active list of 47 players
 (including two-player Inactive List)

In addition to the Active List limits described above, there is an overall roster limit of 80 players that is applicable to players on a club's Active, Inactive, or Exempt Lists, and any players on Reserved as Injured, Physically Unable to Perform, Non-Football Illness/Injury and Suspended.

Reserve List

The Reserve List is a status for players who, for reasons of injury, retirement, military service, or other circumstances, are not immediately available for participation with a club. Players on Reserve/Injury are not eligible to practice or return to the Active List until for regular season games have been played. When a player returns to practice, he counts against the Developmental Squad limit of six.

Each club will have five free re-activations for players placed on Reserved/Injured after the final countdown. Players can also be returned to the club's Active List if they clear Procedural Recall waivers. Any player placed on Reserved/Injured prior or concurrent with the final countdown on August 31, may not return to the club nor practice with the team that year. Clubs participating in postseason competition will be granted an additional re-activation for each postseason game, provided they have exhausted all previous activities.

Players in the category of Reserve/Retired, Reserve/ Did Not Report, or Reserve/Veteran Free Agent Asked to Re-Sign may not be reinstated during the period from 30 days before the end of the regular season through the postseason.

Trades

Unrestricted trading between the AFC and NFC is allowed in 1992 through October 13, after which trading of player contracts/rights will end until February 1, 1993.

Waivers

The waiver system is a procedure by which player contracts of NFL rights to players are made available by a club to other clubs in the League. During the procedure the 27 other clubs either file claims to obtain the players or waive the opportunity to do so -- thus the term "waiver." Claiming clubs are assigned players on a priority based on the inverse of won-and-lost standing. The claiming period normally is 10 days during the offseason and 24 hours from early June through December. In some circumstances another 24 hours is added on to allow the original club to rescind its action (known as a recall of a waiver request) and/or claiming the club to do the same (known as withdrawal of a claim). If a player passes through waivers unclaimed and is not recalled by the original club, he becomes a free agent. All waivers from July through December are no recall and no withdrawal. Under the Collective Bargaining Agreement, from the beginning of the waiver system each year on the day after the Pro Bowl through the trading deadline (October 13, 1992), any veteran who has acquired four years of pension credit may, if about to be assigned to another club through the waiver system, reject such assignment and become a free agent.

NFL TERMINOLOGY

The term NFL Rookie is defined as a player who is in his first season of professional football and has not been on the roster of another professional football team for any regular-season or postseason games. A Rookie is designated by an "R" on NFL rosters. Players who have been active in another professional football league or players who have NFL experience, including either pre-season training camp or being on an active roster for fewer than three regular-season or post-season games, are termed NFL First-Year Players. An NFL First-Year Player is designated by a "1" on NFL rosters. Thereafter, a player on an NFL active roster for at least three regular-season or post-season games is credited with an additional year of NFL playing experience.

GAME-BY-REVIEW

DENVER 45, CINCINNATI 14

DENVER, Colo., Sept. 1 - The Denver Broncos recorded their biggest opening day victory ever in a 45-14 pounding of the Bengals. QB John Elway threw for two touchdowns and rushed for two more, while the Broncos' defense picked off three passes and recovered a fumble. The game began with Cincinnati holding onto the ball for only a minute before punting to the Broncos, who drove 70 yards in five plays and scored on a 52-yard pass from Elway to WR Michael Young. The Bengals' next drive ended with a FS Steve Atwater interception, but the Broncos failed to score when K David Treadwell's 30-yard field goal attempt hit the right upright. Cincinnati then traveled 80 yards in six plays and tied the game on a 42-yard flea-flicker pass from QB Boomer Esiason to TE Mike Barber. Denver took the lead on a three-yard run by Elway on the next possession, driving 80 yards in 12 plays and picking up a key first down on a 24-yard pass to Elway from RB Steve Sewell. Denver's next drive moved 80 yards in eight plays and culminated with a one-yard run by RB Greg Lewis. A SS Dennis Smith interception set up the Broncos' final score of the half, a one-yard pass from Elway to TE Reggie Johnson. Cincinnati cut Denver's lead to 28-14 on their first possession of the second half, scoring on a 52-yard pass to WR Tim McGee from Esiason. Treadwell had a field goal blocked at the end of the Broncos next possession and three plays later the Bengals' had a first down on Denver's two. Two straight running plays were stopped for no gain by the Broncos, and on third down LB Karl Mecklenburg sacked Esiason, who fumbled, and DE Warren Powers recovered for Denver. Three plays into Cincinnati's next drive Esiason was intercepted by CB Tyrone Braxton, and he raced 52 yards for a touchdown to put Denver up 35-14. In the fourth quarter, the Broncos scored on a five-yard run by Elway and a 19-yard Treadwell field goal to round out the scoring.

LOS ANGELES RAIDERS 16, DENVER 13

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Sept 8 - The Raiders overcame a 6-3 halftime deficit to beat the Broncos 16-13 before 48,569 in the L.A. Coliseum. Both teams netted five sacks in this defensive struggle, and the Raider defense held Denver to a time of possession of 24:32. The Broncos' third drive of the game, aided by a 37-yard pass from QB John Elway to TE Reggie Johnson, ended in a 27-yard field goal by David Treadwell. Following a 18-yard Raider punt and a penalty that gave the Broncos the ball at the Los Angeles 23, Denver's next possession ended with a 47-yard field goal to give the visiting team a 6-0 lead. The Raiders proceeded to eat almost nine minutes of the clock with a 16-play, 62-yard drive that ended with a Jeff Jaeger field goal. At the beginning of the second half, Los Angeles turned in their second time-consuming drive of the day, marching 90 yards in 12 plays in 9:13 to score on a 16-yard pass from QB Jay Schroeder to WR Willie Gault. The Raiders' first two possessions of the fourth quarter ended in field goals to increase their lead to 16-6. With just 2:48 remaining, the Broncos converted two fourth down plays on Elway passes to Steve Sewell, (32 yards), and Mark Jackson, (34 yards), to reach the Raider three, where Elway threw a TD pass to Sewell with 25 second remaining. The onside kick was ruled out of bounds by contact from the Raiders, who took possession and ran out the clock.

DENVER 16, SEATTLE 10

DENVER, Colo., Sept. 15 - Denver's defense held off a late rally by Seattle to preserve a 16-10 victory. The two teams combined for 15 punts, eight fumbles, and six turnovers in the game, played before 74,152 in Mile High Stadium. The Broncos got the first break of the game when CB Tyrone Braxton forced a John L. Williams fumble and FS Steve Atwater recovered on the Broncos 25. Denver drove to the Seahawk one but had to settle for a 17-yard David Treadwell field goal. After the next five drives ended in punts, Denver took over at the Seattle 39 with 2:09 left in the first half. On first down QB John Elway combined with WR Ricky Nattiel for a 61-yard score, giving the Broncos a 10-0 lead. An interception by SS Dennis Smith on the Seahawks' opening possession of the second half set up another field goal, this one of 25 yards. Denver's lead became 16-0 early in the fourth quarter before Seattle finally got on the board with a 28-yard field goal. After a Denver punt, Seahawk QB Jeff Kemp drove his team 67 yards in four plays to score on a one-yard run by Derrick Fenner. The Broncos could not sustain a drive and Seattle began its last possession with 2:49 left in the game at its own 37. With just over a minute left, the Seahawks reached the Denver 14, but four straight incompletions gave the ball back to the Broncos.

DENVER 27, SAN DIEGO 19

DENVER, Colo., Sept. 22 - Gaston Green rushed for 127 yards and three touchdowns to power the Broncos to a 27-19 victory over San Diego. His game started out on a bad note when he fumbled on Denver's first offensive play. San Diego took over the Bronco 28, but settled for a field goal. QB John Elway led Denver down the field, going 63 yards in 11 plays, including passes of 21, 18, and 16 yards, to tie the game on a 34-yard David Treadwell field goal. The Chargers regained the lead, 6-3, early in the second quarter before an interception by CB Tyrone Braxton set up a Denver drive that ended with Treadwell's second field goal of the day. The Broncos first possession of the second half covered 78 yards in 12 plays and ended with a five-yard scoring run by Green. The Chargers next two drives ended in field goals, and early in the final quarter Denver held a slim 13-12 lead. On a second-and-eight from the Bronco 37, Green took off down the right side of the field and scored on a 63-yard run. Minutes later San Diego's Marion Butts hurdled his way for a 27-yard score, cutting the Denver lead to 20-19. Six plays into the Broncos' ensuing drive Elway hit WR Mark Jackson for a 33-yard gain, and two plays later Green went around left end for 20 yards and a touchdown. For the second straight week the Bronco defense had to hold off a late charge by an opponent, and on second-and-10 from the Denver 28, San Diego QB John Friesz was sacked by DE Kenny Walker and fumbled, and LB Simon Fletcher recovered for Denver.

DENVER 13, MINNESOTA 6

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Sept. 29 - The Broncos ran their record to 4-1 with a 13-6 Sunday night win in the Metrodome. RB Gaston Green rushed for 158 yards and Denver's defense racked up three interceptions and three sacks. The Vikings scored the first points of the game with just over two minutes left in the first quarter on a Fuad Reveiz 49-yard field goal. With just under two minutes left in the half, DB Randy Robbins intercepted a Wade Wilson pass and gave the Broncos the ball on the Minnesota 42. Eight plays later Denver tied the game on David Treadwell's 37-yard field goal. After the Vikings took the lead on a field goal on their first second half possession, the Broncos chewed up 74 yards in 10 plays and scored on a thundering 17-yard run by QB John Elway. One possession later Denver increased its lead to 13-6 on Treadwell's 42-yard field goal. The Broncos were prepared to put the game away when, with seven minutes left, Greg Lewis fumbled on the Denver one and Minnesota recovered. The Vikings ran off 15 plays before an incomplete pass on fourth-and-three at the Bronco 13 ended the scoring threat.

HOUSTON 42, DENVER 14

HOUSTON, Tex., Oct. 6 - The Oilers turned several Bronco miscues into a 28-point second quarter, and closed out with a dominating 42-14 win before 59,145 in the Astrodome. The game started ominously for Denver when after their first three plays failed to net a first down, Mike Horan's punt was blocked by Bo Orlando and Bubba McDowell recovered the ball in the endzone. Early in the second quarter QB John Elway was intercepted by Cris Dishman, who returned the ball to the Denver 1. On first down Allen Pinkett scored up the middle to give the Oilers a 14-0 lead. Three plays into the next Denver possession, Elway was sacked and fumbled, and William Fuller recovered on the Bronco 13. Five plays later Lorenzo White scored from five yards out. Disaster struck again on Denver's third play, when a shovel pass from Elway to RB Steve Sewell resulted in a disputed fumble, that was recovered and returned for a score by Dishman. Houston's next possession ended in a three-yard TD pass from Warren Moon to Haywood Jeffries. Right before the half Denver's David Treadwell had a field goal attempt blocked and the Oilers headed into the dressing room with a 35-0 lead. The Broncos first drive of the second half ended in a punt, but Pat Coleman fumbled on the return and DB Alton Montgomery recovered for Denver on the 50. Elway led the team to a score in 11 plays, throwing a three-yard pass to RB Steve Sewell for a TD. Early in the fourth quarter, Denver made the score 35-14 on a 70-yard TD pass from Elway to WR Ricky Nattiel, but the Broncos could not reach scoring position for the rest of the game. Houston's final possession ended with a 36-yard scoring pass from Warren Moon to Pinkett.

DENVER 19, KANSAS CITY 16

DENVER, Colo., Oct. 19 - The Broncos beat the Chiefs 19-16 in a hard-fought defensive game before 75,866 in Mile High Stadium. Despite just 14 first downs in the game, Denver was buoyed by the passing of QB John Elway, who averaged over 19 yards per completion. The Chiefs scored an apparent TD eight plays into their first possession on a four-yard pass from QB Steve DeBerg to J.J. Birden, but it was ruled by the replay official that DeBerg had been sacked (knee down) by LB Mike Croel. KC then settled for a field goal, but the Broncos tied the score after a 16-play, 58-yard drive that resulted in a 39-yard David Treadwell field goal. Denver's next possession covered 57 yards in nine plays, and the Broncos took the lead on a 30-yard field goal. The Chiefs then ate 7:49 off of the clock, running 17 plays, but had to settle for a field goal, tying the game at 6-6 with just over a minute left in the first half. Elway took Denver from its own 31 to the KC 30 with a 39-yard pass to WR Michael Young, and four plays later, with 17 seconds remaining, Elway hit WR Derek Russell for a 22-yard score. The Chiefs cut Denver's lead to 13-9 early in the fourth on another field goal. Their next possession ended on downs when Christian Okoye fumbled on a fourth-and-inches play and the ball was placed at the spot of the fumble, just shy of the first down marker. Taking over on the KC 38, the Broncos moved into position for Treadwell's third field goal of the day, this one from 25 yards. The Chiefs rallied midway through the fourth quarter and tie the game at 16-16 on a 14-yard run by Harvey Williams. Elway turned in the play of the game on the Broncos next drive, hitting WR Mark Jackson for a 71-yard gain on a third-and-17 play from the Denver 13. The Broncos drove to the 10, but settled for a field goal. The Chiefs final possession ended on downs.

DENVER 9, NEW ENGLAND 6

FOXBORO, Mass., Oct. 27 - The Broncos won a battle of field goals, 9-6 over New England on a torn up field to increase their AFC West leading record to 6-2. Neither team totaled 300 yards of offense, with New England holding a 287 to 243 edge. The Broncos took over eight minutes off the clock on their second possession and scored the first points of the game on a 35-yard David Treadwell field goal. Early in the second quarter the Patriots drove to the Denver three but had to settle for a 20-yard field goal. With under two minutes left in the half, the Broncos mounted a drive that reached the New England one, but they too had to settle for a short field goal, and at halftime Denver led 6-3. Treadwell missed his fourth attempt of the day in the middle of the third quarter, and the Patriots tied the score at 6-6 early in the fourth quarter on a 17-yard Jason Staurovsky field goal. Treadwell nailed a 34-yard field goal just after the two minute warning before the Patriots began a frantic last drive to tie or win the game. On a second-and-one from the Denver 15, QB Hugh Millen scrambled out of the pocket and ran to the six, but time ran out before the Patriots could start another play.

DENVER 20, PITTSBURGH 13

DENVER, Colo., Nov. 3 - The Broncos scored 17 points in the second quarter to overcome a 10-0 deficit and beat the Steelers 20-13. RB Greg Lewis became just the third rookie in Denver history to record a 100-yard rushing day (19-111) in the game that had a 23-degree temperature at kickoff. The Broncos defense netted six sacks, two by LB Simon Fletcher, and CB Tyrone Braxton intercepted a pass. Pittsburgh LB David Little intercepted John Elway's first pass of the day and the Steelers took over at the Bronco 39, eventually settling for a field goal. Following a nine-play, 80-yard drive, Pittsburgh scored on a 23-yard pass from Neil O'Donnell to TE Eric Green on the first play of the second quarter. Lewis capped Denver's next drive with a one-yard score to cut the Steeler lead to 10-7. After stopping Pittsburgh, the Broncos drove 61 yards in seven plays and took the lead on a four-yard run by Elway. With less than a minute left in the first half David Treadwell kicked a 28-yard field goal to give the Broncos a seven point lead. Denver's first drive of the second half covered 69 yards in 11 plays and Treadwell added a field goal of 21 yards to put the Broncos up 20-10. The Steelers took possession later in the quarter after Treadwell missed a 45-yard attempt and drove to the Denver 21, where Gary Anderson nailed a 21-yard field goal. He missed a 24-yard attempt midway through the final quarter, but after the Broncos' next drive failed, Pittsburgh began their final drive from their own nine with 3:19 on the clock. Twelve plays into the possession they had a second-and-one on the Denver nine, but three straight incompletions gave the ball back to the Broncos with 41 seconds remaining.

LOS ANGELES RAIDERS 17, DENVER 16

DENVER, Colo., Nov. 10 - The Raiders blocked David Treadwell's 48-yard field goal attempt on the last play of the game to preserve a 17-16 win over the Broncos. The loss dropped Denver's record to 7-3, into a first place tie with Kansas City. RB Gaston Green gained 103 yards to power a 200-yard rushing effort by the Broncos. Denver scored the first points of the game on a 19-yard field goal midway through the first quarter that came on the heels of a 13-play, 75-yard drive. Los Angeles got the ball back on their own 20 and nine plays later RB Marcus Allen hit TD Andrew Glover with an 11-yard scoring pass. On Denver's following possession a 38-yard pass from QB John Elway to WR Derek Russell helped set up Elway's seven-yard scoring run early in the second quarter. Later in the period the Broncos reached the LA 29 but Elway was intercepted by SS Ronnie Lott. The Raiders regained the lead with just over 11 minutes gone in the third quarter on a 23-yard pass from QB Jay Schroeder to WR Tim Brown. Elway was intercepted on the Broncos' next offensive play, although the defense held and the Raiders punted. Denver got the ball on its own one, and on first down FB Robert Perryman fumbled and LA took possession on the three. Four plays later Jeff Jaeger kicked a 20-yard field goal to put his team up 17-10. Denver's next drive covered 80 yards in 13 plays, gaining 56 yards on the ground, and ended with a 10-yard scoring pass from Elway to WR Vance Johnson. The Raiders' Scott Davis blocked the extra point and LA led 17-16. Next, the Raiders drove to the Denver 19 in 11 plays, but Jaeger's 37-yard attempt with two minutes left in the game was blocked by Karl Mecklenburg. The Broncos took over on their 23 and drove to the LA 30, but Treadwell's attempt with six seconds left was blocked.

DENVER 24, KANSAS CITY 20

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 17 - Denver's defense picked off four passes and Gaston Green rushed for 133 yards and a score in the Broncos' 24-20 victory at Arrowhead Stadium. CB Wymon Henderson intercepted a Steve DeBerg pass on the Chiefs first possession and returned it 53 yards to the KC 23. Seven plays later David Treadwell nailed a 37-yard field goal to give Denver the lead. Early in the second quarter a Bronco drive stalled, but punter Mike Horan was roughed and Denver got the ball back on the 50. Eight plays later Treadwell's 35-yard attempt was deflected. A 63-yard pass from DeBerg to WR Tim Barnett set up the Chiefs' first score, a seven-yard run by RB Christian Okoye. Four plays into the Broncos' next possession, Green ran right and cut back to the left sideline en route to a 60-yard touchdown. Kansas City was able to tie the game with eight seconds left in the half on a 19-yard Nick Lowery field goal. Lowery put the Chiefs up 13-10 with a 27-yard kick on the first possession of the third quarter. After a 16-yard punt return by Vance Johnson midway through the quarter, Denver covered 40 yards in five plays and scored on a 29-yard pass from QB John Elway to WR Mark Jackson. He threw the ball from the vicinity of the KC 29, the line of scrimmage, and instant replay ruled a touchdown based on inconclusive evidence that he had crossed the line. Two plays into Kansas City's next drive, CB Charles Dimry picked off a DeBerg pass and raced untouched 26 yards for a score. Early in the fourth quarter, Horan fumbled a low punt snap and was tackled on the Bronco 48. Behind new QB Mark Vlasic Kansas City took eight plays to score on an eight-yard pass to Barnett. On their final drive, the Chiefs reached the Denver 45, but time ran out to give Denver the win.

SEATTLE 13, DENVER 10

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 24 - Despite a sterling performance by the Denver defense, the Broncos dropped a 13-10 decision to Seattle in the Kingdome. The Seahawks were held to 199 yards of total offense, including just 53 through the air, and averaged just over 15 yards per possession. A fumble on Denver's third play from scrimmage led to a Seattle field goal with less than four minutes gone in the game. The Broncos had a chance to tie the score midway through the second quarter after a short Seattle punt gave Denver the ball on the Seahawk 31. Three plays netted only two yards however, and David Treadwell's 47-yard attempt was wide left. On Seattle's next play, RB Derek Loville scampered for 22 yards and then John L. Williams gained 42 down the right sideline to give Seattle the ball on the Denver seven. Three plays later QB Dave Krieg hit WR Jeff Chadwick for four yards and a score. Denver's next drive ended in an interception, but four plays into the ensuing Seattle possession, the Broncos appeared to have gotten a break. DE Kenny Walker forced a Krieg fumble and CB Tyrone Braxton recovered for Denver. While running with the ball he was hit by G Bryan Millard and fumbled, and Chadwick recovered for the Seahawks on the Denver 28. Four plays later Seattle increased its lead to 13-0 on a 42-yard John Kasay field goal. Three plays into the second half, LB Mike Croel sacked Krieg and forced a fumble, and DE Warren Powers scooped up the ball and ran 22 yards for a score. Denver's next possession stalled at the Seahawk five and the Broncos had to settle for a field goal, making the score 13-10. In the fourth quarter the Broncos could get no closer than the Seattle 33 and the Seahawks held on for the win.

DENVER 20, NEW ENGLAND 3

DENVER, Colo., Dec. 1 - The Broncos built up a 17-0 halftime lead and guaranteed a winning season with a 20-3 victory over New England. Denver's defense was instrumental in the game, holding the Patriots to 50 yards rushing and posting five sacks, while the offense held the ball for 36:15. SS Dennis Smith intercepted two passes and QB John Elway completed 72 percent of his passes for 215 yards and a TD. He set the pace early, throwing passes on seven of Denver's first 10 plays and leading the team down the field to score on a 21-yard toss to WR Vance Johnson. The Pats punted after three plays and the Broncos drove to the New England three, but settled for a 20-yard David Treadwell field goal. At the end of the first quarter Denver held a total yards advantage of 119 to minus seven. Midway through the second quarter the Broncos ended a nine-play, 67-yard drive on a 12-yard scoring run by RB Greg Lewis. New England reached the Denver six on their first possession of the second half and got on the scoreboard on a 23-yard field goal. Treadwell matched that on Denver's next drive and the Broncos led 20-3 at the end of three quarters. In the final period, the Patriots were able to penetrate Denver territory once, but that drive stalled on the 26.

DENVER 17, CLEVELAND 7

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Dec. 8 - The Broncos clinched a playoff berth with a 17-7 victory over Cleveland. Denver's defense turned in a strong performance in limiting the Browns to just nine first downs, 181 total yards, and 80 net yards passing. Cleveland got the first break of the day when Cedric Figaro picked off a John Elway pass on Denver's second possession and returned it to the Bronco 37. Four plays later RB Kevin Mack bulled in from the three to put Cleveland up 7-0. (From that point on however, the Browns would cross midfield only twice.) The Broncos struck back quickly, covering 71 yards in just seven plays to score on a 30-yard pass from Elway to WR Michael Young. Cleveland reached the Denver 35 with 39 seconds left in the first half, but CB Charles Dimry intercepted a Bernie Kosar pass to end the threat. With 2:07 left in the third quarter, the Broncos took possession on their own 46. On third-and-10, Elway was flushed out of the pocket and ran for 11 yards and a first down. Three completions put Denver on the Cleveland 37. Four plays later, from the 17, Elway and Clarence Kay combined for an apparent touchdown, but a penalty nullified the play. Six plays later a six-yard TD pass from Elway to Johnson culminated a 16-play drive that ate 8:13 off the clock and put the Broncos up 14-7. The Browns punted after three plays and Denver got the ball on its own 14. On second down, from the 17, Elway threw a bomb to RB Steve Sewell, who caught it and ran to the Cleveland 18 for a gain of 60 yards. Four plays later David Treadwell nailed a 37-yard field goal to give the Broncos a 17-7 lead. Cleveland failed to convert a fourth down play on their next drive and Denver was able to run out the clock.

DENVER 24, PHOENIX 19

DENVER, Colo., Dec. 15 - John Elway scored on a four-yard run with 1:46 left in the game to give the Broncos a 24-19 victory over Phoenix. Denver's defense turned in another strong performance, holding the Cardinals to just 73 yards rushing and 231 total yards, while registering five sacks for a third straight week. Following a missed 52-yard field goal that ended Phoenix's first possession, Denver got the ball on its own 35, and on the 14th play of the drive Elway hit TE Shannon Sharpe with a three-yard TD pass to give the Broncos the early 7-0 lead. Midway through the second quarter, Denver drove from the Phoenix 47 to the one, but had to settle for an 18-yard field. The Cardinals were able to get on the scoreboard minutes later on a field goal, and at halftime Denver led 10-3. The Cardinals got another field goal early in the third quarter before Denver drove 80 yards in 10 plays to score on an eight-yard run by RB Steve Sewell. On the sixth play of Phoenix's next possession, WR Ernie Jones took in a Chris Chandler pass, broke two tackles, and rambled 45 yards for a score to cut the Denver lead to 17-13. CB Aeneas Williams picked off an Elway pass at the 50 at the end of the third quarter, and the Cardinals drove to the Denver 12, taking the lead on a 28-yard field goal. The Broncos' final drive started at their own 34 with 3:53 left. On first down Elway hit Sharpe for 22 yards, and then he connected with WR Vance Johnson for the same distance. Next, Sewell ran off right tackle for a 19-yard gain to the Phoenix 8. Three plays later, Elway took off around right end for the go-ahead score. The Cardinals' last chance drive reached the Bronco 27, but Chandler was sacked by DE Kenny Walker on the last play of the game.

DENVER 17, SAN DIEGO 14

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Dec. 22 - The Broncos closed out the 1991 season with a 12-4 record after beating the Chargers 17-14 in Jack Murphy Stadium. Denver's defense held San Diego to just 13 first downs and 221 yards of offense, while picking off three passes. With just over eight minutes left in the first quarter, Denver punted for the third time in the game, but returner Kittrick Taylor fumbled and Randy Robbins recovered for Denver on the San Diego 43. The Broncos drove to the 25 and David Treadwell kicked a 42-yard field goal to give Denver the early lead. Early in the second quarter San Diego QB John Friesz was intercepted by FS Steve Atwater, who returned the ball 49 yards to the Charger 26. Six plays later RB Steve Sewell scored on a two-yard run to put Denver up 10-0. The Chargers began their final drive of the half with 4:11 on the clock, and immediately recorded their first first down of the game, on a Denver penalty. From their own 27, San Diego took 11 plays to score on a one-yard pass from Friesz to RB Craig McEwen with 47 seconds left in the half. Late in the third quarter the Broncos began a drive that would cover 76 yards in 10 plays and end with a two-yard scoring run by RB Greg Lewis, putting Denver up 17-7. San Diego came right back, driving 62 yards in nine plays to score on a Rob Bernstine run of one yard with 10:15 left to play. The Broncos' defense rose up and in the Chargers' three remaining drives, San Diego was forced to punt once, had a pass intercepted by CB Charles Dimry, and another by CB Lelo Lang to end the game.

PLAYOFF HISTORY

BUFFALO 10, DENVER 7 1991 AFC CHAMPIONSHIP GAME

ORCHARD PARK, N.Y., Jan 12 — The Broncos were denied their fifth AFC Championship, losing 10-7 to the Bills before 80,272 in Rich Stadium. Denver's defense shut down the high-powered Buffalo offense, limiting it to just 213 total yards and only 12 first downs, but the Bronco offense failed to capitalize on several first-half opportunities. Buffalo punted after its first two drives netted minus two yards. On the second play of the Bills' third possession, NT Greg Kragen deflected a pass at the line and turned and dove for the ball, making an interception on the Buffalo 29. After three plays gave Denver a third-and-11 on the 30, David Treadwell's 47-yard field goal attempt sailed wide right. The defense rose up again to thwart the Bills and the Broncos began their next drive on their own 24. Fifteen plays into the drive, on fourth-and-19 from the Buffalo 24, Treadwell attempted a 42-yard field goal but the ball hit the right upright. Once again the Bills punted after failing to get a first down, and a 10-yard punt return by Vance Johnson set Denver up on the 50. On first down, QB John Elway threw a middle screen to RB Steve Sewell, who gained 26 yards to the Buffalo 24. The Broncos could move no closer than the 20, and David Treadwell's 37-yard attempt hit the right upright, ending the last scoring threat of the first half. Through the first two quarters Denver outgained the Bills 123 yards to 58, had nine first downs to Buffalo's three, and had a time of possession of 20:19, but at halftime the score stood at 0-0. The Bills' second drive of the third quarter began at their 20 and 11 plays later they faced a third-and-seven on Denver's 26. Kelly attempted to hit WR James Lofton but CB Tyrone Braxton intercepted the ball and returned to the Denver 19. On second-and-ten Elway attempted another middle screen to Sewell, but LB Carlton Bailey picked off the pass and ran 11 yards for a touchdown. The Bronco's first possession of the fourth quarter began with Gary Kubiak at quarterback, replacing Elway, who left the game with an injured thigh muscle. Kubiak drove Denver from its 21 to the Buffalo 23, but the Broncos failed to convert a fourth down attempt. The Bills then drove 50 yards in nine plays to score on a 44-yard field goal by Scott Norwood. Now down 10-0, Kubiak engineered a frantic drive in which Denver covered 85 yards in eight plays, and Kubiak scored a three-yard quarterback draw to pull Denver within three points. The ensuing onside kick was recovered by the Broncos' Steve Atwater, and Denver began its last chance drive on its 49 with 1:43 left on the clock and two time-outs. On first down, Kubiak hit Sewell for seven yards, but CB Kirby Jackson stripped the ball away and he recovered on the Buffalo 44. The Bronco defense forced the Bills to punt, but Denver could only reach the 50 as time ran out. Kubiak, playing his final game as a pro, outgained both Elway and Kelly, completing 11 of 12 passes for 136 yards.

DENVER 26, HOUSTON 24 1991 AFC DIVISIONAL PLAYOFF GAME

DENVER, Colo., Jan. 4 — The Denver Broncos advanced to their fourth AFC Championship Game in six years after defeating Houston 26-24 before 75,301 in Mile High Stadium. David Treadwell's 28-yard field goal with 20 seconds remaining capped a 12-play, 78-yard drive in which the Broncos converted two fourth down plays. On the first play of the game, QB Warren Moon connected with WR Haywood Jeffries for a 49-yard gain, giving the Oilers a first down on the Denver 21. Two plays later Moon hit Jeffries for 15 yards and a score, giving Houston a 7-0 lead with only 1:46 gone in the game. After a Denver punt, Moon again drove his team down the field and threw his second TD pass, this one for nine yards to WR Drew Hill. The Broncos started their next possession on their 35 and covered 65 yards in eight plays to score on a 10-yard pass from QB John Elway to WR Vance Johnson, but a fumbled snap on the conversion attempt left the score 14-6. On the sixth play of the ensuing Oilers' drive, Moon was intercepted by FS Steve Atwater, but a roughing the passer call nullified the effort. Three plays later Houston scored on a six-yard pass from Moon to WR Curtis Duncan. The next Oilers' possession ended when Atwater intercepted a pass and gave Denver the ball on its own 12 with 6:03 left in the game. In a drive that saw Elway complete all six passes for 64 yards, and Steve Sewell complete one to Johnson for 10, the Broncos covered 88 yards in 12 plays to score on a one-yard run by RB Greg Lewis, cutting the Houston lead to 21-13. Denver reached the Houston 30 on its first possession of the second half, but Elway was intercepted by CB Richard Johnson and the Oilers took over on their 33. That led to a 33-yard field goal attempt by Al Del Greco, but the ball sailed wide right. The Broncos then drove from their 20 to Houston's 31 and David Treadwell nailed a 49-yard field goal, the longest in Denver postseason history. Now up by only five at 21-16, the Oilers reached the Broncos' seven on their next drive, but had to settle for a 25-yard field goal. Denver started on its 20 and nine plays later faced a fourth-and-four from the Houston 41. Elway threw a short pass to WR Michael Young, who broke two tackles and was finally brought down on Houston's 15, a gain of 26 yards. Three plays later Lewis bowled over from one for his second TD of the day, making the score 24-23 in favor of Houston. The Oilers' next drive stalled and Greg Montgomery punted to the Denver two. With 2:07 and no time outs remaining, Elway hit Young for a 22-yard gain on first down, but three plays later the Broncos had a fourth-and-six on the 28. Elway dropped back, then scrambled left upfield and ran out of bounds a yard past the first down marker. Three straight incompletions again left Denver with a do-or-die fourth down situation. Elway again dropped back and scrambled left, but as he headed upfield he tossed a pass to Johnson, who ran to the Houston 21 for a 44-yard gain. RB Steve Sewell ran for 10 yards on first down, and two plays later Treadwell came on for the winning kick.

SAN FRANCISCO 55, DENVER 10 SUPER BOWL XXIV

NEW ORLEANS, LA., Jan. 28 — The San Francisco Forty-Niners captured their fourth World Championship with a 55-10 victory over Denver in Super Bowl XXIV, played in the New Orleans Superdome. San Francisco QB Joe Montana completed 22 of 29 passes for 297 yards and five touchdowns, three to WR Jerry Rice. The Forty-Niners scored two touchdowns in every quarter and outgained the Broncos 461 yards to 167. After stopping Denver on the game's initial possession, San Francisco drove 66 yards in 10 plays, scoring on a 20-yard pass from Montana to Rice. The Broncos next possession covered 49 yards in 10 plays and resulted in a 42-yard field goal by David Treadwell. After limiting the Niners to four yards on their next drive, Denver took possession on its own 49, but on first down RB Bobby Humphrey fumbled and DE Kevin Fagan recovered for San Francisco on the Niners' 46. That turnover led to a seven-yard TD pass from Montana to TE Brent Jones, and after a failed extra point attempt, San Francisco led 13-3 with three seconds left in the first quarter. The Broncos failed to cross mid-field in the second period while the Niners scored on a one-yard run by RB Tom Rathman and a 38-yard pass from Montana to Rice. San Francisco was unable to move the ball to the initial drive of the second half, but Elway was intercepted on the first play of Denver's next drive and the Niners took possession on the Broncos' 28. On first down Montana threw a TD pass to Rice to put his team up 34-3. The next Denver drive also ended with an interception, leading to a 35-yard scoring pass from Montana to WR John Taylor. The Broncos, spurred by a 34-yard run by Humphrey, moved 61 yards in five plays and a penalty to score on a three-yard run by Elway. San Francisco roared back with an 11-play, 75-yard drive that ended with a three-yard TD run by Rathman. Following another Bronco fumble, RB Roger Craig plowed one-yard into the endzone to round out the scoring.

DENVER 37, CLEVELAND 21 AFC CHAMPIONSHIP GAME

DENVER, COLO., Jan. 14 — The Denver Broncos won their third American Football Conference Championship in four years with a dynamic 37-21 victory over Cleveland before 76,005 fans in Mile High Stadium. Broncos QB John Elway threw for 385 yards and three TDs, RB Sammy Winder tied a Denver postseason record with two touchdowns, and SS Dennis Smith nabbed two of the Broncos' three interceptions. Denver had 497 yards of total offense to the Browns' 256 and had a time of possession of 36:53. The Broncos took the opening kickoff and drove to the Cleveland one, but on third down, Elway's pitch to RB Bobby Humphrey was fumbled and the Browns' Andrew Stewart recovered on the eight. With five minutes left in the first quarter, Smith picked off a Bernie Kosar pass and returned it to the Cleveland 32. Denver moved to the Cleveland 12 but had to settle for a 29-yard field goal by David Treadwell. Neither team mounted scoring drives until the Broncos took possession on their own 18 with 6:54 left in the half. On first down Elway hit WR Mark Jackson for 12 yards, and three plays later he connected with WR Michael Young for a 70-yard touchdown play. The Browns took the opening kickoff to the second half and drove 70 yards in six plays, scoring on a 27-yard pass from Kosar to Brian Brennan. Denver roared right back on its next possession, going 80 yards in six plays and scoring on a five-yard pass from Elway to TE Orson Mobley. The key play on that drive was a 53-yard pass from Elway to Young. Cleveland was unable to move the ball and punted back to Denver. The Broncos moved from their own 40, and buoyed by a 25-yard run by Elway, covered 60 yards in six plays and scored a seven-yard run by Winder, making the score 24-7. The Browns needed just six plays to go 72 yards and score on a 10-yard Kosar-to-Brennan pass, and two plays into Denver's next drive, Cleveland's Felix Wright recovered a Denver fumble and returned it to the Bronco one. One second down Tim Manoa barreled over from the two, cutting Denver's lead to 24-21 with one second left in the third quarter. The Broncos shut out the Browns in the final quarter while posting 13 points. Their initial drive of the quarter covered 80 yards in six plays and ended with a 39-yard touchdown pass from Elway to Winder. Denver's Kip Corrington intercepted Kosar to set the Broncos up on the Cleveland 39. Denver got as far as the Browns' 17 but had to settle for a 34-yard Treadwell field goal. Smith grabbed his second interception to end the Browns' next drive, leading to a 31-yard field goal.

DENVER 24, PITTSBURGH 23 AFC DIVISIONAL PLAYOFF GAME

DENVER, COLO., Jan. 7 — The Denver Broncos advanced to their third AFC Championship Game in four years with a come-from-behind 24-23 victory over the Steelers before 75,868 in Mile High Stadium. Although Pittsburgh held the upper hand in total yards, 404 to 364, and time of possession, 34:14 to 25:46, Denver was able to mount a late fourth quarter drive and score the winning touchdown with just 2:27 remaining. The Steelers took the opening kickoff and drove 65 yards in 13 plays, scoring on a 32-yard Gary Anderson field goal. Late in the opening quarter Pittsburgh took possession at its own seven-yard line, but on first down RB Merrill Hoge ran for 45 yards to the Bronco 48. Quarterback Bubby Brister connected with RB Tim Worley for a 33-yard gain on the next play, and three plays later Hoge scored on a seven-yard run to put Pittsburgh up 10-0. The Broncos took their first possession of the second quarter and drove 75 yards in 12 plays to score on a one-yard plunge by RB Mel Bratton on third-and-goal. The Steelers roared back, traveling 77 yards in 12 plays to score on a nine-yard pass from Bristler to WR Louis Lipps. The Broncos got the ball back on their own 33 with 20 seconds left in the half. On first down, QB John Elway and WR Mark Jackson combined for 26 yards, and then Elway fired a 15-yard pass to WR Ricky Nattiel, giving Denver the ball on the Pittsburgh 26 with two seconds left. David Treadwell kicked a 43-yard field, making the score 17-10 in favor of Pittsburgh at halftime. Early in the third quarter, Denver NT Greg Kragen forced a Tim Worley fumble, and CB Tyrone Braxton recovered for the Broncos on the Steeler 37. On first down Elway hit WR Vance Johnson for a touchdown, tying the score at 17 apiece. Pittsburgh's next two possessions ended in Anderson field goals and the Steelers held a 23-17 lead in the early stages of the fourth quarter. After an exchange of punts the Broncos took possession on their own 29 with 7:06 left in the game. After a first down penalty, making it first-and-19 from the 20, Elway hit Jackson for 18 yards. On the next play, Elway handed off the RB Bobby Humphrey, who pitched the ball back to Elway, and he threw a 36-yard strike to Johnson, giving Denver a first down on the Steeler 26. Humphrey ran on the next four plays, gaining 24 yards and taking the ball to the two. On third-and-goal from the one, Bratton scored again and Treadwell's extra point gave Denver its first lead of the game with 2:27 left. Pittsburgh got the ball on its own 20, but on third down Brister's signals were drowned out by the crowd and he mishandled the snap. Randy Robbins recovered for Denver on the Pittsburgh 18 and the Broncos were able to run out the clock to preserve the victory.

WASHINGTON 42, DENVER 10 SUPER BOWL XXII

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Jan. 31 — The Washington Redskins scored 35 points in the second quarter to power their 42-10 victory over the Broncos in Super Bowl XXII, played at San Diego Jack Murphy Stadium. Super Bowl MVP Doug Williams of Washington completed 18 of 29 passes for 340 yards and four TDs, while rusher Timmy Smith gained 204 yards on 22 carries, scoring twice, and wide receiver Ricky Sanders caught nine passes for 193 yards and two touchdowns. Overall, The Redskins gained 602 yards of total offense to Denver's 327. The Broncos took the early lead on their first play from scrimmage, a 56-yard bomb from John Elway to Ricky Nattiel, coming with just 1:57 gone in the game. Denver's next possession stalled at the Redskins' seven-yard line, as Rich Karlis put the Broncos up 10-0 with a 24-yard field goal. In the second quarter, however, Denver's dreams of a World Championship were blown apart by Redskins. On Washington's first play of the quarter, Williams and Sanders combined for an 80-yard TD to bring the score to 10-7. The Redskins took the lead for good on the fifth play of their next possession when Williams hit Gary Clark for 27 yards and a score. Denver got as far as the Washington 26 on its next drive, but Karlis' 43-yards field goal attempt sailed wide left. Two plays later Timmy Smith scored on a 58-yard run to increase the Washington lead to 21-10. The Redskins' next possession ended with a 50-yard Williams-to-Sanders TD pass, and minutes later, Williams and Clint Didier combined for a seven-yard TD pass to give Washington a 35-10 lead at halftime. The Broncos could move only as far as the Redskins' 48-yard line in the second half, while Washington closed out the scoring late in the game, on a four-yard run by Smith.

DENVER 38, CLEVELAND 33 AFC CHAMPIONSHIP GAME

DENVER, CO., Jan. 17 — Denver's Jeremiah Castille recovered a Cleveland fumble on the Denver three-yard line with just over a minute left in the game, halting a desperate drive by the Browns and preserving a victory for Denver. With the win, Denver became the first AFC Champion since the Pittsburgh Steelers in 1978-79 to win the conference in consecutive seasons. The Broncos were presented with the first scoring opportunity of the game when Freddie Gilbert caught a deflected Bernie Kosar pass on the contest's third play. Denver took four plays to go 18 yards, scoring on an eight-yard pass from John Elway to Ricky Nattiel. The Browns next drive reached the Bronco 45 before Kevin Mack fumbled, and it was recovered by Steve Wilson on the Denver 40. Two plays later Gene Lang took off on a 42-yard run, the longest in postseason history for Denver, taking the ball to the Cleveland 11. Six plays later, faced with a third-and-goal from the three, Elway's pass into the endzone fell incomplete, but Cleveland was penalized for holding, giving the Boncos new life at the Browns' one. Steve Sewell scored on first down, to give Denver a 14-0 lead with 11 minutes gone in the first quarter. The Browns took 13 plays to move 64 yards for their first points of the game, scoring on a 24-yard Matt Bahr field goal. On the sixth play of the following Bronco drive, Elway scrambled for seven yards to the Denver 46, and a Cleveland penalty put the Boncos at the Cleveland 39. Four plays later Elway hit Ricky Nattiel for 21 yards, down to the Cleveland one, and Gene Lang carried it into the endzone to up Denver's lead to 21-3. Both teams missed field goals in the latter part of the first half, and the Broncos took their 18-point lead into the dressing room at halftime. After Elway was intercepted by Felix Wright four plays into the second half, Cleveland needed just three plays to go 35 yards and score on an 18-yard pass from Bernie Kosar to Reggie Langhorne. The Broncos answered that four plays into their next drive, when on a third-and-10 from the Denver 20, Elway scrambled right and threw a pass to Mark Jackson, who was standing at the Bronco 25. Jackson evaded two tackles and sprinted for a touchdown to complete an 80-yard scoring play and give the Broncos a 28-10 lead. Kosar and the Browns roared right back, moving 80 yards in five plays to score on a 32-yard Kosar-to-Earrest Byner pass. After a Bronco punt, Cleveland engineered another scoring drive, going 42 yards in four plays and scoring on a four-yard run by Byner to narrow the Bronco lead to 28-24. Just before the end of the third period, Rich Karlis capped off a Denver possession with a 38-yard field goal. The Browns, however, moved 86 yards in nine plays to tie the score at 31-31 on a four-yard pass from Kosar to Webster Slaughter. After an exchange of punts, Denver began a drive at their own 25 with 5:14 left in the game. On first down, Elway threw a 26-yard pass to Nattiel, and three plays later, duplicated the play to take the ball to the Cleveland 20. On the next play Elway passed to Sammy Winder, who caught it at the 23 and rambled the rest of the way into the endzone to put the Broncos up 38-31 with just over four minutes left. Kosar and the Browns rallied back and got to the Denver eight-yard line with 1:12 remaining, when Byner ran to the three, but had the ball stripped by Castille, who recovered for the Broncos. Denver was forced into a fourth down situation with 13 seconds left, and punter Mike Horan carried the ball out of the back of the endzone for a safety, making the score 38-33 in Denver's favor. After the ensuing free kick, Cleveland attempted one pass before time ran out.

DENVER 34, HOUSTON 10 1987 AFC DIVISIONAL PLAYOFF GAME

DENVER, CO., Jan. 10 — The Broncos advanced to the AFC Championship game after beating the Oilers 34-10, the largest margin of victory ever for the Broncos in postseason play. The Broncos were led on defense by Mark Haynes and Karl Mecklenburg, who both picked up key interceptions, and on offense by quarterback John Elway (14 of 25, 259 yards, two TDs) and receivers Vance Johnson (four catches for 105 yards) and Clarence Kay (three catches for 57 yards and two TDs). Punter Mike Horan put the Oilers in a hole after the Broncos' first drive stalled, sending a punt to the Houston five-yard line, where two plays later, a lateral pass from Warren Moon to Mike Rozier was fumbled, and Steve Wilson recovered for Denver on the one. Gene Lang scored two plays later to give the Broncos an early 7-0 lead. Houston's next drive reached the Bronco 20-yard line before Mecklenburg intercepted a pass and returned it to the Denver 28. Elway hit Kay for 29 yards on the next play to move into Houston territory, and five plays later the same connection was made for a 27-yard touchdown pass, giving the Broncos a 14-0 lead. Both teams added field goals on their first drive of the second quarter to make the score 17-3 in Denver's favor. On the fourth Denver play after Houston's field goal, Elway threw a 55-yard bomb to Johnson to move the ball to the Oiler 11. Five plays later Elway hit Kay, again for a touchdown on a one-yard pass to up the lead to 24-3 with less than two minutes left in the half. Denver's first possession of the second half resulted in a Rich Karlis field goal. Houston then took 10 plays to reach the Denver seven, but Mark Haynes picked off a Moon pass in the end zone and returned it 57 yards, a Bronco playoff record. Houston's next drive reached the Bronco 11 but a pass on fourth down fell incomplete. The Oilers got the ball back three plays later when Patrick Allen intercepted an Elway pass, and that led to a 19-yard TD pass from Moon to Ernest Givins, cutting Denver's lead to 27-10. The Broncos' Kevin Clark recovered the onside kick that followed, and Denver moved 52 yards in seven plays to score the final points of the game on a three-yard run by Elway.

NEW YORK GIANTS 39, DENVER 20 SUPER BOWL XXI

PASADENA, CA., Jan. 25 — The New York Giants broke open a close game with 24 unanswered points to open the second half, capturing a 39-20 win over the Broncos in Super Bowl XXI. The game, played before a crowd of 101,063 in Pasadena's Rose Bowl, featured outstanding performances by the two quarterbacks, Super Bowl MVP Phil Simms of New York (22 of 25, 268 yards, 3 TDs) and Denver's John Elway (22 of 37, 304 yards, 1 TD). The Broncos won the toss and opened their first drive on the Denver 24, taking eight plays to reach the Giants 31-yard-line. Rich Karlis scored the first points of the game with a 48-yard field goal, tying the Super Bowl record. New York roared right back with a nine-play, 78-yard scoring drive that culminated with a six-yard touchdown pass from Simms to tight end Mark Bavaro. On the possession, Simms was six-for-six for 69 yards, and running back Joe Morris gained 19 yards on just three carries. With five-and-a-half minutes remaining in the first quarter, the Broncos took possession on their own 42 after a 28-yard kickoff return by Ken Bell. Elway completed passes on the first three plays of the drive as Denver reached the New York 33. Two Giant penalties left the Broncos with a first-and-10 at the 12, and on third down, Elway called his own number, scoring from four yards out on a quarterback draw to give Denver a 10-7 lead. The Giants next drive stalled and the Broncos got the ball back at the 14-minute mark of the second quarter. On the third play of the drive, on third-and-18, Elway unleashed a 54-yard bomb to Vance Johnson, giving the Broncos a first down on the Giant 28. Seven plays later Denver had a first-and-goal at the New York one, but failed to score in three plays and Karlis was wide right on a 23-yard field goal attempt. Denver's Orange Crush defense stifled the next Giant drive at the New York 47, and after a punt, the Broncos got the ball back on their own 15. Controversy entered the game when, on second-and-twelve, Elway threw an apparent completion for a first down to Clarence Kay. The pass was ruled incomplete, and that decision was upheld after review of the television replay. On the next play, Giant defensive end George Martin sacked Elway in the end zone for a safety to pull New York within a point of Denver at 10-9. The Giant offense was unable to move the ball on its next possession and punted to Denver. Taking the ball at their own 37, Elway quickly hit Steve Watson for 31 yards and Gerald Willhite for 11 more to give the Broncos a first-and-10 at the Giant 21 with 43 seconds left in the half. Denver was able to get to the 16-yard-line, but Karlis was wide right on a 34-yard field goal attempt with 13 seconds left in the half. New York shot out of the starting blocks in the second half and never looked back, scoring on all three third quarter drives and outgaining Denver in the period 163 yards to two. With the score at 26-10, the Giants mounted a scoring drive on their first possession of the fourth quarter, and they went up 33-10 after Phil McConkey caught a deflected pass in the end zone, Simms's third TD strike of the day. Denver got the ball back at its own 16 and Elway moved the squad to the New York 10, as Karlis kicked a 27-yard field goal to make the score 33-13. The Giants took only five plays to move 48 yards for their next TD, a two-yard run by Otis Anderson which made the score 39-13. Elway took Denver down the field again and hit Vance Johnson with a 47-yard TD pass for the game's final points.

DENVER 23, CLEVELAND 20 OT AFC CHAMPIONSHIP

CLEVELAND, OH, Jan. 11 — Rich Karlis kicked a 33-yard field goal 5:48 into overtime to give the Broncos a 23-20 victory over the Browns. The game was played before a crowd of 79,915 people, who braved a wind chill of five degrees. Cleveland scored first, on the heels of a 14-play, 86-yard drive. Bernie Kosar threw a six-yard TD pass to Herman Fontenot with 5:19 left in the first quarter to put the Browns up 7-0. The next Cleveland drive ended when Ricky Hunley intercepted a Kosar pass, and he returned 14 yards to the Browns' 36. Although the Broncos' ensuing drive stalled, Kosar threw another interception, this one to Jim Ryan, and he returned the ball 26 yards to the Cleveland nine. Four plays later Karlis nailed a 19-yard field goal to make the score 7-3. Denver got another break on Cleveland's next play when Kevin Mack fumbled and Ken Woodard recovered the ball on the Browns' 37. On first down John Elway rambled 34 yards, and two more rushes got Denver to the one-yard line. On fourth-and-goal Gerald Willhite plunged into the end zone to give the Broncos a 10-7 lead. Cleveland kicker Mark Moseley tied the score at 10 apiece with a 29-yard field goal with 20 seconds left in the first half. Both teams saw their first two possessions of the second half end in punts before Denver engineered the first scoring drive of the second half. Elway drove the Broncos 61 yards in 11 plays, and Karlis put Denver up 13-10 with a 26-yard field goal 12 minutes into the third quarter. The Browns wasted no time mounting a scoring march of their own. Mack rushed for 34 yards in a 10-play, 76-yard drive that culminated with a 24-yard Moseley field goal, knotting the score at 13-13. The Broncos next two possessions ended in punts, and when Cleveland got the ball on its own 48 with 6:40 left in the fourth quarter, the Browns struck quickly. On third-and-six from Denver's 48 yard line, Kosar threw a TD pass to Brian Brennan to give the Browns a 20-13 lead with 5:43 left in regulation. The ensuing kickoff rolled to the Denver two-yard line where Gene Lang fell on it. Pro Bowl-bound Elway then engineered the longest and most important drive of his four-year career. On the fifth play of the drive (on second-and-seven from the Broncos' 15), Elway rushed for 11 yards and a first down. He hit Steve Sewell for a 22-yard gain on the next play, and followed that with a 12-yard strike to Steve Watson to give Denver a first down on the Cleveland 40. After an incompleteness and an eight-yard sack, Elway threw a 20-yard pass to Mike Jackson, moving the team to the Cleveland 28. Another incompleteness was followed by a 14-yard, Elway-to-Sewell pass, giving the Broncos a first down on the Brown's 14 with 57 seconds left. Elway's next pass was incomplete, and on second down he ran nine yards to the Cleveland five-yard line. On the next play, he hit Jackson for a TD, and Karlis's extra point tied the score at 20 with 39 seconds left in regulation. Cleveland was unable to move the ball as time ran out in the fourth quarter. The Browns won the overtime coin toss and elected to receive. Three plays into the drive, (on third-and-two from the Cleveland 38), the Orange Crush rose up to snuff Herman Fontenot for no gain. Cleveland punted and Willhite returned it to the Bronco 25, where the Denver juggernaut revved it up again. On second-and-five, Elway hit Orson Mobley for a 22-yard gain, and three plays later Elway threw a 28-yard pass to Watson. With a first down on Cleveland's 22-yard line, the Broncos rushed three times to get to the 15, and on fourth down, Karlis hit the 33-yard game winner. Elway accounted for 300 total yards in the game, rushing for 56 and completing 22 of 38 passes for 244 yards. The Broncos kept alive a 1986 record of 13-0 when they scored 20 or more points. Denver also notched its 11th win on natural turf, losing only to San Diego at home on grass.

DENVER 22, NEW ENGLAND 17 AFC DIVISIONAL PLAYOFF GAME

DENVER, CO., Jan. 4—Rulon Jones sacked Tony Eason in the end zone for a safety with 1:37 left on the clock to put Denver up 22-17 and halt the Patriots' final comeback drive. The playoff victory was the first since Jan. 1, 1978 for the Broncos, when they defeated Oakland for the AFC Championship. The two teams traded punts in the first nine minutes of the game before Denver posed the initial scoring threat. Starting at their own 20, the Broncos took four plays to reach the New England 7, behind John Elway completions of 39 and 21 yards. On second-and-goal from the four, Elway rolled around the left side and was hit just short of the goal line. He was penalized (delay of game) for spiking the ball after the play, and that set Denver back to the six. Two plays later Rich Karlis nailed a 27-yard field goal to give Denver a 3-0 lead. New England mounted a seven-play, 87-yard drive later in the quarter, with Eason hitting Stanley Morgan for a 19-yard TD. The Broncos roared right back with a 13-play, 82-yard drive that was punctuated by a 22-yard TD run by Elway, giving Denver a 10-7 lead midway through the second quarter. The Patriots tied the score on the last play of the half with a 38-yard Tony Franklin field goal. Denver received the kickoff to open the second half and proceeded to chew up over nine minutes off of the clock. The Broncos ran the ball 11 times on the drive, which stalled on the Patriot five.
